

Late News Courtesy WMAJ-

Red China Launches Radio Attack On US

WASHINGTON — Red Communist China radio last night launched a radio attack against the United States that was apparently the answer to President Truman's statement that the United States had no intention of crossing China Manchurian borders.

The Red broadcast announced: "There is no misunderstanding. America has lied and smashed her way across the world to Chinese territory and into it, has seized Chinese Formosa and is threatening another neighbor, Vietnam. The Chinese people are not deceived by what they see through this curtain of lies and bellicosity."

Increased Aid Probable

FORMOSA — William C. Foster, Marshall plan chief, told newsmen yesterday that increased American aid for Formosa is very probable. Foster made this statement after talks with Chiang Kai-Shek, he Marshall plan chief did not give details but indicated that the help will include technical experts.

UN Forces Make Gains

TOKYO — A Seventh division regiment broke up a Red trap in the northeast mountains, while the South Koreans made small gains. At Seoul, former Red capital, UN military officials rounded up more than 100 South Koreans suspected of looting, and political aggression. The South Koreans were ordered back into South Korea.

Training Plan Discussed

WASHINGTON — A plan for the training of more than three million men is being discussed in the Pentagon. Eight hundred thousand men would be turned into reserves and the rest would be kept on continued active duty. There would be two million, 400 thousand men under arms.

Economics Dept. To Hold Mixer

A joint student-faculty mixer for the department of economics and commerce is scheduled for Nov. 28, 7 to 8 p.m., in the TUB.

The affair, first function planned by the newly formed economics and commerce activities committee, is designed to help acquaint commerce students with their instructors. All persons affiliated with the department are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

The committee sponsoring the mixer is comprised of representatives from Delta Sigma Pi and Alpha Kappa Psi, men's professional commerce fraternities; Chi Theta, newly organized women's professional commerce fraternity; and the marketing, accounting, and insurance clubs. Dr. W. N. Leonard, head of the department of economics and commerce, and professor R. H. Wherry head the group.

Membership of the committee includes Nancy Anderson, George Avery, Jack Boddington, Mary Conrad, Jerry McCormick, William Molloy, Fred Phillips, and Robert Schraf.

Flashcards Set For Game Today

Flashcards displays will be used for the game with Rutgers today, Rudolph Valentino, head cheerleader, announced. He said that several new designs have been drawn up for the game.

The cards will be operated in the same section of the stands as last week, Valentino said. Women from Cwens, Chimes, and Alpha Lambda Delta, women's honoraries, will help distribute the cards and will act as row captains. They will be assisted by hatmen.

The flashcards were used last week at the West Virginia game for the first time this year. They were displayed for about five minutes during the fourth quarter of the game.

Students To Hold Reading Session

The Speech department will hold its second workshop reading hour of the semester Monday at 8 p.m. in the Home Economics living center.

Three students will deliver readings at the session which will be open to the public. Phyllis Brenckman, a fourth semester arts and letter smajor, will read William Saroyan's "The Man with his Heart in the Highlands," from which the Broadway play "My Heart in the Highlands" was taken.

Gordon Brigham, graduate speech major, will read a review of Maxwell Anderson's "Winter-set." Anne Wahl, a fifth semester arts and letters major, will read James M. Barrie's one-act play "The Twelve-Pound Look."

Edward Lefkowitz, a fifth semester speech major, will chair Monday's meeting.

The programs are under the direction of Harriett D. Nesbitt, assistant professor of speech, and William W. Hamilton, instructor in speech. The committee for Monday's reading are Ada Bertuluzzi, Donald Carlson, Arlene Fox, Regina Friedman, Gene Kolber, and Ruth Johnson.

Team To Compete In Grain Judging

Penn State will be represented in two different intercollegiate grain judging contests within 8 days. Dr. Stephen M. Raleigh, coach, and the team leave today for Kansas City events and will continue to Chicago for the second meet.

On Tuesday the team will vie in intercollegiate competition at the Kansas City National College Grain Judging contests. Then, on Saturday, the same team will compete in the hay and grain judging events at the International Livestock Show at Chicago.

Making the extended trip with the team will be: James Haughwout, Reedsville RD 1; Harold Swartley, Center Square; Carl Campbell, McKeesport; and Robert Heckert, of State College. Competition in the various judging events includes commercial grading, seed judging and crops identification.

Faculty-Trustee Dinner To Hear Dr. Eisenhower

President Milton S. Eisenhower will be the main speaker at the second annual faculty-trustee dinner to be held Friday, Dec. 1, at the Nittany Lion inn.

The dinner is sponsored by the faculty-trustee committee of the American Association of University Professors, and invitations have already been extended to trustees, faculty, and members of the administration. The dinner will offer faculty members the first opportunity to meet informally with the president.

Tickets for the dinner priced at $3, will be on sale with representatives of each school until next Wednesday. After the deadline, unsold tickets will be available for the wives of faculty members.

Representatives handling tickets are Dr. Alfred L. Bortree, Agriculture; Daniel A. DeMarino, administration; Floyd B. Fisher, central extension; Dr. Floyd L. Carnahan and Dr. Henry L. Yeagley, Chemistry and Physics; Dr. Donald G. McGarey, Education; Dr. B. A. Whisler, Engineering; Dr. Mary L. Dodds, Home Economics; David H. McKinley and Ralph H. Wherry, Liberal Arts; Ralph W. McComb, library; Dr. Corliss R. Kinney, Mineral Industries; and Dr. Lloyd M. Jones, Physical Education and Athletics.

3 Profs Honored By Publications

Three professors in the Romance Language department have recently been honored with publication of articles and reports.

Dr. Laurence LeSage, associate professor, was the author of an article on the contemporary French theater appearing in the current issue of the French Legion of Honor.

"Lautremont's Conversion, a Study of the Structure and Meaning of Poesies," was contributed by Dr. Oscar A. Haac, assistant professor, to a recent issue of Modern Language Notes. The article discussed criticism of the French writer Lautremont and investigated motives underlying the writing of his poesies.

Four reports written by Dr. Gerald Moser, assistant professor, were read at the International Colloquium on Luso-Brazilian Studies, a part of the susqui-centennial celebration of the Library of Congress.

McComb Announces Vacation Library Hours

Ralph W. McComb, librarian, has announced that the Fred Lewis Pattee library will observe these hours during the Thanksgiving recess:

Wednesday, Nov. 22, 7:50 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Thursday, closed; Friday and Saturday, Nov. 24 and 25, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, closed.

Yale Prof To Speak In Chapel Tomorrow

Dr. Clarence P. Shedd, professor of Christian Methods at Yale university, a pioneer in religion in higher education, will speak at Chapel services tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in Schwab auditorium. His topic will be "Faith for Revolutionary Times."

The chapel choir, under direction of Mrs. Willa Taylor, and accompanied by George Ceiga at the organ, will present the Haydn anthem, "Hymn of Gratitude."

For almost 30 years Dr. Shedd has trained young theologians to meet the religious needs of American colleges and universities, and has constantly been called upon to help establish religious programs in various institutions of higher learning. He is the author of almost a dozen books and articles.

Dr. Shedd has B.A. and M.A. degrees from Clark university, Worcester, Mass. For 14 years he worked for the Y.M.C.A. of campus organizations throughout Massachusetts and Rhode Island and on the Y.M.C.A. War Work council in New York. He then attended Yale university and while studying for his B.D. degree became assistant and then associate professor of Religion in Higher Education. In 1939 he was named to his present position at Yale.

During the academic year, 1931-32, Dr. Shedd traveled to Geneva, Switzerland, to study the Student Christian Movement in European universities. When he returned, he received his Ph.D. degree. In 1948 he returned to Geneva to gather material for a history of the World's Alliance, Y.M.C.A. In the same year he was elected honorary chairman of the National Association of College and University Chaplains and Directors of Student Religious Activity, which he was instrumental in founding.

In a review of one of Dr. Shedd's most recent books, the theologian Reinhold Niebuhr said Dr. Shedd is "more thoroughly informed on the religious situation in American colleges than any other person."

MI Oil Paintings Observed By 225

Two hundred twenty-five persons attended the reopening of the oil exhibit in the Mineral Industries building last Sunday afternoon. The exhibit had officially closed on Wednesday, Nov. 8, but was reopened by popular request for one day.

Four different collections combined to make up the exhibit. The 120 paintings were valued at $100,000 and represented the work of fifteen different contemporary artists. The painters were commissioned for the assignments and were given complete freedom of interpretation.

The uses of oil from the tropics to the poles is portrayed in the exhibit, which has been on the road since 1947. It is owned by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and appeared on campus through the co-sponsorship of the School of Mineral Industries and the Department of Architecture.

The four collections left here on Tuesday and will next appear at Iowa State college, Texas Technological college, Buffalo art exhibit, and the Neville public museum at Greensburg, Wis.

John Gaus, curator in the MI School, was in general charge of the exhibit. He described the show as a success from the standpoint of attendance and interest shown.

DINNER MUSIC AND DANCING NIGHTLY

Tommy Burke Trio
PIANO, SAX, NOVACHORD,
CLARINET and BASS
Listen to one of the most outstanding blind pianists in the country

The Villa
TYRONE

SENIORS!

in the School of Physical Education

Get Your Pictures Taken NOW

NOVEMBER 18 - 21

for the
1951 LA VIE

at the
Penn State Photo Shop
214 E College Avenue

• • •

THE CLOSING DATE WILL BE FINAL

After Today's Game . . .

AIM-Phi Sigma Sigma SQUARE & ROUND DANCE

TWO BANDS

BENEFIT RHEUMATIC FUND

TONIGHT IN
REC HALL

8 to 12 P.M. Donation 25c