

Awards Committee To Honor Athletes

Thirty-nine members of the soccer, cross-country and wrestling teams will be given awards by the student body this semester. The money to pay for the awards was appropriated by All-College cabinet Thursday by a unanimous vote.

The three teams won championships during their seasons. The soccer and cross country teams are national champions and the wrestling team is eastern titleholder.

Oppose Plans

Mary Ellen Grube, co-chairman of the Awards committee, told cabinet that the committee's proposed plan to have the students honor outstanding faculty members was unfavorably received by the deans of most of the College's schools.

Miss Grube said the deans were leery of the plan although they were willing to cooperate with the committee.

Dean Ben Euwema of the Liberal Arts school, Miss Grube said, told her that he gives recognition to faculty by salary increases and promotions.

Program Dynamic

The committee co-chairman reported that Dean Grace Henderson of Home Economics thought the "whole program is dynamic" and that there were tremendous problems to overcome.

David Ludwig, chairman of the inter-council committee told cabinet that a composite open house with the Chemistry-Physics, Agriculture, Engineering, and Physical Education schools participating will be held May 12.

Ludwig, on behalf of the Orientation week committee, asked All-College president Robert Davis to appoint a new committee to be trained this spring to take over the orientation work in the fall. Davis appointed Howard Sprankle, Robert Fraser, Russell Peterman, Thomas Stegner, and Harry McFerran to the committee.

N. American Hostel Trips Available

Hosteling trips to Europe and parts of North America have been planned for this summer, according to Ben W. Miller, executive director of American Youth hostels.

If the international situation deems it impractical to visit the European countries, the number of trips in North America will be increased, Miller said.

Trips abroad include Italy, Greece, Yugoslavia, Israel, Britain, France, and Central Europe. An eight-week trip abroad will cost about $550. American trips start at $105.

Full information may be obtained from American Youth Hostels headquarters, 6 East 39th street, New York 16.

Part-Time Job Needs Increase

More and more students at the College are seeking part-time employment and are willing to tackle almost any job, according to Allan M. Reece, supervisor of student employment.

Among the reasons Reece lists for the large number of students seeking employment are a reduction in the number of students receiving government assistance under the GI Bill, increased financial pressure at home, and an increased drain on the students' pocketbook from day-to-day.

Reece also pointed out that there are some students seeking employment during the Spring recess, March 20-27, and could be employed on either a full-time or part-time basis.

Persons who are seeking assistance in such jobs as putting up screens, digging the garden, rolling the lawn, in general housecleaning, or the year-round job of baby-sitting are requested to call the Student Employment office.

Designing Prizes Awarded Students

Four students in the department of architecture have been awarded prizes in recent competitions, Prof. Milton S. Osborne, head of the department, said yesterday.

Harry Archinal, James Brust, and Jack Feagley won the fourth place prize of $100 for their entry in the national Better Rooms competition, conducted annually by the Chicago Tribune.

John Webb, a junior, won $25 for his drawing in a competition sponsored by the National Electric Sign association, and Frederick Carothers, a sophomore, was awarded an honorable mention for his design in the National Carpet Design competition.

Dr. Veon To Speak

Dr. Dorothy H. Veon, associate professor of business, will speak at the 54th annual convention of the Eastern Business Teachers association in Philadelphia, beginning Wednesday. Dr. Veon will speak on shorthand teaching procedures, techniques, and methodology on the college level.

Grupp Asks For Class Gift Ideas

Otto Grupp, chairman of the senior class gift committee, yesterday asked members of the class to submit ideas for the gift. Grupp said that the suggestions will be collected following Easter vacation.

Approximately $8000 is available for the gift.

To date the committee has seven gift suggestions, Grupp said. They are a grand piano for Schwab auditorium, a new curtain for Schwab, a piece of sculpture for the Student Union building, a contribution to the student press, a campus radio station, a scholarship fund, and an ambulance.

Prof To Address Faculty Members

Dr. Robin M. Williams Jr. of Cornell university, will speak on methods of forming a social science research council to faculty members of the College interested in such an organization, in 105 Forestry building at 4 p.m., Monday.

Dr. Williams is a member of the department of sociology at Cornell and directs the Social Science Research center there.

In announcing the meeting, Dr. M. E. John, professor of rural sociology, stressed that faculty members interested in such research, regardless of the department to which they are assigned, are invited to the session.

Other members of the steering committee are Dr. George L. Lefler, professor of finance; Dr. John H. Ferguson, professor of political science; Dr. Phillip S. Klein, professor of American history; and Dr. Jessie Bernard, professor of sociology.

Orner Color Slide Wins ATA Award

Russell M. Orner won the first annual color photo slide contest sponsored by Alpha Tau Alpha, agricultural education honorary, held Tuesday night in Plant Industries. His slide pictured Old Main.

One hundred twenty-five colored slides were entered in the show by students, and 25 were entered by the faculty, although they were not eligible for awards.

Orner received 100 slide binders as a prize. Rolls of colored film were awarded the runners-up, Joseph Hess, John King, J. H. McGahan, and Richard Thompson.

Judges for the contest were W. B. Mack, Professor of Horticulture; Robert Beese, School of Agriculture; and H. F. McFaeley, professor of agricultural economics.

'Anything Goes' Cast Announced

The cast of the Thespians' production of "Anything Goes," Cole Porter musical comedy to be presented in Schwab auditorium, April 5-7, has been announced.

The part of "Reni," originally played by Ethel Merman, will be portrayed by Pat Hale.

Edward Rolf will appear as "Billy," played by William Gaxton in the original production. Joseph Bird will play "Moon," done by Victor Moore in the Broadway version.

Nancy Thomas will play "Hope," and Thomas Lewis will be seen as "Sir Evelyn."

Others in the cast are Merrill Sporkin as the chief petty officer and Richard Brugger as the drunk.

Sets and costumes were designed by Carol Chapman. Raymond Fortunato is faculty director.

Dr. Seeley Elected Society President

Dr. John Seeley, professor of Floriculture, has been elected president of Pi Alpha Xi, honorary floriculture society.

Dr. Seeley was vice-president of the honorary last year. He succeeds Dr. O. W. Davis of Rutgers.

Members of the College's Gamma chapter who attended the meeting were Paul Waitkus and Daniel Egolf. This is the first year coeds will be permitted to join the organization.

Farm Safety Institute Held

Farm safety problems can be solved if farm families and workers understand the necessity and have the will to practice safety measures, President Milton S. Eisenhower told the first annual Pennsylvania Farm Safety institute at the College Wednesday.

The Pennsylvania Farm Safety council and Agricultural Engineering department of the College sponsored the institute.

Harrison Nolt, chairman of the State Farm Safety council, and Ralph U. Blasingame, head of the Agricultural Engineering department, presided at the sessions.

Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the School of Agriculture, urged expansion of farm safety education.

The institute started to organize a farm safety committee in each Pennsylvania county and in each state or local farm organization, so that a statewide rural education program might operate in the saving of lives through prevention of accidents on the farm and in the home.

H. C. Fetterolf, chief of agricultural education, State Department of Public Instruction, praised the skill of farm youths in operating new farm machinery, but feared the accident rate might increase when they go into military service and are replaced by older workers.

Student Co-op University of California at Los Angeles Los Angeles, California

In Los Angeles, California, a favorite gathering spot of students at the University of California at Los Angeles is the Student Co-op because it is a cheerful place—full of friendly university atmosphere. And when the gang gathers around, ice-cold Coca-Cola gets the call. For here, as in college haunts everywhere—Coke belongs.

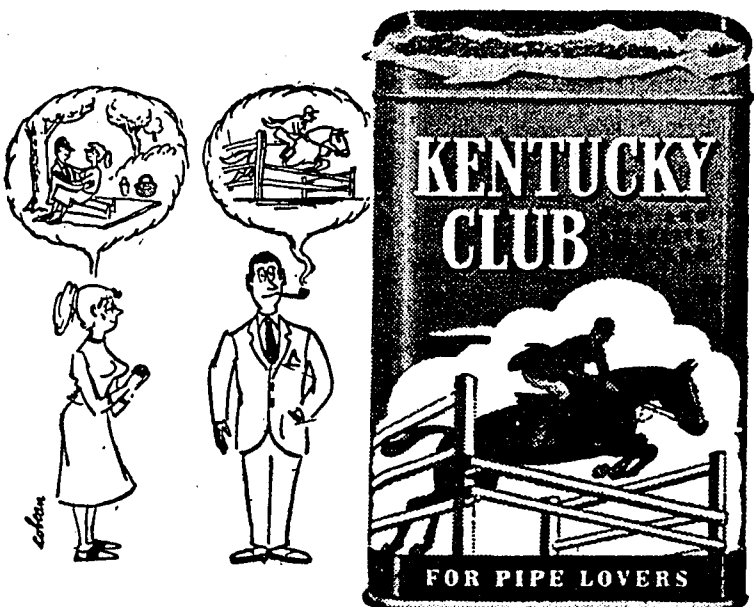

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.
