

Lion-Hungry Bucknell Cagers Eye Upset In Lewisburg Tonight

Penn State's basketball team will move down to Lewisburg tonight for a game with Bucknell university and the Lion cagers can expect anything but an easy evening in Davis gymnasium.

If there is anyone the Bisons love to beat it's a Nittany Lion squad. A release from Bucknell says it in so many words: "the mere mention of Penn State gives the Bucknellians the incentive for victory."

But it won't be just psychology that the Lions will have to contend with tonight — the Bisons have a pretty good basketball team, too.

Jay McMahan

In their first six outings the Bisons have copped four, while dropping two contests to then undefeated Ivy league teams. After slaughtering Juniata, 81-54, the mighty Tigers of Princeton, still unbeaten, took the measure of the Bison quintet, 76-64. Lehigh fell by the wayside but then undefeated Cornell downed the Bucknellians, 63-47.

Victory Over Rams

After Penn State downed Rhode Island State, 61-55, Bucknell upset the Rams, 80-68, and followed with a 74-58 triumph over Albright. In their last game the Bison team was upended by a good Lafayette squad.

Using the fast break to good advantage, Coach Jack Guy's cagers impressed Lion coach Elmer Gross, who scouted them against Albright.

Forwards Joe Gallagher and Don Strasser are the men the Lions will have to stop if they hope to snap their two game losing streak.

Gross expects to start the same team which opened against Colgate last Saturday night. Still looking for a combination that can combine height and scoring power, Gross will open with Tiny McMahan, who is slowly rounding into form, Junie Moore, Herm Sledzik, Joe Piorokowski, and Dick Phillips.

Coach Joe Tocci's freshman basketball squad will go after its second win of the season when they take on the Bucknell frosh in a preliminary to the varsity game.

Track Managers

A call has been issued for associate management candidates for varsity track. Candidates should report to the balcony in Rec hall at 4 p.m., today through Friday.

Maack Loses H'vyweight

Coach Herb Maack, Bucknell wrestling coach, lost a veteran heavyweight recently when Ed Kiely, 225 pounder of W. Long Branch, N.J., signed for another hitch with the U.S. Coast Guard.

Ski Team Opens Season Against Colgate Saturday

Coach Sherman Fogg's varsity ski team will swing into action for the first time this season Saturday afternoon when they meet Colgate at Hamilton, N.Y.

This year's squad will be led against the Red Raiders by Captain Bud Bankert, and returnees John Kirch, Chuck Suitch, Dave Bischoff, Paul Friese, and Linc VanSickle.

Coach Fogg has been working with the team since Fall, and has come up with several hopefuls in Wes Tomljensen, Dick Bausher, John Brant, Ike Weiler, Paul Asplundh, Bill Hall, Eggie Cronau, Bob Coleman, Bill Shomberg, and George Keenan.

The skiers who face a six-meet card are looking forward to a more successful season than they experienced last year. Last year's season proved to be very unexciting and unsuccessful because of the mild winter with little snow. The skiers had little opportunity to practice on their home course, and all but two of the meets were cancelled. They placed 12th in the Intercollegiate Ski union meets at Old Forge, N.Y. and 15th in the Eastern intercollegiates.

The ski meet with Colgate will consist of four events, the down hill run, slalom, cross-country race, and the jump.

Trackmen Open In Capital Sat.

Penn State's indoor track season will get under way Saturday night with the Washington Star Meet. Chick Werner's runners will leave for the capital Saturday morning.

Running against the country's top competition in the mile relay will be Bill Lockhart, Guy Kay, and John McCall of last year's squad. A fourth member will also be included.

The same team which finished second to Yale in last year's Georgetown "G" club, Bill and Don Ashenfelter, Bob Freebairn, and Bob Parsons, are scheduled for the two-mile relay.

There will be two milers selected from Dudley Foster, Jack St. Clair, Al Porto, and Bill Gordon.

Vic Fritts and Ron Coder will compete as individualists in the high jump and pole vault respectively.

Shmoos, Vandals, Sinker Cagers Win

The independent section of the intramural basketball league went back in action Monday night as the Shmoos, Vandals, and Sinkers won impressive court tilts.

The Shmoos rolled up a 41-10 walk-away over the Black Sheep as John Nuschke netted 10 points for the winners. Jim Eckman's 10 tallies set the pace for the Ramblers as they dumped the Jeeps, 22-10, and Harry Bray's seven points helped spell victory for the Abees in their conquest over the Sportsmen, 14-10.

The Architects were throttled by the high-scoring Vandals, 38-10; the Sinkers drubbed the Capitols, 30-19; the Mice, behind at half, 7-6, won out over the Rebels, 15-14, and the Tigers beat the Little Five, 22-16.

Six Veteran Ringmen Grace Minnesota's Boxing Lineup

Minnesota poses a tough problem for the Lion boxers Friday night when the Nittanies open the 1951 season on the road.

Coach Ray Chisholm's midwest squad still has three of the men who outpunched their Lion opponents last year. At 125, the Gopher's diminutive Neil Ofsthun, who easily outpointed Joe Reynolds last year, will square off against the Lion's Sam Marino. Ofsthun piled up a 7-2 record last year, and may have too much experience for the scrappy Lion sophomore.

In the 130-lb. class it will be the same story, with Minnesota's veteran Dave Mackey, 6 and 3 last year, meeting Oscar Marts, Johnny Beiter, or John Barr.

At 135, Chisholm has not named his starter to oppose the Lion's Frank Gros, but it will probably be either Milt Jacobson or sophomore Bob York.

Joe Mackey, brother of the 130-lb. Mackey, may wish he had not advanced to 145 this year. The Lion's Johnny Albarano also upped a weight and will meet Mackey for the second time. He de-cisioned Mackey by one point last year.

Lion captain, Pat Heims will meet the Gopher's successor to last year's captain, Cody Connell. Veteran Gene Stevermer or newcomer, Perry Turgeon are currently battling for the position.

Minnesota captain Ed Williams, 4-4-1, meets Lou Koszarek in the 165-lb. class. At 175, the Gopher's veteran Bill McMoore meets State's Chuck Wilson. Returning heavyweight Don Raveling, who lost 8 of 9 last year will meet either Herb Kurtz or Mario Santangelo in the finale.

Now streets can be lighted by G-E fluorescent lamps. The four lamps in each fixture produce 17,000 lumens of light.

Two entire communities have voted to let G-E Disposalls take care of their garbage. Young G-E engineer Gordon Roney (R.P.I., '36) has supervised installation.

New G-E electronic traffic control automatically adjusts time lights stay red or green to accommodate greatest traffic flow.

These G-E developments are bringing a "New Look" to American communities

Jasper, Indiana, has no garbage collection any more. It now gets rid of garbage by letting G-E Disposall® food-waste units grind it up and flush it down the drain. A young G-E engineer who has specialized in Disposalls supervised the installation and is now starting a similar job for Herrin, Illinois.

In Detroit, G-E engineers have installed something new in street-lighting—fluorescent street lamps. Their light is brighter, less glaring, and will make driving safer. Still other G-E experts have revolutionized Denver's downtown system of traffic-light controls. The new system counts passing cars and automatically varies the length of time that red and green lights stay on, thus adjusting the lights to changes in the traffic flow.

These are a few examples of the exciting new projects that are challenging young G-E engineers today. General Electric's leadership in research and engineering makes it a place where college graduates are finding increasing opportunities to engage in highly interesting and satisfying work.
