

AP News—Courtesy WMAJ

Truman Retains Fair Deal Plans

WASHINGTON—President Truman strongly indicated yesterday that he will keep plugging his "fair deal program" and emphasized that Dean Acheson will remain as secretary of state.

In his first news conference since the elections the President also said he will ask for rent control extension, statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, and for necessary appropriations and taxes.

Further plans, he continued, included the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

Asked by newsmen whether he would run again, President Truman replied that he was not ready to comment on that subject.

On the Korean situation, the President warned, "If the Chinese communists share the desire of the United Nations for peace and security in the Far East, they will not take upon themselves the responsibility for obstructing the objectives of the UN in Korea."

"The United States never at any time entertained any intention to carry hostilities into China," he added.

Air Crash Kills 13
TUCSON—A mid-air collision of two air force planes southwest of Tucson was reported by an Arizona highway patrolman.

The officer, John Morgan, said the collision occurred between a B-29 refueling plane and a B-50 bomber. Morgan said 13 airmen were killed and 10 injured in the accident.

Graduate Chosen Delegate To FWC

William H. Prosser, a 1949 graduate of the College, has been chosen as one of four delegates to represent the Federation of Women's Clubs at the mid-century White House Conference on Children and Youth to be held in Washington, Dec. 3 to 7.

Prosser served with the amphibious engineers during World War II and was wounded in France. Following the war, he enrolled at the Altoona center where he received the faculty award for the student who made the greatest contribution to the college community.

A psychology major, he was president of AIM, a member of All-College cabinet, and Skull and Bones.

Now residing in Altoona, he is active in youth and community affairs.

Dr. Talbot Hamlin To Speak Tonight

Dr. Talbot Hamlin, professor of Architecture at Columbia university, will speak on "Greek Revival Architecture in America" tonight in 121 Sparks at 8 o'clock.

The talk, sponsored by the department of architecture, is open to the public.

Dr. Hamlin, a noted lecturer and historian, is author of the books, "American Spirit in Architecture" and "Architecture Through the Ages." He is a fellow in the American Institute of Architects.

TAKE A BREAK!
Forget The Bluebooks
BARBECUES
and
MILK SHAKES
AT THEIR BEST

WINK'S SKY-VIEW
On Route 322

Economics Head Attends Meeting

Dr. William N. Leonard, head of the Department of Economics at the College, is attending the meetings of the Executive Council of the Federation for Railway Progress at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Dr. Leonard, who is a member of the board of directors of the council, is representing the public at these meetings. Problems concerning new wage demands of the Railway brotherhoods, possible rate increases, and relief for railroads from the excess profits taxes will highlight the subjects to be considered at this meeting.

The Federation for Railway Progress is an organization launched in 1947 by Robert R. Young, president of the Allegheny corp. It was formed through the desire to bring together the investors, employees, suppliers, shippers, and the public to advise management in railroad affairs. The federation is devoted to the objective of improving railroad service within the system of private enterprise.

Dutch Youth Sees American Farms

A Dutch farm boy, Derk Noordhuis, 20, is getting a look at Pennsylvania farms and farm life as the third "grass roots" ambassador from abroad this year. He is a delegate of the International Farm Youth Exchange project whose object is to increase good will through better understanding.

During his stay here which is being arranged by the Agricultural Extension Service, C. P. Lang of the College, and extension agricultural agents, he will observe American farm methods and as a member of his host farm families will learn their language and customs.

On his return home he will tell of his impressions of America. Noordhuis has completed two years of agricultural college work. Prior to coming to Pennsylvania he had been in Kansas.

Lt. Col. Kellogg Wins Aviation Safety Award

Lt. Col. David N. Kellogg, a member of the 1941 flight class under the civilian pilot training program at the College, has been cited for safety in aviation. The air group which Kellogg commands has completed over 30 million miles without a fatality operating from its Mather Field base in California.

For Best Results
Use Collegian Classifieds

Prop And Wing To Get Charter In Air Honorary

The local chapter of Prop and Wing, AFROTC honorary society, will receive membership in the Arnold Air Society, national air honorary, on Nov. 25. A delegation of seven cadets headed by Commander Charles R. Campbell will fly to the Society's first annual conclave at the University of St. Louis to accept the charter and guidon in behalf of the squadron.

The Arnold Air Society, sponsored by the Air Force Association, was recently formed on a national scale from two now defunct organizations, the Billy Mitchell Squadrons and the Society of Arnold Air Cadets.

Independent Prop and Wing squadrons were invited to merge also and the amalgamation will be completed at the conclave.

One Year Old
Prop and Wing was originally organized on Campus one year ago with Joseph H. Bedell as its first commander. The title Harry R. Armstrong Squadron has been tentatively selected as the official designation of the local chapter and has been submitted to the National Society for approval.

Lt. Armstrong, a former Penn State student, was killed on a mission over Germany when he risked his life to save a wounded crewmate, then was unable to bail out himself.

In addition to Campbell, the delegation will include cadets William B. Woodring, vice commander; Jack M. Sharpe, liaison officer; Charles W. Bert, John K. Gingerich, Franklin P. Moritz and Harold T. Waddell.

Collegian Names Five Promotions

Five members of the sophomore editorial board of the Daily Collegian have been promoted to the junior board, Dean Gladfelter, editor, announced yesterday.

They are Florenz Fenton, Jack Garretson-Butt, Leonard Kolasinski, Lee Stern and Robert Vosburg.

January Graduates To Order Caps, Gowns

Seniors graduating in January will sign up for caps and gowns at the Athletic store on the following days: Agriculture, Nov. 27 and 28; Education and Engineering, Nov. 29 and 30; Chemistry and Physics and Mineral Industries, Dec. 1 and 2; Liberal Arts, Home Economics, and Physical Education, Dec. 4 and 5.

The deposit for cap and gown is $5.00. Seniors should know their hat size when ordering. Invitations and announcements at ten cents each may be ordered at Student Union on the same days as above. Students who will graduate in military uniform will not sign up for a cap and gown.

Decorating Forces Office Employees Into Sparks Halls

There's never a dull moment at the Pennsylvania State College, as any struggling office worker in Sparks building will tell you.

For the past week or so offices in the building have been getting a general overhauling, and thus the secretaries have found themselves working in the halls. The History department has been particularly hard hit by this latest novelty.

An all-time high in Penn State humor was attained a couple of weeks ago when it was discovered that two hen houses on Ag hill were being used as classrooms.

Dorm Landscaping Done By Spring

Extensive landscaping now under way in the West dorm area will be completely finished by spring commencement, W. W. Trainer, supervisor of land construction and maintenance, has announced.

Landscaping will be similar to that around Simmons and McElwain dormitories with shrubs and trees in and around the courts.

All evergreens have been planted and the planting of deciduous shrubs around the McKee and dining hall area will begin Monday. The central courts, the unit toward Sparks building, and the lawn on Pollock may be graded in December, depending on the weather, but will not be planted until early spring.

Dorm lounges and rooms are now completely furnished, R. E. Clark, director of housing announced. The dining hall is nearly completed and will open after Christmas vacation.

Act Like Students At Pitt Game, Cabinet Urges

All-College cabinet last night passed a motion requesting all Penn State students to conduct themselves as college students while in Pittsburgh for next weekend's football game. D. A. DeMarino, assistant dean of men, reported that actions of some students in past years had been detrimental to the College.

Cabinet appropriated $300 to the sophomore class dance, and also approved two amendments to the constitution. The amendments were presented by William Zakor, representing the board of publications. These amendments to Article 8, Section 1, substituted name "Inkling" for "Critique," and added the editor of the Penn State Farmer, Forester, and Scientist to the board of publications.

Hort Woods Report

Robert Czapiewski, head of Hort woods committee, reported that forestry professors had begun an intensive study of the woods and would examine each tree. Czapiewski said the professors would allow cabinet to use facts gathered in their study. Cabinet asked the committee to continue working, and to contact the College committee on memorial names before voting for a memorial dedication.

Emerson Jones, All-College secretary-treasurer, submitted a report on Religion-in-Life week and requested the executive committee to name a planning committee, to consist of the student council president of each school, the dean of each school, a student representative and a faculty representative from each school.

WARNER BROTHERS
NITTANY Mon. & Tues.
... Presented by the International Film Club ...

JEAN GIGNO and MARGEL PAGNOL Creators of "HARVEST"
Now give you their greatest production

RAIMU The Mayor in "Carnet de Bal" and star of "Heart of Paris" in

The Baker's Wife (La Femme du Boulanger)

A story of infidelity in terms of economics

NOW!
At Your Warner Theatre

Cathaum
RAY MILLAND
HEDY LAMARR
"COPPER CANYON"

State
GREER GARSON
WALTER PIDGEON
"The MINIVER STORY"

Nittany
JAMES STEWART
JEFF CHANDLER
"The BROKEN ARROW"

STARLITE DRIVE-IN
On Bellefonte Road

Shows 7 and 9 P.M.

FRIDAY
"MRS. MIKE"
DICK POWELL
EVELYN KEYES
also Selected Short Subjects

SATURDAY
"FATHER IS A BACHELOR"
WILLIAM HOLDEN
COLEEN GRAY
—plus—
"PRIDE OF THE WEST" with
HOPALONG CASSIDY

DANCE ...
SING ...
LISTEN ...

to the
EDDY KAYE TRIO
Hammond Organ      Accordion      Guitar

Friday and Saturday Nights
8:30 - 11:30 p.m.

THE VARSITY RESTAURANT
(Formerly Cook's)
230 W. College Ave.