West Dorm—

(Continued from page one) discontinuance of the council's investigation into having Sally's food service return to the area. The investigation was dropped because the West dorm snack bar Sunday initiated a quick food service similar to Sally's.

James Dunlap, who gave the report, said his investigation committee would compile data on this new service so the snack bar could better serve the area. He announced the following places and times of snack bar quick food service: the recreation rooms of Hamilton, McKee, and Thompson halls each night except Saturday from 9 to 9:30 o'clock, and the recreation rooms of Jordan, Watts, and Irvin halls each night except Saturday from 10 to 10:30 o'clock.

Harry Cover reported that H. K. Wilson, dean of men, had told him that Tribunal had complete jurisdiction over fire alarm violators. Cover said Wilson told him the dean of men's office would back Tribunal 100 per cent.

Cover also reported Wilson said that violators would not be dismissed from school unless circumstances besides ringing false fire alarms were involved. The council approved the report.

Fine Appoints—

Ray F. Smock, Meadville, secretary of highways.

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, Harrisburg, state police commissioner. Miles Horst, Palmyra, Lebanon county, secretary of agriculture.

That left the re-appointment of Milo F. Draemel, Wynnwood, Montgomery county, as secretary of forests and waters, the only member of Fine's cabinet lacking confirmation. No vote was taken on Draemel.

Camera Club To Meet

Bill Coleman of the Lion studio will present a lecture at a meeting of the Penn State Camera club tonight at 7:30 in 3 Carnegie hall. The subject is double and triple montage portraits.

Bursar To Charge—

line was originally scheduled for Friday at 4:30 p.m., but was extended to include Saturday morning after some students were unable to pay their fees by the time the office closed.

The bursar said that about 90 per cent of the students had already paid their fees.
