

East Area Gets Laundry Aids

Nittany-Pollock area residents are now apparently certain to receive washing and ironing equipment, according to a report presented to Nittany dorm council Monday night.

Michael Hanek told the council that plumbing work for the washing machines will be completed in a few days in the north wing of the Pollock Union building. He said, however, that Russell E. Clark, director of housing, could give no definite prediction as to when the machines would be delivered because of a shortage in the type of equipment the College wishes to obtain.

Ironing Boards Installed
Six ironing boards have already been obtained and have been installed in the PUB, Hanek said. He added that after the washing machines are installed, irons will be available through the Student Union clerk in the PUB.

The obtaining of washing machines has been a major project of Nittany council since early in the year.

The council also heard the first reading of proposed changes in the constitution of the Association of Independent Men.

Changes Read
The proposed changes, read by Richard Mills, secretary of AIM board of governors, must be presented at two consecutive meetings of each member council, approved by three of the four councils, and approved by a two-thirds vote of the AIM board of governors.

The changes are aimed at correcting certain provisions in the constitution to bring it in line with present conditions and at clarifying certain points not contained in the original document drawn up last year.

William Cole reported that an exchange dinner planned by the Barons has been canceled. The dinner was to have taken place this Sunday with Simmons hall. Cole said that another exchange dinner for area men will be scheduled in a few weeks.

Cole also reported that three musical groups have been signed to play for "Dimensions in Music," a semi-formal dance to be held in Recreation hall April 21 and sponsored by Nittany and Pollock councils in conjunction with Leonides.

The bands of Gene Magill, the Polka Kings, and Darrell Rishel will provide continuous music.

Henry Pitt of the Barons and Barbara Reese of Leonides have been named co-chairmen for the dance, Cole said.

John Laubach, council president, named Robert Faust and David Hollenback to meet with Dean of Men H. K. Wilson to learn the College's plans in handling housing next fall.

Laubach also appointed Daniel Fagan to a committee that will meet with West dorm officials to schedule the dinner music being used in the West dorms for the Nittany dining commons.

Deadline Extended For Counselors

The deadline for acceptance of applications for positions as fall Orientation week counselors has been extended until the end of the week, Daniel A. DeMarino, assistant dean of men, said yesterday.

DeMarino said that only 85 applications had been received, and he and his committee felt that they would need quite a few more before selections could be made.

DeMarino pointed out that all students who signed up for the program "would be doing a service to the College and to the new students." He said that too many students feel "a little lost" when they first come to the campus, and that the counselors could help them with their problems.

All students who take part in the program will be reimbursed for their room and board for that week.

AIM Houseparty To Be Held Sat.

The AIM houseparty will be held this coming Saturday from 9 o'clock till midnight in the main lounge of the West dorms. Artist and Melody, the AIM orchestra directed by Ray Evert, will play. Admission to the dance is free.

Dick Mills, chairman of the social committee of AIM has appointed Wes Tomlinson and Robert Greathead co-chairmen for the dance.

George Peters has been appointed publicity chairman, replacing Robert Huline who has resigned. Others on the publicity committee are: Don Deithorn, Bud Flemming, Joe Ondrejko, Ronald Steif, Harold Garretson, and Stanley Zimmerman.

Trustees Okay Scholarship, Poultry Award

The William and Edward Powers Poultry club award and the Edith Pitt Chace scholarship were approved by the executive committee of the board of trustees last weekend.

Powers Poultry club award, to be presented annually to a junior or senior enrolled in the poultry husbandry curriculum, amounts to $25. It will be supported from funds to be provided by the William H. Powers family, of State College, and the Penn State Poultry club.

The award honors the late William and Edward Powers, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Powers. William was a junior in the poultry husbandry curriculum at the time of his death.

The Edith Pitt Chace scholarship, to be awarded to a senior man or woman in the School of Home Economics who has shown unusually good citizenship and professional interest in home economics, also amounts to $25.

The recipient will be selected by the scholarship committee of the school in cooperation with a member of the Penn State Home Economics Alumni association and will be presented at the annual spring meeting of the association in April.
