

Storm Delays Opening Of 'Time Of Your Life,' New Players' Production

Last week's weather conditions administered another blow to Penn State activities yesterday when Players announced that "Time of Your Life" will begin a five-week run at Centre Stage next Friday night, Dec. 8, instead of tonight.

Director W. H. Walters said that snow and rain storms prevented many members of the cast from returning to State College in time for rehearsals scheduled this week.

Howard Mason, assigned a leading role as "Tom," probably will not appear in the first performances of the play because of a leg injury suffered when he slipped and fell while shoveling snow.

Charles Williams, who played the schoolmaster O'Flingsley in Players' initial Schwab production, "Shadow and Substance," is preparing to take over Mason's role.

John Price, sound crew worker, said it was impossible to get several technical props ordered from New York City because of weather difficulties.

"Time of Your Life," a drama by William Saroyan, employs skits instead of plot emphasis to express its theme.

Others with featured roles are James Beaver as Joe, Charles Schulte as Nick, and Sonya Tilles as Kitty Duval.

Performances will be given next Friday and Saturday nights, Dec. 8 and 9, and will continue for two weekends before Christmas and three after. Tickets, which should be available at the Student Union desk next Monday morning, are 90 cents for Friday night and $1.25 for Saturday.

Editor Announces Froth Promotions

Samuel Vaughan, editor of Froth, has announced these promotions to editorial junior board: Lola Edmunds, Marilyn Levitt and Peter Whelan; editorial sophomore board: Richard Neuweller, Emily Kostas, Joan Hoffman and Rita Kretmar. Photo junior board: Yale Friedline.

Art sophomore board: Laird Kinnaird, Arthur Stevens, Malcolm Dunkel, Jerome Clauser, Theodore Shautawie and James Geffart.

Circulation junior board: Byrne Tetley, Barbara Waska and Marvin R. Berk; circulation sophomore board: Gerald Frank, Nancy Calhoun, Grace Porrello, Lenore Kahanowitz, Nancy Jones and Joan Harvie.

Advertising junior board: Julia Arnold, Richard Evans, Rita Fein and Anita Ranallo; advertising sophomore board: Margaret Riley and Beverly Silverman.

Promotion sophomore board: Marjorie McLaren, Nancy Getz, Margaret Conti, and Eleanor Chanko.

BIG DISCOUNTS RECORDS

45-33 1/3 rpm (microgroove)

Foreign — Domestic
Classicals — Popular

For catalogue and information: Write to:

Morec Mail, Inc.
326 Park Row Bldg.
New York 7, N.Y. Dept. DCP

Name

Address

City Zone State ...

I am interested in:
() 45rpm. () 33 1/3 rpm.

Wash Day Blues Gone Forever

Wash day is something most college students expect to leave behind when they move to the campus of their Alma Mater-to-be.

But the installation of laundries, complete with automatic washers and driers, has made wash day some sort of institution on the campus.

Russel E. Clark, director of housing, estimates that new laundry rooms at the College have saved the students—or their parents, whichever way you prefer it—at least $40,000 annually in postage.

A total of 64 washing machines and driers has been installed in men's and women's dormitories, along with many ironing boards, where the more skilled of the washers may try their luck.

One lad, who undoubtedly was satisfied to lug his bulging laundry case to the Post Office every once-in-a-while, said, "the only thing is, I'll miss the fudge and other little extras that mother always threw into the laundry box."

The machine age apparently brooks no interference.

Women Debaters To Go To Temple

The women's debate team will send a negative and an affirmative team to the Temple Novice debate in Philadelphia tomorrow.

The question, Resolved: "That the non-Communist nations should form a new international organization," will be debated affirmatively by Peggy Crooks and Guyla Woodward. Marjorie Egan and Genevieve Kelly will take the negative side. Lois Pulver is manager.

Dr. Eisenhower Speaks Tonight

President Milton S. Eisenhower will be the principal speaker at the annual faculty-trustee dinner tonight at 5:30 in the Nittany Lion Inn.

Special guest at the dinner will be Dr. Martin D. Whitaker, president of Lehigh University and the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities, the invitations committee announced yesterday.

The dinner is sponsored by the faculty-trustee committee of the American Association of University Professors.

Members of the committee in charge of the dinner are Dr. C. R. Carpenter, invitations, speakers, and guests; A. F. Davis, recording and publication; Dr. R. Adams Dutcher, food and supplies; J. E. Kennedy, entertainment; Dr. Helen R. LeBaron, dinner arrangements; Dr. Thomas S. Oakwood, pre-dinner management; Dr. E. F. Osborn, transportation; L. S. Rhodes, publicity; and Ralph H. Wherry, finance.

Tickets to the dinner were sold out last Friday. Dr. R. Wallace Brewster, chairman of the dinner, said, despite a 40 per cent increase over the number available for the last dinner.

Say "Thank You" with Flowers

A THOUGHTFUL MESSAGE TO YOUR HOSTESS

If you were a weekend guest tell your hostess "thank you" by sending her flowers. It's a thoughtful and very personalized way to tell her how much you enjoyed your visit.

Bill McMullen, Florist
135 S. Allen St. Phone 4994

For a Holiday Evening

Double-Duty Dresses

- For "MIL" Ball Dancing
- For Holiday Dating

Waltz around the dance floor in an enchanting holiday dress . . . at the "Mil" Ball and other Yuletide festivities. There's no better way to heed your Christmas budget when you get DOUBLE-DUTY from one dress. Choose from our exciting new collection.

mary leitzinger
136 E. College Ave.

Engineering Grads Decline In Number

The number of engineering graduates will decrease greatly in the next four years, the department of labor's bureau of statistics predicted recently.

Although a record number of 50,000 students were graduated from engineering schools in 1950, it is estimated that only 17,000 will graduate in 1954. The bureau based its predictions on the assumption that peacetime conditions will continue.

The peacetime draft, which will take present engineers as well as engineering students, and the decreasing number of freshmen engineering students throughout the nation will take the heaviest toll. Statistics show engineering enrollment has been decreasing since 1946.

The bureau pointed out that the predicted 17,000 graduates in 1954 would fall far short of the average number of men needed during a normal peacetime year.

Opportunities in the engineering field will increase steadily for years, the bureau predicted, because of the growth of industry and production.

Section Cards Ready For Home Ec Courses

All students in schools other than Home Economics who wish to schedule any of the following courses may obtain section cards at the main office of Home Economics Tuesday:

Child Development and Family Relations 309 and 403; Clothing and Textiles 101, 102, and 301; Foods and Nutrition 20, 120, and 121; Home Art 215, 240, 317, 337, and 440; and Household Equipment 213.

Six At College On Committees

At a meeting held in Washington, D.C., last week, the Association of Land Grant colleges and universities named six persons affiliated with the College to various committees.

Edward L. Keller, executive assistant in Central extension, was named interim chairman of a new council on general extension.

The Committee of Nine, which deals with nation-wide research programs, elected Dr. Michael A. Farrell, assistant director of the Agricultural Experiment station, to a two-year term on the committee. He was also named secretary of the Northeastern Regional Experiment station committee.

Dr. F. F. Lininger, director of the Agricultural Experiment station, was named to the marketing advisory sub-committee of the Experiment Station committee on Organization and Policy.

Dr. Russell B. Dickerson, vice-dean of the School of Agriculture, was elected secretary to two Resident Instruction committees.

Kenneth L. Holderman, director of engineering extension at the College, was selected for the Extension section committee, and Dr. Grace M. Henderson, dean of the School of Home Economics, was again named chairman of the committee on enrollment statistics for the Resident Instruction section.

CHECKING THE FILES . . .

IN 1940

- Carnegie Library Was Remodeled and Named Carnegie Hall
- The Football Team Lost Only One Game, to Pitt—20 to 7
- And SALLY'S Was in Its Sixth Year of Service to the Students.

And — Today More Than Ever

SALLY'S
SERVES

Give RECORDS FOR Christmas

Baffled by your Christmas gift list? Then come here. We'll solve your gift-giving problems promptly.

Our wide selection of most-wanted recordings insures fast filling of your Christmas list. From Strauss to swing, from Bach to boogie-woogie! Plan on giving records for Christmas. You'll be giving a welcome gift.

Open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

THE MUSIC ROOM
PHONE 2311
703 E BEAVER AVE. STATE COLLEGE