

Boxing, Swim Teams Open This Weekend

Ringmen Invade Minnesota Lair

Coach Eddie Sulkowski's ring warriors will open their 1951 season Friday night against a typically strong midwestern mitt aggregation when they square off against Minnesota's Gophers in Minneapolis.

The Lion boxers, with four returning veterans, face Coach Ray Chisholm's squad that boasts an even more impressive six lettermen lineup.

Sulkowski has announced his starters in six weight classes with the 130 lb. and the heavyweight classes still wide open. At 125 lbs. newcomer Sam Marino, a sophomore from Norristown, has looked good in outpunching opposition in his class. He will be a definite starter.

Three men are in contention for the 130 lb. class. Sulkowski probably will not announce his starter at this weight until later this week. Oscar Marts and Johnny Beiter, two juniors, and John Barr, a sophomore, will decide the issue in the practice ring this week.

Veteran Frank Gross, who piled up a 4-3 record last year in the 145 slot, has moved down a weight. His potent right looks even better at 135.

Another veteran, Johnny Albarano, who had a 4-1-1 record last year at 135, moves up to take Gross' place at 145 in an attempt (Continued on page four)

Lehigh Swordsmen Defeat State, 16-11

Coach Harry Boutsikaris' Lehigh fencing team made a successful invasion of Rec hall Saturday afternoon as they overcame the Penn State swordsmen, 16-11.

Both Joe Pientak and Dave Breingan won 2 and lost 1 in the foil contest for Lehigh.

In the epee fray, Pientak and Breingan also won 2 and lost 1, while Gene Goldbloom and Ed Kalanik took 2 of their 3 events for State.

Ed Marek, State's skipper, displayed fine fencing skill in winning all 3 of his saber matches. In the same event John Macatician, Lehigh's captain, and Hans Dreher won 2 and dropped 1.

Crying Towel Out As Wrestlers Win

Incongruous though it seems, wrestling coach Charlie Speidel is carrying around the old crying towel today.

Despite the fact that his mat charges came up with a smashing 22-6 win over powerful Lehigh Saturday night, Speidel feels that in some ways his two new "finds", sophomores Don Frey and Joe Lemyre, did not get an opportunity to really show their stuff in their first collegiate appearances.

Frey, wrestling 147, pinned the Engineers' Bill Carlisle in 1:25 of the first period with an inside crotch hold and reverse half-nelson.

Lemyre, grappling with veteran Ed Mahoney in 167, won by default in 2:34 of the first period after Mahoney apparently suffered a temporary dislocation of his shoulder.

In other weights Don "Judge" Watkins put up a good fight before allowing Lehigh's Mike Filipos to take the 123 match, 7-2.

State's Dean Harbold came out of the 130 match with a decision over Ted Brothers, but George Feuerbach proved too much for Don Maurey, and scored an 8-1 decision in the 137-pound match.

Bill Santel scored an upset decision over eastern runner-up John Mahoney in 157. Mike Rubino gave the crowd a glimpse of

Swimmers Host Rutgers Friday

Icy winter blasts leave swimming the remotest thought from most students' minds, but Coach Bill Gutteron's pool proteges can think of little else what with a strong Rutgers squad as their first 1951 opponent this Friday night.

Some old familiar faces will be missing when the Scarlet come to town. Last year's captain John McGrory and the '49 team leader Bill Schildmacher, in addition to the ineligible Cal Folmsbee, will no longer grace State's swimming card.

Nevertheless, the nine letterwinners returning to the fold give Gutteron little cause for tears. Heading the list are captains Cas Borowy, who piled up 84 competition points last season, and Rod Waters.

Other returning swimmers are Vic Lynch, Dick Wilson, Bob Long, Bert Bronck, Gene Kolber, and Bob Conrad.

If conditioning and hard work produce winners, the '51 edition of the Lion tankmen can't fail.

Penn State Had Its Share Of Titlists

Individual honors were evenly distributed at Penn State during the 1950 sports year. Jim Gehrdes, since graduated, was the foremost title-winner with successes in the indoor IC-4A high hurdles and outdoors low and high hurdles.

Charles Drazenovitch won both Eastern and National Collegiate heavyweight boxing titles, while Homer Barr won the Eastern intercollegiate heavyweight wrestling championship for the second straight year.

Rudy Valentino brought Penn State the National Collegiate tumbling title, and Marty Costa, in his final year of basketball competition, set a new single game record of 32 points and a new single season record of 299 points. In track, Vic Fritts brought Penn State its first IC-4A indoor high jump crown.

Colgate Grabs 55-52 Game; Bison Cage Foe Tomorrow

Coach Elmer Gross' Nittany Lion basketball team will be out to prove the adage "third time's a charm" when the State cagers again try for their fifth win at Bucknell tomorrow night.

In Rec hall Saturday, the Lions failed in a second attempt at the elusive number five, dropping a 55-52 decision to a smooth-passing Colgate quintet.

The Red Raiders lived up to press notices as a sharpshooting squad as they scored on 40 per cent of their tries. Although State's defense was at its best in the last few games, the Raiders cautious shooting and sharp passing game proved too much for them.

Penn State almost doubled Colgate's attempted shots total but could score on only 22 per cent. Both squads tallied 19 times from the floor, the difference coming at the foul line. Colgate converted 17 of 22 free throws while State connected on 14 of 25.

Dave Alton, Raider forward, took scoring honors with 20 points. Alton connected for 9 field goals on 18 attempts for an amazing 50 per cent average. Dan Warren was runner-up with 15 markers.
