

WHAT'S BREUING?

By JOE BREU
Ass't Sports Editor

ONE MAN TEAM—More than likely you've heard numerous tales of so-called one man teams. Usually they are merely over-exaggerations of a certain player's value. But here is an instance where a one man team was actually the case. It occurred in last year's intramural fraternity track meet, won by Alpha Gamma Rho with a total of 12 points. And, believe it or not, all 12 were garnered by one man—Chuck Wilson, a member of the varsity football and boxing teams. Chuck gained 5 points for winning the shot put, 4 for taking second in the 100 yard dash, and 3 for finishing third in the broad jump. This guy makes even Jim Konstanty look like a piker.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE?—It will be highly interesting to see just what strategy Coach Doc Carlson will employ when he brings his Pitt cagers into Rec hall Saturday. You may remember that last year the good Doctor and his boys played a stalling game which State eventually won, 31 to 15. But since Pitt bowled State over in the Smokey City two weeks ago, he may forego such a move this year. However, the Lions have been mighty tough to beat in Rec hall this season, as Carlson probably is well aware. So who knows, another cold wave in the form of the deep freeze may hit State College come Saturday night. Huh, as if the Nittany Vale hasn't been cold enough this winter.

SHORT SHOTS IN SUNDRY DIRECTIONS—A survey of the records turns up the interesting fact that Connie Mack was fined $100 in 1892. At last the story behind those A's contracts is out . . . A note from former Collegian Sportswriter George Vadasz, informs us that we erred in last week's column. We put Niagara Falls in the New England league whereas it is actually in the Middle Atlantic circuit . . . Fran Rogel, former Nittany football ace, is now a military policeman at Ft. Meade . . . It happened during the Don Maurey match last Saturday and almost went unnoticed, Homer Barr's small daughter wandered away from Mom and dropped in for a little visit with her famous Dad. She watched the rest of the match from the safety of Pop's lap.

DOWN MEMORY LANE—The rejection by Penn State of a bid to the Bradley basketball tourney led us to snoop into the past and check on the last State team to enter a tournament. That was in 1942 when the Lions went to the NCAA tournament. That 1942 team won 17 of 19 games, the last 12 in a row, during the regular season. In the NCAA at New Orleans they got bounced by Dartmouth, 44 to 39, but won the consolation game from Illinois by a 41-34 count. John Lawther was the coach and both present mentor Elmer Gross, and his assistant, John Egli, were members of the team. Gross scored 168 points to lead the Lions.

HATS OFF TO—Former Lion runner Curt Stone for his victory in the 10,000 meter race at the Pan-American games in Buenos Aires, Argentina . . . Coaches Charley Speidel and Bill Jeffreys for their 25 years of service to State. In this age of "win or get out" such records speak for themselves . . . Jim Herb, for keeping the indoor IC-4A high jump title in the Lion's possession. Defending champ Vic Fritts was hampered by a bruise and did not place.

Lamie Must Average 9 Points To Tie One Season Cage Mark

Captain Lou Lamie needs only to average nine points in three remaining basketball games to tie the Penn State one season scoring mark of 299 held by Marty Costa.

In 19 games, Lamie has poured 272 points through the hoop for a 14.3 average. If Lamie is to tie or break the record, which was set last season, chances are that it won't be in Rec hall. The Lions have only one remaining game scheduled for the home court and that comes this Saturday with the Pitt Panthers providing the opposition.

The Lions will travel to Morgantown, West Virginia for a return game with the Mountaineers on Monday and from there hop down to Philadelphia to wind up the season with Penn on Wednesday.

Ted Panoplos continues to follow Lamie in the scoring totals with 242 points in 20 games. Although Panoplos is 30 points behind Lamie, he has scored 11 more field goals than the Lion captain.

Tiny McMahan has moved up into the third spot by virtue of his spree in the last few games. The 6-7 center has cut the cords for 169 markers and a 8.5 average.

Hardy Williams follows close behind McMahan with 160 points and a 8.0 average. Junie Moore rounds out the starters with 120 points scored for a 6.0 average.

As a team, Penn State has counted 1188 points in 20 games—averaging 59.4 per contest. The opponents have combined for 1058 and a 52.9 average. The Lions now have a season record of 13 wins and 7 losses.

Spring football drills at Penn State will get underway the first week in April.

U.S. Track Favorites Upset In Pan Am's.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 28 (AP)—Cuba's Rafael Fortun and Colombia's Jaime Aparicio ran North American favorites into the ground today to upset the United States' hopes of dominating track events in the Pan-American games.

Fortun took the 100-meter dash by an eyelash over Arthur Bragg, the U.S. sprint champion from Baltimore. Aparicio captured the 400-meter hurdles crown handily with the faltering Don Halderman of Los Angeles finishing third.

The victories for the 30-year-old Fortun, a University of Havana law student, and 21-year-old Aparicio, who hails from California, enlivened the second day's competition of the hemisphere olympics.

The United States' only consolation came from winning the broad jump with Stanford's Gaylord Bryan, taking a fifth championship of the games on the rifle range, and sending a flock of track stars nearer titles in preliminary eliminations.

Frat Handball Play Continues

Action continued in the fraternity division of the intramural handball tournament with eleven contests being decided in Tuesday night's competition. All matches are still in round one.

John Wylie, Phi Kappa Sigma, beat Dean Davidson, Sigma Phi Alpha, 21-0, 21-4; Donald Maurey, Delta Upsilon, beat Stanley Myers, Pi Lambda Phi, 21-5, 21-8; Joseph Ruyak, Pi Kappa Phi, beat Jack Schoneley, Sigma Phi Sigma, 21-6, 21-8; Robert Krayner, Delta Chi, beat William Heinz, Phi Kappa, 21-10, 21-7; Allan Pancerev, Phi Kappa Psi, beat Kenneth Wolfe, Sigma Pi, 21-0, 21-1.

Winner by forfeit was Robert Freeborough, Acacia, over Burton Cushner, Sigma Alpha Mu.

Gov't Indicts Fix-Master

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Salvatore T. Sollazzo, jeweler and accused fix-master in the basketball scandal, was indicted today on charges of dodging a $210,779 federal income tax bill for 1944.

The government also disclosed it is checking further income records of the stocky ex-convict, and that he is under investigation as a possible gold smuggler.

These developments came today as Madison Square Garden, the big sports arena where the alleged cage "fixes" have occurred, disclosed it is considering dropping basketball from its program.

Ned Irish, the Garden's executive vice-president, said the bribery exposures, which in five weeks have enmeshed 12 present and former college players, had prompted the Garden's directors to consider such action.
