

"SEE, REF, HE'S MOVING HIS PIVOT FOOT," shouts Doc Carlson, Pittsburgh basketball coach, during the game in Rec hall Saturday night which Penn State won, 64-44. The object of Carlson's squawk is Junie Moore, Lion guard.

Cagers Meet W. Virginia, Dump Panthers, 64-44

Penn State's basketball team went out after its fifteenth win of the season last night in Morgantown, West Virginia, where the Nittany Lion cagers met West Virginia university. Lion Captain Lou Lamie needed only 14 points to break the Penn State one season mark as the Nittanians took the floor against the Mountaineers. Lamie's total going into last night's game was 286. Marty Costa set the one season mark last year by scoring 299 points.

In Rec hall Saturday night, Coach Elmer Gross' cagers insured themselves of a successful season by winning their fourteenth game, defeating Pitt, 64-44. The victory gives Gross' team one more win than last season's team was able to count and even if the Lions were to lose their two remaining games, they would end the campaign with a respectable 14 and 9 record.

Bulletin

West Virginia defeated Penn State last night, 72-68, in Morgantown.

Lamie, after his second Penn State scoring record, cut in half the number of points needed to break Costa's record. The Lion jump-shot artist whipped in 14 points, just half of the 28 he needed to top Costa's 299 record. In avenging a defeat handed them by Pitt earlier in the year, the Lions outran, outshot, and generally outplayed the Panthers in every department.

Using a fast break against Doc Carlson's "slow break," the State courtmen took a 1-0 lead at the outset on Ted Panoplos' foul and from then on were never headed. Only twice, in the early minutes of the contest, was the score tied. After Tiny McMahan broke the last of these with a field goal to give the Lions a 9-7 margin, State gradually pulled away and left the court at halftime with a 32-24 lead.

Pitt narrowed the count down to 37-30 shortly after the half got under way, but 11 straight points gave the Lions a 50-30 bulge and from then on they coasted to victory.

Ted Panoplos took scoring honors for the Lions with 16 points. But it was little Mike Belich who won the evening's honors. Pitt's "Little All-American" tossed in 17 markers to pace the Panther scorers.

State shot at a 34 per cent clip while Pitt hit on 28 per cent.

Matmen Top Cornell; First Unbeaten Season Since '35

Lion Boxers Drop Final Dual Match To Virginia, 5-3

The Nittany Lion boxer's trip south of the Mason-Dixon line last weekend proved costly in more ways than one.

The Lions lost their third dual meet of the season, bringing the final record to 3-3-1, when the Cavaliers from the University of Virginia upset them, 5-3, Saturday night.

The Cavaliers also destroyed the only perfect record among the Nittany regulars, when the pride and joy of Charlottesville, Grover "Bat" Masterson, ended Frank Gross's win streak at six straight in the 135-lb. class with a 29-27 decision.

Gross looked good in winning the first round 10-9, and continued to make Masterson miss badly in the second, but taking the harder punches. Masterson took the second round 10-9. The Virginian finished a little stronger than Gross and took the third round 10-8.

Bright Spot

The brightest spot in the otherwise dull picture, was Lou Koszarek's successful defense of his unbeaten record at 165-lbs. He had little trouble in his tuncup fight for the EIBA's with newcomer Bill Viar, winning a one-sided 30-24 decision.

The other Lion wins were recorded in the welterweight bouts. John Albarano gave Vince Marshall a good beating.

Captain Pat Heims had little trouble racking up his third win against rangy Pete Platt, taking a 30-27 decision. Heims was content to jab from long range while generally staying out of Platt's long reach.

Light-heavyweight Chuck Wilson made a valiant attempt to gain a tie for the Lions and had everyone convinced he had done just that until the decision was announced. The 30-28 decision for Virginia's Bill Burgess still has the Southerners blinking.

Marino Loses

The Lion's sophomore bantamweight, Sam Marino, dropped a 30-25 decision to veteran Len Coiner in the opening bout. Marino was the better man during the third round, but couldn't overcome Coiner's lead, built up in the first two rounds.

Virginia's three-time Eastern champ, Allen Hollingsworth, defeated 130-pounder Jim Barr. Early in the first round Hollingsworth landed a powerful body blow that sent Barr to the canvas. The TKO came at 39 seconds of the first round.

Making his ring debut for the Lions, Mario Santangelo dropped a 30-27 decision to another footballer, Bill Sinclair in the heavy-weight scrap.

For the first time since 1935, Penn State will take an undefeated team into the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling association championships, to be held in Rec hall Friday and Saturday.

Coach Charlie Speidel's mat charges ended their dual meet season with a 20-6 victory over Cornell, for their seventh win but the win was somewhat dampened by Captain Homer Barr's first dual meet loss in three years of wrestling for the Blue and White. Barr lost a 7-6 decision to Cornell heavyweight Dick Clark, who now has a 7-1 record.

Lemyre Captures Pan-Am Mat Title

Dick Lemyre, a member of the Penn State freshman wrestling team, defeated Flores Lucas in the finals of the bantamweight division of the wrestling tournament at Buenos Aires, Argentina, the scene of the Pan-American games.

Dick Lemyre

Another Lion freshman wrestler, Jerry Maurey, saw his unbeaten streak go by the boards as he dropped the title match to Omar Blebel, of Argentina, in the featherweight division. Maurey previously had a winning streak that extended over a four-year span.

Another freshman wrestler, Hugh Peery, of Pitt, defeated M. Varela, Argentina, in the finals for the flyweight crown.

Terps Outshoot Nittany Riflers

Maryland's crack rifle team fired a 1428 score to easily down Coach Felipe Vias' Nittany riflemen in shoulder-to-shoulder competition in the Armory Saturday morning. The Lions shot a 1390 total.

The defeat lowered State's season record to 23 victories against 16 losses, but this defeat did not cause much loss in prestige. The Terps have been averaging 1427 points per match, compared to the Lion's season high firing of 1410. Last year Maryland finished second to Army in the intercollegiate and if they maintain their present average should be at the top again in the Nationals.

Sam Carnahan led State's scoring with a 281 total, closely followed by Nelson Bevard with a 280 total. Other top firers for the Lions were Walt Beers, 278; Clarke Young, 276, and Rod Ingleight, 275. Usually high-scoring John Stoudt, captain of the team, failed to place in the scoring. Maryland's high firer had a 289 score, while their lowest man had a 284.

Lion Grapplers Mauled By Big Red Frosh, 26-5

Coach Charlie Ridenour's freshman wrestlers closed their season last Saturday as they dropped a 26-5 verdict to the Cornell freshman team.

The loss gave the Little Lions a final log of 1-2. They previously had defeated Lehigh, 23-11, in their opening match and then dropped a 19-11 match to Pitt in their second meet.

Doug Cassel, who drew at 123 pounds, and Bob Winters, who decided Bill Ebel, 6-5, were the only point-getters for Penn State. The other bouts were all won by Cornell with two of them coming via falls. Cornell won these falls in the 137 and 167 pound classes.

'Ez Fights Walcott Wed. In 7th Outing

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles determined to be the busiest heavyweight king of all time, takes on 37-year old Jersey Joe Walcott tomorrow night in his seventh title defense.

The lean, 29-year old titlist won NBA recognition by outpointing Walcott in Chicago June 22, 1949 and has been busy ever since excepting for an eight-month lay-off because of a rib and heart injury.

Ezzard is rated a solid 1 to 3 choice to beat back Walcott's fourth challenge for the crown and go on to another bout with Joe Louis in April. Louis will be an interested spectator in Detroit's Olympia.

The old brown bomber still thinks he can whip Charles despite the artistic shellacking he took from Ezzard in Yankee stadium last September.

Walcott was upset by Rex Layne in his last outing in New York in November. The Camden, N.J. veteran weighed 200 that night and claims he was not in condition. He expects to weigh around 194, his best fighting weight for Charles. The champion will scale around 184.

Most improved performer on the Penn State boxing team is Frank Gross, of Erie, who is expected to make a strong bid for 135-pound honors in the coming Eastern intercollegiate championships.

Scandal Moves West . . .

Authorities Find California Fixer Not Linked With New York Group

LOS ANGELES, March 5 (AP)—An accused would-be basketball "fixer" was arraigned today while authorities said they found no link with the recent wave of arrests in a New York cage scandal. "But we're pretty sure that he's tied up with big time California gamblers," said Deputy District Attorney Adolph Alexander.

Charged with attempted bribery is Albert Scroggins, 31, lame self-described jockey's agent and former paratrooper. The dapper Scroggins was sent to jail under $50,000 bail pending a preliminary hearing March 14. He was arrested on a tip from

Ken Flower, 19-year-old forward on the University of Southern California basketball team. Flower said Scroggins offered him $1,500 to see to it that the Trojans lost their final Pacific Coast conference game with U.C.L.A. last Saturday night by at least 12 points.

Flower, not a first stringer, said he was promised $500 before the game, $500 after and $500 more to give to another player of his own selection. Instead, Flower took the offer to a coach. The Trojans went on to beat U.C.L.A., 43-41, and send the Coast conference race into a playoff tonight.

Frey's Time Wins

Frey's match was a comparatively dull affair, with only two escapes, one a referee's decision, being made. Frey's winning point was scored on one minute's time advantage.

In the first period, Frey seemed able to take Bettucci's leg at will, but couldn't quite maneuver him around for a takedown. In the second period, with Frey in the position of advantage, referee Dick DiBattista warned Frey about carrying Bettucci off the mat while working him over, and a second time awarded Bettucci an automatic escape. Frey pulled an escape early in the final period.

Barr's match was reminiscent of the legendary battles of timberland strongmen. It was evident that Clark's first takedown took something out of the two-time IWA champion. It was the first time that Barr had been taken down in Eastern competition. Barr said that he felt tired even in the first period. "But don't underestimate Clark — he put on a good fight," Barr said later.

Waited For Barr

Clark said that he stayed out of competition last year so that he could meet Barr later when he had improved. He is a five year engineering student. This is his last year of eligibility. He ordinarily weighs in at about 220 for a match, but tipped the scales at 203 for Saturday's engagement.

Bill Santel, 157-pounder, had the only pin of the battle, catching Paul Sampson in a cradle at 2:16 of the second period, after taking a 6-2 lead. Santel finished the season with a 7-1 mark.

Don Maurey and Bill VanGilder, at 137, put on the best show of the evening, with Maurey winning, 7-5. Van Gilder twice tied the count, once in the second period and again in the third period, but was never ahead. A reverse late in the third period iced the decision for Maurey.

Reese Gets 1st Call

Johnny Reese started the match off with a 7-6 decision in 123 over Dick Delgado. Reese got the win on a point for time. Cornell Captain Pete Bolanis whitewashed Dean Harbold in the 130-pound encounter, 7-0, for his eighth victory against one loss.

After Maurey, Frey and Santel had won, Joe Lemyre didn't have too much trouble taking his seventh win, a 6-2 decision from Les Simon. Lemyre has lost only once this season.

Mike Rubino took a 5-2 verdict from Cornell's Don Dickason, and pulled an escape that gave the crowd of 1500 a laugh. With Dickason in the position of advantage in the second period, and Cornell Coach Jim Miller telling Dickason to watch out for a step-over, Mike stood up and walked straight away from the surprised Dickason.

Owens All-Time Mark

Lou Lamie is the proud owner of a new three-year scoring record in Penn State basketball. The Lion captain already has topped 600 points, whereas Jack Biery set the previous high of 576 during the 1940's. Also within Lamie's grasp is a new single season high of 300 points or more. Marty Costa enrolled 299 points last year.
