

Lamie Sets 1-Year Record; Penn Hosts Cagers Tonight

W.Va. Courtmen Hand Nittanies 8th Defeat, 72-68

Penn State's basketball team will drop the curtain on the 1950-51 season tonight when the Lion cagers play their finale on the floor of the Palestra in Philadelphia against the University of Pennsylvania.

Still trying for their fifteenth win of the campaign after losing to West Virginia, 72-68, Monday night, the Lions will have to stop the Quakers' Ernie Beck if they are to end their season with a victory.

Final Games

Captain Lou Lamie, Ted Panoplos, Junie Moore, and Tom Shuptar will play their last game for Penn State tonight.

Monday night, Coach Elmer Gross' courtmen dropped their eighth game of the season to the Mountaineers of West Virginia in Morgantown.

17 Straight Points

Trailing 70-49 with 10 minutes left in the game the Nittanies got hot and tallied 17 points in a row while holding West Virginia scoreless to raise the score to 70-66. But the Mountaineers put on a freeze and stalled until the final gun.

The Lions played without the service of Lamie, Tiny McMahan, and Panoplos in those last important minutes. McMahan fouled out before the first half was over and Panoplos too took the long walk with better than three minutes left in the game.

Penn State's freshmen end their season by dropping an 80-78 overtime game to the Little Mountaineers. Bill Sherry was high for the Lion Cubs with 21 points.

Lou Lamie

22 Point Output Gives Lamie 2nd Penn State Mark

By ERNIE MOORE

Basketball Captain Lou Lamie added another laurel to his ever increasing collection Monday night when he broke the Penn State one-season scoring record by tabbing 22 points against West Virginia.

Penn State's "Mr. Basketball" raised his season mark to 308 points, 9 more than Marty Costa's record 299 points last season.

Lamie now holds two Nittany scoring records, having set the three-year record last month at Pittsburgh. He now has scored 655 points for Lion cage teams.

Foul Out Hurts

The Lion jump-shot artist missed his chance at the other major Penn State record, the one game mark, when he fouled out of the West Virginia game with eight minutes left in the game.

He will have but one more chance to make a "grand slam" of the Penn State records. The Lions play their final game of the season tonight against Penn in Philadelphia.

Lamie, a senior in the School of Physical Education and Athletics, will play his last basketball game in a Penn State uniform tonight.

'Hesitation-Shot' Expert

The scoring of the Arnold, Pa. product has been the highlight of a better-than-average season for Coach Elmer Gross' courtmen. The master of a one-handed jump-shot that is difficult to stop, and an expert feinter, Lamie is said by many to be one of the greatest players ever to don a basketball uniform for Penn State.

Always consistent scorer for the Lion courtmen, Leapin' Lou amassed his three-year record with 98 points in his sophomore year, 249 last year as a junior, and up to tonight's contest, 308 this season.

In breaking the one-season mark, Lamie became the first Penn State player to score 300 points in a single season.

The Nittany captain will be out to build on both the three-year and the one-year marks tonight against Penn. Although the game will be his last for State, Lamie will have the satisfaction of knowing that every time he scores a point against the Quakers, he will be breaking two Penn State records—and his own at that.

Lion Tankmen Meet F&M In Glennland Finale Tonite

By JAKE HIGHTON

Blue and White swimmers will have the strange but pleasant experience tonight of trying to extend a winning streak rather than break a losing run.

Having proved by virtue of their first victory of the season over Temple that it can't rain all the time, Lion mermen hook up with Franklin & Marshall in the season's dual meet finale in Glennland pool at 7 o'clock.

Rod Waters

F&M, fresh from finishing second to Middle Atlantic States champion Lehigh, poses a strong threat to leave the Nittany athletes right back into their losing habits of the first eight meets.

High Is Dips' Ace

In Ivan High, the Diplomats are likely to sweep both the 50 and 100-yard dashes since this sprinter last week became MAS double-champ with fast 24.1 and 53.8 clockings respectively.

Then too, High anchors the 400-yard relay team which against Army sped the distance in 3:43.6. This mark is only 1.3 slower than the Penn State record set just four days ago by Bob Long, Dick Wilson, Gene Kolber and Cas Borowy.

To counterbalance Diplomat strength, Coach Gutteron has a probable victory in backstroke George Hamilton who already has won six times this season.

Strong chances of wins also lie in fancy diver Bob Kenyon and distance man Kolber.

Tonight's duel figures to be every bit as close as the unique, hair-splitting 37 1/2-37 1/2 thriller these two tank squads fought last year.

Co-captain Borowy, Rod Waters, and Long will be swimming their last dual meet for State.

Valentino To Defend East. Tumbling Title

By BUD FENTON

Saturday when most sports fans in State College will be pre-occupied with wrestling, Rudy Valentino will be at Annapolis, Md., doing a job that he can accomplish with one hand.

In fact, he has done it with one hand. The job? Winning the Eastern Intercollegiate tumbling championship.

Valentino won the title last year with a wrist so badly sprained that he had to drop out of competition for the National championship because of the excessive strain during the Easterns.

It would seem that the short, muscular pin-wheel was missing top honors until his senior year just as he did in high school. But now that he is nearing graduation, perhaps he will be able to follow through and make his presence felt in National competition.

Annual Improvement
It took the human top, beaten only once in the past two years, three appearances in the state high school tourney to finally capture title honors. Each year he improved, going from fifth to third to first.

Last year it appeared that he would be able to break the three year routine when, as the Eastern championships drew near, the Lancaster, Pa. tumbler stood head and shoulder above his competitors.

But the playful, care free Rudy complicated things somewhat by playing leap-frog with a fire-hydrant in Philadelphia the night before a meet with Temple.
