De Paur Chorus Sings Tonight

The Community Concert association will present the de Paur Infantry chorus conducted by Leonard de Paur at 8:30 o'clock tonight in Schwab auditorium.

The concert, which concludes the current series, is open only to members of the association.

The program for the chorus, a group of 35 veterans, will be divided into five sections. It will begin with four songs by contemporary composers: "Truth Shall Deliver," by William Schumann, "Come Away Death," by Ulysses Kay, "Here Is Thy Foot Stool," by Paul Creston, and "On Journeys," composed especially for the chorus by Dai-keong Lee.

Folk Songs

The second section of the program will consist of three folk songs from Latin America by Gao Gurgel and arranged by Gurgel and de Paur: "Folga Negro!" "Casinha Pequena," and "Coco do Norte." Also in the second section will be "Ugly Woman," a "Calypso" from Trinidad arranged by de Paur.

The chorus will then follow with four songs from World War II; "The Duckworth Chant," arranged by de Paur.

State Asks Bids For Construction

The General State authority yesterday asked for bids for the proposed construction of a four-story addition to Buckhout laboratory.

The new addition to Buckhout is one of a number of new science building projects to be built by the authority under a $10,000,000 construction program. It will have a basement and three floors, and will double the capacity of the present laboratory. The new project will also provide needed facilities for biological science studies.

The basement of the addition will have two laboratories, a culture room, stockroom, and constant temperature rooms. On the first floor will be a lecture room, a mushroom laboratory, a general and forest pathology laboratory, offices and other facilities. The second floor will contain a fungus herbarium, two classrooms, a general laboratory, and offices. On the third floor will be a general laboratory, a genetics and anatomy laboratory, rooms for graduate students and other facilities.

For the second time the Authority also called for bids on laboratory equipment for the proposed new Chemistry Laboratory building. Construction contracts have already been awarded for this building. All the previous bids were rejected because of exceeded allocations.

Green Rips 6 Faults In Mobilization

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor tonight outlined six things he said are wrong with the government's mobilization program and declared they could lead to the spread of Communism in the United States.

These were the major points in a speech, prepared for broadcast at 10:45 p.m., E.S.T., in which Green attempted to answer Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson's recent statement that he was puzzled about labor's demands.

Green said the six things at fault in the administration's program—the things which he described as causing labor's withdrawal—were:

Ceiga To Present Organ Recital Sun.

George E. Ceiga, assistant professor of music at the College, will present an organ recital at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Schwab auditorium.

The program will open with three numbers by Bach. They are Concerto IV; Adagio from Sonata III, and Fugue in G minor (The Lesser).

Fantasia by Saint-Saens will be followed by two numbers, Grandfather's Wooden Leg (Humoresque) and The Cat (She purrs—meows—takes a sip of milk—and goes to sleep) from Clokey's Fireside Fancies.

To close the recital, Mr. Ceiga has chosen two numbers from the works of Sowerby. They are Luise from the Meditations on Communion Hymn, and Pageant.

Eisenhower To Address Faculty On Tuesday

President Eisenhower will address members of the faculty Tuesday in the second of a projected series of periodical reports.

The President will speak in Schwab auditorium at 4:10 p.m. He made the first such report last November.

Mat Tournament To Start Today

Lion, State To Open Nominations Sunday

Both political parties, State and Lion, will open nominations for the All-College, senior, and junior class offices at their meetings Sunday night.

The Lion party will meet in 121 Sparks at 8 p.m.

The State party meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in 10 Sparks.

These meetings will be the last opportunity for students to attain membership in either party. In order to be a voting member of a party, a person must have attended at least two regular meetings. Sunday night must represent the second meeting for anyone who wishes membership.

Identification Needed

George Jeffries, membership chairman of the State party announced yesterday that those who have attended the required number of meetings must present identification at Sunday's meeting in order to get clique membership cards.

The Lion party meeting will hear a report by the platform committee, Clique Chairman Milton Bernstein said.

State Clique Chairman Murray Goldman will announce the appointments of the ward leader chairman, membership chairman, campaign chairman, publicity and public relations chairmen for the coming campaign on Sunday.

Announces Appointments

Bernstein announced Lion party appointments to the platform committee. Leonard Wargo and William Zakor will be the co-chairmen of this group.

William Clymer has been appointed to mens' public relations chairman and Joyce Baer is the new womens' public relations head, Bernstein said.

New Lion chairman of publicity will be David Weiner and the chairman of collections for the spring campaign is Joseph Lenchner.

Membership Chairmen

New appointees as co-membership chairmen are Joan Weiss and William Hirsch. Other positions will be filled in the near future.

The Lion clique chairman said that a fund-raising campaign is now underway through the selling of chances on bonds.

Few Attend Pep Rally For Matmen

Homer Barr, State wrestling captain, walked to the microphone, smiled at the small crowd that attended last night's pep rally, and asked simply, "Give us a prayer tomorrow, will ya?"

The crowd of approximately 100 persons that turned out for the rally on the steps of the West dorm dining hall made up for its small size by cheering and singing louder than many larger ones have in the past.

Wrestling coach Charlie Speidel told the crowd that the only advantage the team has is that the Eastern Intercollegiate wrestling matches are on a home floor, but that this is no advantage if they have to depend solely on this.

Asks Support

He emphasized the need of student support and asked them to "loyally support the team."

Speidel said that Lehigh may have more people at the matches than Penn State. 492 tickets had been bought by Lehigh students Tuesday.

He told how Lehigh once had so large a delegation of rooters at the Intercollegiate matches held at Yale that they stood up in unison and sang the Lehigh alma mater.

Disappointed

Donald Carlson, president of Androcles, junior men's hat society that sponsored the rally, expressed his disappointment at the small turn out and said, "I realize that the rally was spontaneous but those who attended certainly must have some feeling toward wrestling and the old Penn State spirit we hear so much about."

George Glazer, Daily Collegian wrestling writer, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the wrestlers and head manager, Herbert Axford.

Ludwig Names 5 To MI Committees

David Ludwig, president of the Mineral Industries student council, appointed committees for the spring semester at a meeting of the council on Tuesday night.

Named to the course evaluation committee were Paul Kilhefner, chairman; Robert Decker, and Samuel Sanders. On the Newsletter committee are Samuel Sanders, editor; Richard Young, business manager; and Richard Lemyre. The next issue of the Newsletter will appear on April 1.

The council also voted to send a letter to the legislature at Harrisburg urging the adopting of NSA's absentee voting petition.

Eliminations Will Begin At 1 p.m.

By GEORGE GLAZER

The 47th annual renewal of the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling association's championships will begin in Recreation hall this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The first round eliminations, pitting members of the 16 EIWA teams against each other, is the first of four sessions to determine individual and team champions. The tourney is worked on a single-loss elimination basis.

Penn State will probably be the favorite going into this afternoon's matches by virtue of its undefeated record, the only one possessed by any team entered in the tournament.

Here is the lineup for Penn State's undefeated wrestling team that will go into the first round of the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association tournament this afternoon. Individual season records are in parentheses.

- 123—John Reese (1-2-1)
- 130—Jack Dreibelbis (2-2)
- 137—Don Maurey (6-2)
- 147—Don Frey (8-0)
- 157—Bill Santel (7-1)
- 167—Joe Lemyre (7-1)
- 177—Mike Rubino (6-2)
- Hvywt.—Homer Barr (7-1)

The Lions, who have a season log of 8-0, will probably have to fight off Lehigh, Army and Rutgers in their bid for their first EIWA title since 1942. Lehigh, which fell to the Lions 22-6 in the season's opener, boasts a 9-1 record for the season, while Army, defeated by the Nittanians, 15-11, has a 5-3 record. Rutgers and Penn State have not met, but the Scarlet has an impressive 7-1 mark and was classed as a "dark horse" early in the tourney by Coach Charlie Speidel early in the season. Brown, (8-1), Cornell (6-4), and Syracuse, (3-4) defending EIWA titlist, are all considered contenders.

Fourteen of the matmen have unbeaten records. None of them are defending champions. Penn State captain Homer Barr, Rutgers' Emil Perona, Lehigh's George Feuerbach and Syracuse's Bob Gerbino, the only de-

Medical Dean Talks Tonight

Dr. William Kennedy, assistant dean of the University of Pennsylvania Medical school, will speak to members of the Pre-medical society tonight at 7 o'clock in 121 Sparks.

Dr. Kennedy will consider medical education and its preparation, admission policies, and the effects of the current military situation.

The lecture is open to anyone interested in hearing Dr. Kennedy's views on medical topics. A question period will follow the talk so that the audience may become acquainted with the speaker.

The Pre-medical society has arranged for various medical leaders to speak at the College. Dr. R. Horn, assistant dean of the University of Pittsburgh Medical school, will be the next speaker on May 2.

Tribunal Hears Two Cases Of Traffic Violation

The cases of two student parking violators were heard last night at a Tribunal meeting which was delayed an hour so that members and violators might attend the wrestling pep rally.

A fine of $1 for first offense was placed on a student who was called before Tribunal on a charge of having parked his car bearing dealers plates in the service drive of Pattee library. The student admitted having a parking permit for last semester which has since expired.

The second student was called on a similar count. He was charged with having parked a car in the library service drive, blocking the entrance of delivery trucks. He denied owning a car, and explained that his parents had recently visited the campus and had probably parked there. In view of the fact that the parents were ignorant of the parking laws, he was merely warned of future violations.

Tribunal Secretary Ted Sykes presided at the meeting in the absence of Chairman Neil Seg-
