

TODAY'S WEATHER:
CLOUDY AND COLDER.
POSSIBLE SNOW

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER
PENN STATE

VOL. 51 — No. 100

STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 13, 1951

PRICE FIVE CENTS

WRA-WSGA Hold Primary Elections

The WRA-WSGA election week begins today when the polls open for the primaries at 10 a.m. Final elections will be held Thursday.

Balloting will take place in Simmons, McElwain, McAllister, Women's building, and Atherton, and will continue until 7 p.m. Town residents and coeds living in the Nittany Co-Op may vote in any of the dormitories. Ballot boxes will also be placed in the home economics practice houses during one of the meal hours.

WRA presidential nominees are: Carolyn Barrett, Marilyn Williams, and Nancy Worthington. The names of Virginia Miller, and Mary Jane Woodrow, candidates for WSGA presidency, will not appear on the primary ballot. Votes will be cast for WSGA president in the final election only.

Vice-Presidency

Rita Keeney, Janice Robbins, Phyllis Szolack, Frances Stridinger, Meredith Williamson, Mary Ann Wertman, and Terese Moslak are running for WRA vice-presidency. WSGA nominees for vice-president are: Joyce Buchanan, Yvonne Carter, Mary Lou Elliot, Janet Herd, and Doris Sher.

The secretary-treasurer of WRA will be chosen from Olive Cochran, Barbara Wallace, and Betsy Anne Younkins.

Sophomores running for the intramural chairmanship of WRA are: Dorothy Rose, Isabelle Diefenderfer, Barbara Holzka, Mable Marple, Ann Broomall, and Joan Kronewetter.

Assistant Chairman

Patricia Colgan, Nancy Lusk, Nancy Maloy, and Ann Skapil are nominees for WRA assistant intramural chairman.

Coeds running for the senior senatorship of WSGA are: Lila Barnes, Esther Beck, Ruth Jean Diehl, Barbara Klopp, Nancy McClain, Grace Porello, Jane Steiber, and Mary Lou Transue.

Nine sophomores who will compete for the WSGA junior senatorship are: Donna Estabrook, Bernadine Fulton, Alice Gutherie, Joan Hutcheon, Virginia Poczanski, Ruth Schliecher, Joan Yerger, and Joanne Williams.

Joyce Gardiner, Ann Grieco, (continued on page eight)

A. F. Sends 50 Trainees To Campus

Fifty Air Force trainees will arrive at the College this week to begin a 12-week instructional program for Air Force clerks, typists, according to an announcement received from Wright-Patterson Air Force base.

Fifty additional trainees will arrive each week for the next 15 weeks.

The School of Education will conduct the program with Dr. James Gemmell, associate professor of business education and economics, in charge. A number of Air Force officers will be assigned here to manage military administrative matters.

President Milton S. Eisenhower said that the program is in keeping with the policy of offering the facilities of the College for service to the armed forces during the present emergency.

The enrollment peak will be reached by June 4 when there will be 600 trainees on campus for a period of three weeks. Enrollment will then taper off until the program ends in mid-September, according to present plans.

Beginning on March 19, instruction will be given in English, typing, filing, report writing, and military correspondence.

Nittany dorms will probably be used to house the trainees. No plans as to instructors or classrooms to be utilized by the group have been released.

Debators Take First In State Tournament At Temple University

See Picture Page Two

The College men's debate team won the state debating championship over the week-end by coming out on top in a field of 29 colleges at the state debate and forensic tournament at Temple university.

Another Penn State men's team tied for third standing in the Brooklyn college tourney, also held over the week-end. This team competed with 43 college teams from New England, New York, and Pennsylvania.

While the men were sweeping the state championship, two Penn State women were placing in the women's division of the state oratorical and extemporaneous speaking contests at Temple. Peggy Fahringer came in second in the oratorical contest, and Greta Weaver placed third in the extemporaneous speaking contest.

The same foursome which permanently won the Washington and Jefferson cup for the College last month, won another cup at the Temple tournament. The cup must be won three years in a row to become a permanent trophy.

Harry Kondourajian and David Lewis debated the affirmative and Marlin Brenner and Clair George debated the negative.

Highest Point Average

The affirmative and negative teams came out of the four elimination rounds with the highest point average of any team in the tournament. The affirmative team beat Pittsburgh, Slippery Rock state teachers, and Temple in the eliminations. It lost to Swarthmore. The negative team defeated La Salle, Mount Mercy women, and Allegheny, defending champions. It lost to Carnegie Tech.

Affirmative and negative teams from Penn State, Bucknell, Pennsylvania, and Temple were chosen to compete in the semi-finals. Penn State defeated Bucknell, and Penn defeated Temple to gain entrance in the finals which Penn State won.

Penn State's team defeated (continued on page eight)

Small Diploma Approved By LA Council

The Liberal Arts student council approved a resolution calling for a smaller and better grade of diploma last night.

Edward Shanken, council president, contrasted for the council diplomas he saw during a recent meeting with President Milton S. Eisenhower. The council approved the smaller size, leather bound diploma over the large type the College now is using.

The council also went on record instructing the secretary to send a letter to the state legislature supporting the absentee voting. A petition to that effect was circulated on campus by the National Student association, recently.

Murray Goldman, chairman of the committee working on a faculty course rating system, reported to the council. The system is expected to reveal the quality of instruction, attitude and objectives of the student, adequacy of the text, and organization of courses offered on campus.

Reports were also given by the Liberal Arts mixer committee. The mixer will be held tonight at the TUB. Entertainment, dancing, and refreshments are included on the program.

A constitutional amendment to limit the offices of president and secretary-treasurer to junior class members and vice-president to lower classes was shelved for a future meeting. The newly established activities file system was explained to the council.

State, Lion Nominations Are Made

By MARV KRASNANSKY and BUD FENTON

With James Worth getting the nod for the All-College presidency, State party leaders Sunday nominated a full nine-man slate for the April 18-19 elections.

Somewhat more cautious, Lion party members entered nominations for but three of the nine positions they will have to fill. Final nominations and election of candidates for both parties will be held Sunday.

Donald Carlson, vice-president of the junior class and president of Androcles, was nominated for the All-College presidency on the Lion ticket. Carlson, however, did not appear to have the support of the party leaders.

State Party Choices

Rounding out the All-College recommendations of the State party steering committee were (continued on page eight)

NSA Voting Petition Gains 4,564 Names

A final total of 4,564 names on the National Student association absentee voting petition was announced yesterday by David Fitzcharles, chairman of the voting committee.

Fitzcharles said that the group was still working on the plan to take the petition to Harrisburg, and that it would be delivered soon.

Campus organizations have been writing letters to certain legislators, and it is hoped that the petition, plus the letters, will exert a working influence on the assembly, he said.

Refute Charges

The council's representatives-at-large to the Association of Independent Men's board of governors refuted the charges that they had consistently voted against the council at the board meetings.

The council passed a motion making the representatives ex-officio members of the council, as was requested by Richard Bard, AIM president, at the meeting last week, when the question was first brought up.

James Dunlap, investigating the pickup and delivery of laundry (continued on page eight)

Carolyn Barrett

Marilyn Williams

Nancy Worthington

Laine, Moyer Promoted To Sr. Editorial Board

Dorothy Laine and Joyce Moyer have been promoted to the senior editorial board of the Daily Collegian with the position of librarians, the senior board announced yesterday.

Wrestlers Gain Title; Boxers Second In IBA

Albarano, Koszarek Win Individual Honors

By ART BENNING

The Nittany Lion boxers brought Penn State second place honors for the second straight year in the Intercollegiate Boxing association tournament at Charlottesville, Va. last weekend. Coming through with 16 points, the Lions were not able to thwart Syracuse's strong bid for repetition. The Orange amassed 22 points, with Virginia taking third place with 15.

In addition, the Lions came up with two Eastern champions and two runnersup. John Albarano, the Lion's bulwark at 145-lbs this season, danced, jabbed, and hooked his way through three bouts in two days to take the crown.

The other Nittany champion is larruping Lou Koszarek, who finished off Army's Lou Morin for the second time this year in the semi-finals, and then chased Catholic U's Bill Maher for three rounds in the finals, catching him just often enough to put the decision out of the doubtful class.

Runner-up honors among the Nittanians went to Frank Gross, 135-lbs., and Maria Santangelo, heavyweight. The 135-lb. class was definitely a two-man affair featuring Virginia's three-time Eastern champ, Grover "Bat" Masterson and the Lion's Frank Gross. Gross, who was decided by Masterson the week before, met the only man to defeat him this season once again in the EIBA finals.

For three rounds the two power punchers (Continued on page six)

Maurey, Rubino Lead Grapplers To Victory

By GEORGE GLAZER

Two individual champions, Don Maurey and Mike Rubino, and two second place finishers, captain Homer Barr and Don Frey, led the way for the Penn State wrestling team's first Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling association crown since 1942.

Joe Lemyre, 167-pounder, clinched the title for the Lions in the consolation matches of the 47th annual EIWA championships Saturday night in Rec hall when he defeated Army's Dean Mulder, 3-2, for third place in his class.

The Nittanians scored 28 points while second-place Lehigh copped 20 markers. Cornell, in third place, had 16, and Army finished fourth with 14.

Graveson Cops Trophy

Yale's George Graveson won the coaches' trophy, awarded annually to the outstanding wrestler of the tournament. Graveson decided Navy's Don Thomas for the 167-pound title.

Maurey, third-seeded, took a 6-4 decision in the 137-pound class from Columbia's Bob Hartman, who had been unbeaten in 13 previous matches. At the end of the third period, Hartman had tied the match at 4-4, but Maurey had two minutes time advantage and became the first Penn Stater to take a 1951 EIWA title.

Top seeded Don Frey, in 147, lost a 7-4 decision to Cornell's Frank Bettucci. It was a complete turnaround of the 2-1 decision that Frey took from (Continued on page six)