Forestry Ball Sweetheart To Be Crowned Tonight

The crowning of a sweetheart will be the highlight of the Forestry ball which will begin at 9 tonight in Recreation hall.

The finalists are Cassandra Caraway, sophomore from Bethlehem, sponsored by Alpha Zeta fraternity; Hope Jeffries, music education freshman from State College, sponsored by Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity; and Claudia King, sophomore from Punxsutawney, sponsored by the Waiters of Atherton Hall.

The finalists were chosen from photographs of all contestants by the faculty of the Penn State Forest school at Mont Alto.

Lyman Jackson, dean of the School of Agriculture, is chairman of the committee which will choose the sweetheart.

Other judges include W. E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, and N. A. Norton, professor of Wood Utility.

Dean Jackson will also present the finalists with prizes and flowers donated by Woodring's floral gardens.

Darrell Rishel's orchestra will provide music for the semi-formal dance. Paul Bunyan, the American legendary woodsman will be at the dance, but the foresters won't tell anymore about him.

Tickets for the ball are on sale for $2 at the Student Union desk in Old Main, at the Forestry building and will be sold tonight at the door. The dance is open to all students.

Kelly Green Might Bring On Spring

St. Patrick's day, we hope, will herald the approach of spring. At any rate the Irish will sprout their shamrocks and Kelly green socks, sweaters, and other apparel to honor their patron saint. In New York city the yearly St. Patrick's day parade will march down Fifth avenue.

Coincidental or not, students can also celebrate in a more-than-usual-Saturday night date. The Forestry ball offers dancing from 9 to 12.

Though St. Patrick and Ireland are synonymous today, his birthplace has never been definitely established. Probable locations are Scotland, England, or France.

His life was adventurous. At 16 he was captured by pirates and spent six years in slavery. During this time he became a devoted Christian. He escaped to France and later returned to Ireland where he founded 300 churches.

May Day Program Set For May 12

At a meeting of the WSGA House of Representatives last night, the May Day ceremonies were set for 2 p.m., May 2, while the teas and open houses will be held from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Nominations for May queen and the maid-of-honor will be held during house meetings in the women's dormitories on Thursday, March 29. At these meetings, members of each dorm unit will elect one girl to represent them. Then at a primary election three senior finalist will be chosen. In the final elections a queen, maid-of-honor, two senior and freshmen attendants will be selected.

It was also decided that freshmen will receive a 12 and a 1 o'clock alternate for the IFC Ball weekend April 6 or 7, while upperclasswomen will have a 2 o'clock for the dance and a one o'clock for Saturday night.

A permanent publicity committee was also discussed at the meeting.
