

Crazy Characters In 'Anything Goes'

By LEE STERN

Quite a large assortment of odd characters will take the stage of Schwab auditorium tomorrow, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon when "Anything Goes" is presented.

Included in the plot of the Thespian show are such varied individuals as a night-club entertainer and her troupe, a blustery society woman and her daughter, a member of the British nobility, America's public enemy number 13, and a handsome young stowaway on a luxury liner.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Cole Porter musical comedy are on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main. Prices are 90 cents for tomorrow night and $1.20 for the Friday and Saturday performances.

The story concerns a group of persons who meet and become entangled with one another on a luxury liner sailing from New York to London.

Pat Hale will be seen in the role of Reno Sweeney, the night-club entertainer who is "not famous, but notorious." Reno was originally played on Broadway by Ethel Merman.

Rolf Is Stowaway

Ed Rolf will play Billy Crocker, the urbane young stowaway. William Gaxton created this role on Broadway.

The part of Hope Harcourt, level-headed young society woman, will be played by Nancy Lou Thomas.

Joe Bird will play the bashful, soft-spoken criminal listed in government files as public enemy number 13. Victor Moore was seen in this role in the original production.

Tom Lewis will portray Sir Evelyn Oakleigh, British nobleman engaged to Hope.

Marsteller Is Mother

Pat Marsteller will play Mrs. Wadsworth T. Harcourt, blustery mother of Hope.

Stan Myers will be seen as Elisha J. Whitney, Billy Crocker's boss; Merrill Sporkin will play the purser; Isabelle Cooper will portray Bonnie LeTour, a gun moll; and Jack Schwering will be seen as the captain.

Dialogue Directors

Dialogue directors are Fred Leuschner and Nicholas Morkides. Ray Fortunato is production director.

Choreography is by Harry Woolver, who was assisted by Jeanne Wiener. The dance numbers will feature Mike Claysmith, Pat Bowles, and Woolever.

Arrangements for the orchestra are by Elmer C. "Skip" Wareham. Don Smith will conduct.

Settings are by Carol Chapman and Joel Kranich.

15 Sign Up For Journey To Washington

Fifteen students have signed up so far to go to Washington this Sunday under the "Meet Your Government" seminar being sponsored by the Penn State Christian association in cooperation with the Department of Political Science and the Department of Education.

Reservations may be made until 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the PSCA office, 130 Sparks, or 108 Burrows. A deposit of $5 is required.

While in Washington, students will have an opportunity to sit in on sessions of the Senate and House of Representatives, to interview senators and congressmen, and to visit specialized departments, such as the Supreme court, the State department, the Mediation and Conciliation board, UNESCO, and the Pan American union.

Named Chief

Dr. F. F. Lininger

Dr. Lininger To Head UN Group

Dr. F. F. Lininger, vice-dean of the School of Agriculture and director of the Agricultural Experiment station at the College, has been named chief of the newly organized Agricultural Institutions and Services branch, Food and Agriculture organization of the United Nations.

To accept the position, Dr. Lininger has been granted a leave of absence by the College from July 1, 1951 to June 30, 1952. His headquarters will be in Rome, Italy.

The new division under Dr. Lininger's direction will assist any of the 66 member nations of the FAO in channelling information, discovered through research, to the soil farmer. Two years ago he served with the FAO in China.

Other Leaves Granted

Several other leaves of absence were granted by the executive committee of the college board of trustees at its meeting last weekend.

Dr. Merit Scott and Dr. Marsh W. White, professors of physics, are on leave this semester. Both professors are working on national defense.

Philip K. Roos, associate professor of engineering mechanics, was granted a one-year leave effective last Feb. 1. He is conducting research for the Navy.

Sutherland Granted Leave

Dr. A. Bruce Sutherland, professor of English literature, was granted a one-year leave effective July 1 to study Australian literature in that country under the Fulbright fellowship.

Leaves of absence were also approved for Louis A. Richardson, professor of architectural engineering, for the spring semester of 1952, and Harry H. Kauffman, professor of poultry husbandry extension, from April 16 to October 15.

Dr. Rose Cologne, specialist in adult community education, now in Japan, has had her leave extended to May 27.

5 Attend Meeting

Five members of the College's business education staff recently attended meetings of the Eastern Business Teachers association, Philadelphia.

They were: Dr. James Gemmell, Dr. Dorothy Veon, Margaret R. Swartz, Elizabeth M. Miller, and Mary Stella.

Cvetic Says No War This Year

Russia will not attempt a war with the United States this year because of their fear of the atom bomb and the large productive power of America, Mathew Cvetic, undercover agent for the FBI, told State College Kiwanis and Lions Club Monday.

Cvetic was a member of the Communist party in Pittsburgh for nine years at the request of the FBI. He became a top organizer for the party and testified before Judge Harold R. Medina at the trial of the 11 Communist leaders in New York.

Soviets Fear Neighbors

The Soviets, Cvetic said, fear not only their own political prisoners but also the Atlantic Pact nations to the west, Turkey and Greece to the south, and Finland to the north.

"The Russians," he said, "want to steal the world, but they aren't ready to die for it at this time."

He warned against United States appeasement in relations with the Russians.

'Must Face Menace'

"We must," Cvetic went on, "face the menace of communism without fear and hysteria in order to conquer its threat in the United States."

He declared that communists should be arrested and brought to fair trial in order to destroy their power in this country.

Klothing Group Gets 250 Items For Koreans

Over 250 items of clothing have been collected and sorted by the Korean Klothing Campaign committee thus far, Rachel Witherow, co-chairman, announced yesterday.

These include 160 items of women's clothing, 75 items of men's clothing and 15 of children's clothing, as well as 20 pairs of shoes.

April 15 has been set as the closing date for the drive on campus.

The committee for the drive will meet Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Westminster foundation. Miss Witherow and David Kincaid, also co-chairman, have asked all churches who are members of Inter-Church Student fellowship, sponsors of the drive, to appoint members to serve on this committee if they have not already done so.

State And Lion Parties Release Platform Texts

Lion Party

The Lion party, in the interest of student welfare and good student government, pledges its support to the following six point program:

1. To assist the appointed administration committee in its investigation of the high cost of textbooks, and to formulate a solution alleviating this problem.
2. To give recognition to senior women and sophomore men, outstanding in their service to Penn State in general extra-curricular work, by urging that the Hat Society council take action to recognize their achievements.

Mailing Facilities

3. To provide the students in the women's dormitories and the West dorm area with mailing facilities for laundry cases in those respective living units.

4. To continue work towards a permanent campus radio station by supporting the present Campus Radio committee in its work, and informing the student body of the committee's progress.

5. To obtain a half holiday for the students on the Saturday of Spring Week-end.

6. To improve the present graduation exercises by supporting the work of the existing committee towards that final goal.

State Party

In the past few years, political platforms at Penn State have been open to serious question. Promises have been made, and not fulfilled. The State party is very aware of this situation and realizes that the only way to win and remain in office is to make sincere promises and if elected, to carry them out. Thus our first pledge—

1. To fully investigate and take all steps to satisfy the student needs listed below.

2. To make positive by passage of law that there will be no more student assessments without giving every student the right to cast a ballot through the referendum system, and thereby express his opinion on such assessments.

Coed Ruling

3. To allow to every coed the right to appear before the Women's Judicial before decisions are handed down in every case—major or minor—that falls under the jurisdiction of that body.

4. To give the sophomore class its long past due representation on the Tribunal.

5. To re-examine the question of building sorority houses on campus in view of the recent renewal of interest on that subject.

President's Box

6. To secure the erection of a President's box in the student section of New Beaver field so that the President might at his convenience be seated with the student body.

7. To set up a student committee on the expense of books to work in conjunction with the administration's committee, in order to have the student body's interest fully represented.

Four Faculty Members Participate In Meetings

Dr. William N. Leonard, head of the Department of Economics and Commerce, and three members of the faculty participated in meetings of the Trade Management federation in New Haven, Conn., last week.

He spoke on the current transportation problem and its effect on the cost of distribution. Prof. C. J. Rowland discussed current and prospective tax legislation.

Charles Stonier professor of economics, led a panel discussion on traffic management problems, and F. E. Wright discussed how business can save money through proper insurance policies.

DeMolay Club Meets

The DeMolay club will hold its second meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Chi Phi house.

The agenda includes constitutional adoption, election of officers, and plans for social functions. The meeting is open to all DeMolays and their friends.

Draft Clarity Stops Survey

Interfraternity council has dropped its survey of the student enrollment problem and how it will affect fraternities Harold Leinbach, IFC president, said yesterday.

Leinbach said President Truman's draft announcement had clarified the situation for many fraternities. Most of the replies to the letter sent to all fraternities asking how the manpower situation had affected the houses were optimistic, according to Leinbach.

He said that candidates nominated for IFC offices would be introduced at the IFC meeting tonight at 7:15 o'clock in 303 Willard hall. Nominations may be turned in at the Student Union desk in Old Main till next Wednesday, Leinbach said.

He added that short speeches will be made by the candidates tonight. Also on the agenda, will be consideration of the College blood donation drive, Leinbach said.

'Independent' To Sport Its First Photograph

A photograph will appear in the Independent for the first time when the third issue of the paper for this semester will be distributed tomorrow, Moylan Mills, editor, announced yesterday.

Mills said the issue would be five pages instead of the usual four pages. Also featured in the issue are a poll of independent reaction to the loyalty oath measure proposed by the State Senate and the annual evaluation of the national baseball situation, Mills said.

Samuel Rineer, Charles Mathues, and Andrew McNeillie have been added to the staff, Mills announced.
