

Booters Crush Maryland, Patrick Plots Against Alma Mater

By BUD FENTON

Displaying a burst of power that netted three goals in three minutes and turned a closely contested game into a complete rout, the Lion soccermen put in their bid for national recognition by swamping the University of Maryland, 5-1.

Captain Harry Little and record-breaking center forward Joe Lane put on a scoring show in their last home appearance, tallying two goals apiece. Ed Smith was credited with the other by outspeeding the Terrapin goalkeeper to a long pass delivered by Clarence "Buzzer" Buss.

Bowl Scout Sees Game

The men of Bill Jeffrey were especially anxious to make a good showing in earning their eighth win in nine games because a member of the selection committee for the Jan. 1 Soccer Bowl game was in the stands. The official, James Walders, veteran referee and soccer expert, appeared to be impressed with the victory of the Penn Staters and said that the Lions played "a very fine game."

The final game of the 1950 season will be played next Saturday in Philadelphia when the Lions meet undefeated Temple university. A victory for the Lions would eliminate the Owls from consideration for a New Year's Day Soccer Bowl game, and improve the chances of the Jeffrey men.

The Nittanians will remain in State College until Friday with daily workouts scheduled. They will arrive in Norristown Friday evening and rest until game time at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Maryland held the eventual winners in check for most of the first quarter with a stiff defense but Little broke through momentarily and directed an 8-yard shot into the nets three minutes before the end of the period.

At 4:25 of the second quarter, the dam broke and Smith, Lane, and Little scored the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th goals within three minutes.

Later in the same period, Jim Hamilton, Maryland wingman, broke into the scoring column by drilling a short shot past Ron Coder for the only Terp counter of the day.

From then on it was State all the way. When the visitors did manage to get an offensive play started, the Lion defenders, led by Jay Simmons, were more than enough to handle the situation. Simmons, a sophomore, seems to have gained a lot of confidence since the early part of the season, and played excellent soccer.

The fifth tally was added by Lane in the early minutes of the fourth quarter after taking a pass from Buss. Reserve linemen were still pounding relentlessly at the Terp goal as the game ended.

Michigan State, newest member of the Western Conference, won the first conference athletic meet in which it participated this fall, defeating Purdue 20-39 in cross-country.

By GEORGE GLAZER
Sunday night, we went out to Frank Patrick's place and spent what was an interesting, enjoyable and educational three hours. Until midnight, we talked with Mr. and Mrs. Patrick, and as we smoked and drank coffee, the story wrote itself.

For three years at Pitt, Frank was an outstanding fullback. He made lots of "all" teams, and finally landed on the Coaches' all-American in 1937. Pittsburgh papers called him one of the greatest fullbacks in the country, and many others agreed.

Plays With Cards
Then he moved over to the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football league, and played quarterback for three years.

Pat spent four years in the Navy and came out a lieutenant. He has two years of coaching under Bernie Bierman at Minnesota under his belt. It came as part of his job with Naval ROTC and the V-12 program.

In 1946 and '47, he was a one-man athletic department at the College of Puget Sound, in Tacoma, Wash. The charming Mrs. Patrick says that he even planted the grass in the stadium, besides running the publicity department and coaching. Nineteen forty-eight was spent as a backfield coach with the Steelers, and his old teammate, Johnny Michelosen. He even bumped into another teammate on the trip around the circuit—Marshall "Biggie" Goldberg, whom Pat calls the best he's ever played with.

Fran Rogel rates the nod as the best Pat ever coached, and Mrs. Patrick grinned in appreciation as Frank told the story of PUNCHY as a baby sitter for five-year-old Frank, Jr.

Pat set all kinds of scoring records at Pitt, and at various stages of his career lead the nation, the East, and the district in scoring.

Rose Bowl Hero
He liked playing in the Rose Bowl in '37 against Washington U. and remembered scoring twice against the Huskies in the 21-0 Panther win.

Football is as much a part of the tastefully-decorated Patrick home as the daily newspaper. They thrive on it. They also like State College. It's a realization of a dream, to settle down as coach and wife in a small college town.

Of course, Pat had to break a tradition to do it. He was the first non-alumnus coach in the history of Penn State when he came here in 1949.

Pat, who is away almost every weekend on scouting trips, has

Ring Coach Looks For Another Draz

Beginning his second year as head boxing coach, Eddie Sulkowski will be looking for new material to replace last year's outstanding heavyweight, Chuck Drazenovich.

Sulkowski will also have to fill similar gaps in the 130 and 175-pound classes. However, a strong contender for the 175-pound division will be Charley Wilson who boxed in the same class on the jayvee team last year. Other veterans who are returning are Johnny Albarano, 135; Frank Gross, 145; Captain Pat Heims 155; and Lou Koszarek, 165.

For the last time this year, the Collegian's four regular swamis will attempt to foresee the outcomes of the top college grid games across the nation.
