

State Wrestlers Seek Perfect Season; Engage Cornell Today

ITHACA, N.Y., March 3 — Penn State's wrestling team pulled in here last night, determined to give Coach Charlie Speidel his fourth undefeated season in 25 years at the reins of Nittany mat fortunes.

The Lions now have a season record of seven straight wins and wind up their dual-meet season with Cornell's wrestlers.

Captain Homer Barr will lay the most outstanding win streak in the East on the line in today's match. Barr will be after his 24th straight dual-meet victory without a defeat in his three seasons as State's heavyweight.

Rubino, Reese Conclude Careers
Besides Barr, two other seniors will make their last appearance in dual meet competition for the Lions. Mike Rubino, who will switch back to his usual position at 177, and 123-pounder Johnny Reese wind up their collegiate careers except for the Easterns—and possibly the Nationals.

Rubino, after splitting two decisions at 167, shifts back to his old stand to take on Cornell's Don Dickason in the light-heavyweight tussle.

Joe Lemyre, a sophomore who has a record of 6-1 for the season, begins all over again in 167, taking on the Big Red's John Arnold.

Barr is scheduled to meet Dick Clark in the heavyweight division, but Clark has missed the last two Cornell matches due to an injury. Cornell Coach Jim Miller has not decided on a replacement if Clark cannot wrestle.

Dreibelbis Sits Out

Reese will meet sophomore Dick Delgado in the 123-pound opener. Dean Harbold will be in at 130 again, replacing Jack Dreibelbis, who was injured in the Syracuse match two weeks ago. Harbold will meet Big Red Captain Pete Bolanis.

Don Maurey, with a 5-2 season record, meets Bill Van Gilder in the 137-pound match, in a battle that could turn out to be the best of the meet.

Another good bout is in prospect when two undefeated sophomores, State Don Frey and Cornell's Frank Bettuci, hook up in 147. Frey has a record of 7-0, Bettuci a 9-0 log.

Bill Santel, who has lost only once this season, will probably meet Paul Sampson in the 157-pound battle. There is a possibility that the Cornell lineup may be shifted so that Sampson will move up to 167, with Arnold dropping down to 157.

Lion Trackmen Compete In N.Y.

New York's final banked-board track whirl of the season, the Knights of Columbia games, finds only a small contingent of runners representing Penn State on the Madison Square Garden boards tonight.

Big Bill Ashenfelter, fresh from his third place finish in the IC-4A two-mile last week, will be battling 16 laps tonight against much stiffer competition.

The only other Nittany trackmen carrying the Blue and White colors are the mile relayers. The quartet of Bill Lockhart, John Lauer, Guy Kay, and John McCall will be sprinting against two New York foursomes, Manhattan and St. Johns, in addition to Colgate.

Two Lion high jump champions, Vic Fritts and Jim Herb will not be competing. Vic is rendered hors de combat for the remainder of the indoor season with a chipped bone in the foot and Jim

State Rifle Squad Opposes Maryland

Coach Felipe Vias' varsity rifle charges will match shots with Maryland in the Army at ten o'clock this morning.

This will be the second shoulder-to-shoulder competition of the season for the Nittanians. In Maryland they will be facing one of the best teams in the country. Last year the Terps finished second to Army in the Intercollegiate, which they won in '49.

The sharpshooters starting lineup will include: Walt Beers, Nelson Bevard, Sam Carnahan, Rod Ingleright, John Stoudt, Fred Wessman, Bob White, Clarke Young, and Dave Young.

could not be entered in time. Rapid Robert Freebairn, third place medal winner in the IC-4A mile, also suffered the same fate of not being able to get entrance into the mile field. Maybe he was lousy what with Wisconsin Whippet Don Gerhmann and the FBI Flyer Fred Wilt renewing their torrid, blanket-finish mile duels.

Frosh Grapplers Wind Up Season At Cornell

Coach Charlie Ridenour will send a patched-up lineup into battle today in the final meet of the season as his freshman wrestlers battle the Cornell yearlings in a preliminary match to the varsity bout.

Scholastic deficiencies and the Pan-American trip have caused the frosh squad to have only one starter from the previous meet with Pitt. The lone returnee is Doug Cassel at 123. Other Lion starters will be Larry Levine, 130; Bob Wendell, 137; Joe Messerman, 147; Bob Winters, 157; Dick Weber, 167; Bill Barker, 177; and Harold Lampe, heavyweight.
