

Navy Perils Grapplers' Streak

State Seeks 7th In Row At 2 O'Clock

By GEORGE GLAZER

The undefeated Penn State wrestling team will take on once-beaten Navy this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the mats at Rec hall. The Lions will be after their seventh straight win.

Coach Charlie Speidel will stick with the lineup that took defending Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling association champion Syracuse for a 17-9 ride last weekend, with one exception.

Dean Harbold, with a record of one win and one loss, will take over the 130-pound spot for the injured Jack Dreibelbis. Dreibelbis injured a rib cartilage in his match with Syracuse's Lou Tschirhart.

Rubino, Lemyre In Same Class

Mike Rubino and Joe Lemyre will also wrestle the same weights as they did last week. Rubino again drops from his usual 177-pound slot to 167. Lemyre will take over in the 177-pound class.

Speidel is hoping that Rubino will meet Navy's Don Thomas. He believes that Navy Coach Ray Swartz will drop his undefeated ace down to 167 as he did against Rutgers.

Harbold will face Navy's Dick Neff, and the way the pre-meet Navy lineup stands, Rubino will meet Archie Thompson, while Lemyre is scheduled to meet Thomas.

Reese Faces Navy Captain

In 123, Johnny Reese will face the Navy captain, Bob Sutley, and State's Don Maurey takes on Dick Gregory in the 137-pound match.

In 147 the Lions' prize sophomore, undefeated Don Frey, meets the Middies' Frank Scopolino, who lost a decision in Navy's last outing against Cornell. Bill Santel takes on Floyd Holloway in the 157-pound fracas.

Captain Homer Barr will meet Navy footballer Jim Hunt in the heavyweight windup. Barr is working for his 23rd straight dual meet win without a defeat. Hunt, and Barr's opponent next week, Cornell's Dick Clark, are expected to give State's two-time EIWA champ a run for his money.

Barr, Frey Lead

Barr and Frey are tied for the lead in point production for the season with 26 each. Frey garnered his points on four straight pins at the beginning of the season. His next two matches were won on decisions.

Barr has had the quickest pin of the season for the Nittanians: 1:20 of the first period against Pete George of Syracuse. Frey is second with a fall in 1:25 of the first period. Don Maurey takes third place with a 1:30 job against Virginia.

21-Game Schedule Listed For '51 Nine

A 21-game baseball card opening against Western Maryland April 7 was announced today by H. R. Gilbert, graduate manager of Penn State athletics. Ten of the 21 games will be played at home.

The Nittany Lions, who last year won 15 of 20 games, once again will be under the direction of Joe Becenk.

April 7, Western Maryland; 13 and 14, Georgetown; 19, Ithaca College; 21, Gettysburg; 27, Rutgers, at New Brunswick; 28, Lafayette, at Easton.

May 1, Dickinson; 5, West Virginia, two games at Morgantown; 8, Navy, at Annapolis; 11, Colgate, at Hamilton; 12, Syracuse, two games at Syracuse; 16, Villanova; 18 and 19, Pitt; 22, Bucknell, at Lewisburg; 25, Penn., at Philadelphia; 26, Temple, at Philadelphia; 29, Bucknell.

Penn State's basketball team defeated Colgate last night 58-57 in Hamilton, N.Y.

What's Up, Doc?

DR. JOHN H. "JACK" LIGHT, State College physician, gives Hwywt. Homer Barr a physical once-over. The erstwhile Lion great was a three-time Eastern wrestling champ, a distinction Barr will aspire to when the 1951 tournament is held at Rec hall, March 9 and 10.

Income Tax Lien Placed Against Basketball Fixer

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—(AP)—The government placed a huge income tax lien today against Salvatore T. Sollazzo, who allegedly spent thousands to fix big-time college basketball games.

With interest and penalties, the government's claim amounts to $1,128,493.

The effect of the lien was to freeze Sollazzo's assets until the government can collect whatever it may be entitled to.

Sollazzo is being held without bail, accused of bribing cage stars from three New York colleges to fix basketball games. The colleges involved are Long Island university, City College of New York, and New York university.

Without Bail

Eight players or ex-players are said to have admitted taking $25,000 in bribes for their part in the alleged fix.

The attorney for three of them—Ed Roman, Alvin Roth and Ed Warner of City College of New York—said late today they are ready and willing to testify before the grand jury.

There have been persistent reports that most or all of the players are ready to turn state's evidence—that is tell all and testify for the prosecution—in the hope of winning reduced penalties if found guilty.

Present Testimony

Attorney Jacob Grumet said if the District Attorney's office "wants to present the testimony these three defendants can give to the grand jury, I shall be glad to produce them for that purpose."

As defendants, the three are not required to testify before the grand jury to anything that might be used against them later.

On the matter of the tax lien against Sollazzo, the District Attorney's office said only "we are cooperating with the federal people on what we turn up."

Duelists Match Cornell Today

Fencing their fourth match of the season at Rec hall, State's duelists will strive for their first win when they match blades with Cornell this afternoon at 2 p.m.

Last year the Cornell fencers downed the Merrymen, 20-7.

The Lion bladesmen, however, have been sharpening their techniques all week and an upset victory could be in the offing.

Coach Art Meyer will use the same lineup that started last week. Captain, Ed Merek, Bob

Hall Of Fame Calls Jeff

Bill Jeffrey, veteran Penn State soccer coach, soon will be admitted to Soccer's Hall of Fame.

He will be one of 20 formally inducted at a dinner to be held in Philadelphia Saturday, March 3.

Sponsor of the project, which was undertaken a year ago, is the Old Timers Association of Philadelphia.

IM Handballers Post First Wins

Results from the first night of action in the Intramural handball tournament reveal that the several flight winners returning from last year's competition have gotten off to a good start.

Of the victors, two saw action and both won over their opponents. Owen Dougherty, Kappa Delta Rho, defeated Richard Blythe, Pi Kappa Phi, 21-10, 21-7. David Bischoff, Sigma Nu, defeated William Porr, Delta Sigma Phi, 21-15, 21-17.

In the remaining seven matches Ken Weiss, Sigma Nu, beat Louis Gomlick, Alpha Tau Omega, 21-12, 21-6. Freeman Singer, Phi Sigma Delta, beat John Juppelatz, Alpha Chi Sigma, 21-0, 21-0. James Kilgore, Lambda Chi Alpha, beat Kenneth Webster, Sigma Phi Alpha, 21-7, 21-15.

Jerry Weisman, Sigma Alpha Mu, beat Donald Williams, Acacia, 21-7, 21-10. Chris Tonnelly, Alpha Chi Rho, beat Richard Colodi, Delta Upsilon, 21-18, 21-13.

John Wilcox, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, beat Raymond Artz, Alpha Sigma Phi, 21-4, 21-3. In the final match, James Clark, Sigma Pi, beat Leroy Guccini, Phi Kappa, 21-3, 21-4.

Searles, and either Jerry Clauser or Charles Richer will join in the sabers. Exchanging sharp blade jabs in the epee event will be Pete Raidy, Lou Como, and Bob Whitman.

Ed Kalanik, Tom Taylor, and Joe Kusick will attempt to thrust back their experienced opponents in the foil match.

Lion Boxers Collide With Badgers Tonite

By ART BENNING

The Nittany Lion Boxers make their final home appearance of the year tonight at 7 o'clock in Rec hall when they meet the Badgers from the University of Wisconsin.

The Lions go into their sixth meet with a 2-2-1 record while Wisconsin last week gained a 4-4 tie with Gonzaga university in the Badger's opening meet.

Thinclads Engage In IC-4A's Today

A packed Madison Square Garden will echo with the sound of pounding feet as the annual IC-4A indoor track classic gets underway today.

The meet will feature top rivalries in most track and field events. Penn State's Vic Fritts, defending champion in the high jump, will be back to defend his crown.

Bob Freebairn and Don Ashenfelter make up the Blue and White competition in the mile run.

The Lions will suffer because of foot injuries to high jumpers Vic Fritts and Jim Herb.

Penn State's crack mile relay team will run against a field of 22 colleges, while Bill Ashenfelter and Jack Horner will face some tough competition in the two-mile run.

Lion Swimmers To Meet Syracuse

Penn State will carry a somber seven-game defeat mark into action when it engages Syracuse this afternoon in the Piety Hill aggregation's brand-new pool.

Although the Orange captain, Bill Rugg, is considered a shoo-in to cop the breaststroke today, Nittany Coach Bill Gutteron last week against Pitt unveiled a lad who may brighten the Lion swim picture in the future.

Sophomore Jim Davies not only swam the best breaststroke section of the 300-yard medley of any Statesman this year, but he also came nearest taking second place over the 200-yard chest-stroking route.

George Hamilton, who has done no worse than second in seven backstroke races this season, may be pushed by Orangemen Ken Heller and Dave Reed to the same extent as against Pitt when he set a new Penn State standard of 2:19.9 at 200 yards.

Syracuse, freestyle heavy, will toss a fine array of sprinters against State's speedsters. Bob Long, Dick Wilson, Al Lucidi, and Cas Borowy, as well as in the distances against Burt Bronk and Gene Kolber.

Wisconsin has won 16 of the 17 meets between the two schools in a series that runs back through 1936, with double meets in both 1945-46. The Lions last beat the Badgers in 1937, turning the trick by a 5½-2½ count.

Same Lineup

Coach Eddie Sulkowski says he will probably start the same lineup he has used since the second meet of the year. Wisconsin may forfeit the 165-lb. bout, giving Penn State a one point advantage going into the fray.

Penn State	Weight	Wisconsin
Sam Marino	125	Gene Diamond
Jim Barr	130	Charles Hopkins
Frank Gross	135	Les Paul
John Albarano	145	Pat Stearn
Pat Helms	155	Dick Murphy
Lou Koszarek	165	Dick Rowlands
Chuck Wilson	175	Gerald Meath
Herb Kurtz	Hvywt.	Bob Ranck

Wisconsin captain, Dick Murphy, renews his rivalry with State captain, Pat Helms, in the 155-lb. battle. Helms defeated Murphy in the quarter-finals of the NCAA meet last spring. Murphy boxed at 165-lbs. last week, drawing with the present 155-lb. champ, Eli Thomas. Tonight he drops back to his old weight in an attempt to gain revenge over Helms.

The Badgers also have veteran ringmen in the 135, 175, and heavyweight classes. Les Paul, Gerald Meath, and Bob Ranck hold down these three weights for the mid-westerners.

Risk Win Streak

Two undefeated Lions will be seeking to extend their win streaks tonight. Frank Gross, with five wins and no losses, meets Les Paul in the 135-lb. clash. Lou Koszarek, with three wins and two draws, will try for number four in the 165-lb. bout.

The Lions complete their dual meet schedule next week against the Cavaliers from the University of Virginia.

Skiers Need Snow—Ain't Got No Mo'

Skiers need snow and Syracuse has none, so the Penn State-Syracuse meet slated for this afternoon has been postponed until next week, with hopes of better luck.

The skiers were originally scheduled to participate in the Paul Smith carnival next weekend, but that event has been cancelled and replaced by the Syracuse meet.

D. Lemyre, J. Maurey Risk Win Streaks In S. America

By TOM SAYLOR

When Dick Lemyre and Jerry Maurey trek to South America to represent the Pan-American wrestling team, they will be risking their sensational win records.

Maurey, the youngest of the Maurey brothers who have represented State in wrestling, has a consecutive win streak of 73 meets. While at Clearfield high school he was undefeated and also P.I.A.A. state champ for four years.

So far, under Charlie Ridenour's tutelage, he has continued his skein, winning over Lehigh and Pitt. After that, Maurey swept to four triumphs in the Pan-American tryouts which enables him to hold down the 136.5-lb. class—Olympic weight divisions will be used—when the games open tomorrow at Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Lemyre, who hails from Merrick, L.I., won the South Shore and Long Island interscholastic titles for three years.

Lemyre, who also has an older brother on the varsity squad, was Jr. Metropolitan AAU champ in 1948; Sr. Metropolitan titlist in '48, '49, and '50, and New York State AAU king in '50. Lemyre also boasts a 29 match winning skein and thus far is undefeated in college.

Both boys were permitted to make the trip providing they make up their work when they return, by attending special classes.

The Pan-American games themselves will feature 21 republics competing against each other. Wrestling will be administered under the Olympic regulations with a "touch" fall ending the match immediately. Billy Sheridan, Lehigh mentor, will head the grapplers.
