

23 Forfeits Mark Boxing Panthers Favored Over Lions

Intramurals' First Week

By BOB VOSBURG

Intramural boxing went rolling along last night, with nine men chalking up victories, and eight more winning by forfeits. This brought the total of forfeits to 23 in three nights' action.

Dick Chominski, of Theta Kappa Phi, opened the evening's doings by swinging his way to a decision over Carl Corson, of Pi Kappa Phi. It was a 155-pound match, in which Chominski, the taller of the two, overpowered Corson with looping windmill wallops.

In the second fight, a 145-pound battle, Joe Musial, an independent, beat Charles Kochanowski, also fighting independently. Musial held the edge most of the way, and bothered his opponent with sweeping left hooks to the face.

John Haines, of Kappa Delta Rho, in another 155-pound match, survived a bloody nose and two journeys to the canvas to top Bob Pascuzzi, Alpha Phi Delta. It was a wild, free-swinging collision, in which both boys hit the floor. Haines twice and Pascuzzi once.

Dick Zucker, of Phi Sigma Delta, and Bob Jackson, of Phi Gamma Delta, put on the best show of the evening, in their 165-pound clash. Zucker, slugging with both fists, rocked Jackson often with hard blows to the jaw. Jackson, fighting gamely for two rounds, weakened in the final canto, and was content to hang on the rest of the way.

Walt Tegtmeyer, of Sigma Phi, and Walter Schumacher, of Pi Kappa Alpha, met in a 155-pound bout, in which Tegtmeyer copped the verdict. It lacked the luster of the preceding fight, and produced lots of swinging fists, but few direct hits.

The next fight, a 155-pounder, produced a good-looking performer in shifty Lazarus LeMon, of Alpha Phi Alpha, who baffled Tom Anderson, of Phi Gamma Delta. LeMon, a shifty boxer, toyed with his larger opponent, making him miss frequently while putting his own right hook to good use.

State Played In '23 Rose Bowl

Did Penn State ever play in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif.?

Contrary to most students' opinions, the answer is yes. It was back in 1923 on New Year's Day that Coach Hugo Bezdek's red hot squad met Southern California in the Rose Bowl, and went down to defeat, 14-3. That climaxed a thrilling 6-3-1 season in 1922 which saw the Nittany Lion's winning streak halted at 31 consecutive games. After winning the first six in '22 to bring the total to 31, the Lions were beaten by Navy and Pitt, 14-0, Penn, 7-6, and held to a scoreless tie by Syracuse.

In the last bout of the evening, Steve Meisel, of Alpha Epsilon Pi, took a 165-pound decision from Tom Eastland, of Phi Kappa Psi. It was a wild-swinging affair, in which Meisel put on a last-minute spurt to come through on top.

The eight men who won by forfeit were Jack Dux, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Dave Colton, Tau Kappa Epsilon; John Pisano, Theta Xi; Dick Stanley, Alpha Gamma Rho; Bud Stetler, Sigma Chi; John Flaugh, Phi Gamma Delta; Larry Faber, Theta Kappa Phi; and Bob Young, Phi Delta Theta.

In a 175-pound match Thursday night, Russ Taptich, of Theta Xi, beat Bob Morton, of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. It was erroneously reported in yesterday's Collegian that Morton had won.

Neither team has used T-formation before this season, both schools being recognized as two of the leading proponents of the single-wing up until now. Cassanova, however, introduced the T this season, while Engle has supplanted the single-wing with the winged-T.

With a completely new set of officials being announced yesterday, the only resemblance the game will bear to the one scheduled for last Saturday will be that Pittsburgh and Penn State are the contenders.

Although Pittsburgh has won but one of its first eight games, the Panthers go into the contest as a one to two touchdown favorite on the basis of a rougher schedule. The Lions, although not playing a comparable schedule, enter the fray with a season's mark of four wins, three losses, and a tie.

Passing Duel Expected
Weather conditions permitting, the game is expected to resolve into a passing duel, with Bob Bestwick and Bob Osterhout doing the heaving for the Panthers and Vince O'Bara and Owen Dougherty flinging for the Lions.

Bestwick and Osterhout will have to be at their best to crack the Nittany pass defense. The Lions rank first in the East and fifth in the nation in the pass-defending department.

The game will mark the end of the collegiate careers of ten Penn State gridgers. In addition to Capt. Dougherty and O'Bara, others who will be playing their final games are Ken Bunn, center; Bill Mathers, guard; Chuck Godlasky, tackle; John Smidansky, end; Tony Orsini, halfback; George Jacob, halfback; Mario Santangelo, end; and Bill Barber, end.

Jacob AP Grid Choice

George Jacob, Penn State's outstanding defensive safety, was a surprise choice for honorable mention on the all-East football team picked for the Associated Press by coaches and newsmen. The only other Penn State named to the team was end John Smidansky, who also received honorable mention.

The choice of Smidansky came as no surprise since the big end had already been selected for second team all-state honors Thursday by the Associated Press. Jacob, however, failed to rate even honorable mention on the all-state selections.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 7...THE RAVEN

"You can use my name... but don't quoth me!"

Nobody's pulling the feathers over this bird's eyes!

He's spent too many semesters in Psychology I. He knows — as any smart smoker knows — that you can't make up your mind about cigarette mildness on one fast puff or a quick sniff.

A one-inhale comparison certainly doesn't give you much proof to go on.

That's why we suggest:

THE SENSIBLE TEST . . . The 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed.

After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) we believe you'll know why . . .

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

Meeting the gang to discuss a quiz — a date with the campus queen — or just killing time between classes — the Hasty Tasty is one of the favorite places for a rendezvous for students at the University of Wisconsin. At the Hasty Tasty, as in university campus haunts everywhere, a frosty bottle of Coca-Cola is always on hand for the pause that refreshes—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.
