

'Grand Finale' Dance Nov. 25 To Highlight Pitt-State Weekend

The annual "Grand Finale" dance after the Pitt-Penn State football game will be held in the Hotel Schenley main ballroom on Nov. 25, from 8:30 to 12 p.m.

Advance tickets, which may be purchased at Student Union until 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, are priced at $2.25 per couple. Tickets purchased at the door will cost $2.75 per couple.

Clyde Knight and his orchestra will play for the affair, which will be informal.

Robert Davis, All-College president, said that the dance, which has become an annual affair, is sponsored by the University of Pittsburgh, and since the game is usually held at Pitt, cooperation from students here at the College is requested. "Instead of wandering around the streets-looking for your friends," Davis said, "come to the dance. They'll probably be there."

4-H Club Dance

An all-College square dance sponsored by the 4-H club will be held at the UB from 8:30 to 12 p.m. tonight.

Music will be provided by the Allegheny Coon Hunters. Admission is 50 cents per person. Tickets can be procured from 4-H club members or at the door.

J. Paul Strock is president of the club.

Penn State Club Holds 'You Name It' Dance

The "You Name It" dance sponsored by the Penn State club will be held tomorrow night from 9 until 12 o'clock in 405 Old Main.

The dance, which is open to club members and their friends only, will feature record music, refreshments, and blind dates for those who have no dates, Joseph Lipsky, club president, said yesterday.

Engagements

Ross-Ferry

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ferry, Brookville, Pa. announce the engagement of their daughter Jean Elizabeth and Mr. Samuel Howard Ross, son of Mrs. M. Louise Ross, Oxford, Pa. Miss Ferry is a senior in home economics, a member of Philotes and the College Co-op. Mr. Ross was graduated from the College in 1950 in commerce and finance and is now employed by Charles F. Smith and Son, Construction Co., Kennett Square, Pa.

New Cheer For Game

A new cheer, called the Go-yell, will be used at tomorrow's game. The yell is: Go-go-go-go; i-e-a-m; go-go-go-go; i-e-a-m; go-team-go, starting slowly and getting faster as it progresses.

INS Columnist To Speak At Tea

Inez Robb, war correspondent and syndicated columnist, will be guest of honor at a tea sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, on Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Robb, who is now an International News Service columnist, was an accredited correspondent during World War II. She was sent to England, Ireland, Morocco, Algeria, and Tunisia, and will speak to the guests on her experiences.

In addition to Mrs. Robb, Rebecca Gross, editor of the Lock Haven Express will be introduced at the tea. Miss Gross is the only woman member of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers association.

Birth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Keister announced the birth of a son, Walter Diem, on Nov. 1, at Hahnemann hospital, Scranton. They have one daughter, Susan Diem, who is three years old. Mr. Keister, a senior in art education, is living in Pollock Circle. He is now at Williamsport, student teaching. His family is living with Mrs. Keister's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Diem, of 522 Prescott ave., Scranton.

Through the Looking Glass

with George
Ever hear of a De-liar? Sounds like something Professor Snarf would use on a student who lost his calendar and unintentionally went home a week early for vacation.

Sounds Fishy

Actually, it's to hang fish on. And Ethel has them (De-liar; for fish try the (A&P). Handy little pocket scale and fisherman (dad, maybe?) would like for Christmas. Comes in 8 or 28 pound sizes in a neat leather case for $3.75.

Which prompts the question, "What will Ethel carry next?" Thought she was selling men's suits the other day before I discovered Duffy had his dry cleaning delivered to the store. A m a z i n g, tho, how much Christmas shopping you can get done at Ethel's.

For example, would you believe Ethel carries staplers? No, not the ordinary affair—this is unique. A pocket stapler in the form of a pen, and just as good looking. Remove the cap and staple up to 16 sheets of paper. Holds 1,000 staples, yet weighs only 3 oz. Staples anything anywhere on the spot. A natural for business men, salesmen, or teachers and students. $3.00.

Sharp Stuff

And what red blooded man wouldn't drool over a Robeson Shur-edge hunting knife? Guaranteed in writing to hold its razor edge for 3 years without sharpening, or you can stick Robeson with it. Grip is wrapped in elegant two-toned leather. Comes in a handy leather case to wear handily on your belt. Single hunting knife $9.50. Hunting knife and Good bet for kid brother, too.

Or maybe he'd like a Robeson pocket knife. Same written guarantee (a Robeson exclusive by the way).

Robeson also makes carving and steak knives; sold singly or in sets. Here's a company that's sensible enuf to give you your money's worth in the blade instead of trimming the handle and jacking the price. Not that the handles aren't handsome: they're designed simply in beautiful hard wood rubbed to satiny finish. If you've priced carving sets, you'll appreciate the ridiculously low price of $3.50 for a carving knife; $5.75 for knife and fork.

Save Vacation Time

If dad hides in the garage every time mom wants the meat carved, this is sure to bring him out. Prices on Robeson knives are standard, so why not Christmas shop at Ethel's and save your vacation time at home. Me, I'm going to sleep the first three days at home.

We Have No Bananas

Here I was going to tell you about an amazing new cigarette lighter that requires no fuel, no flint, no wick; but print is running out. Don't even have room to mention Ethel's alligator, pigskin, and cordovan belts that are such knockouts a man finds any excuse to take off his coat to hear the compliments.

If you're near Ethel's when it starts to rain, stop in and tell her George sent you in for an umbrella. Yes, she carries these too.
