Newman To Give Recital In Schwab

A piano recital will be presented by Dr. William S. Newman at 8 o'clock Monday evening in Schwab auditorium.

The recital, jointly sponsored by the Department of Music, the Association of American colleges, and the Graduate school, will be open to the public at no charge.

He has won numerous awards, including a Carnegie Research grant to enable him to publish "A History of the Sonata Idea" in 1948. He has also had many articles published including a new book, "A Critical Edition of Thirteen Keyboard Sonatas of the 18th and 19th Centuries."

Dr. Newman has taught at Western Reserve university, Bannington college and has served on the summer faculty of Columbia university for several years. At the present time, he is a member of the faculty of the Graduate school of the University of North Carolina.

The program Monday will begin with "Præcludium and Fuga in E Minor, Op. 35, No. 1," by Mendelssohn and "Sonata in C Major, Allegro, Adagio, Allegro Molto," by Haydn.

Finals Action—

(Continued from page one) posal as complicated and with so many phases to be investigated cannot be fully considered in only two meetings," the statement said.

Committee Refused Plan

Brenner and Erickson also charged that the committee refused to examine any specific plan for finals elimination, but would work only on the basis of Brenner's letter to the senate.

This letter set forth reasons for finals elimination and requested senate consideration of the matter.

"At the last meeting, only six days before the senate meeting, we learned that the committee would not investigate or even discuss the merits of the specific plan as stated by the student representatives," they said.

The committee suggested that a second proposal, including the specific plan, be submitted to the senate. Brenner and Erickson said they considered this "completely unnecessary."

They reported that the committee refused to consider scheduling problems for the abbreviated time available for senior finals. The committee claimed that these problems were under another committee's jurisdiction.

NATIONAL ARROW WEEK

celebrating Arrow's 100 Years of style leadership

Campus life has certainly changed these past 100 years. Back in 1851 there were only 160 colleges in the entire country. Today, there are 1,849. No Rose Bowl game at the end of the football season in those days. No football season as a matter of fact. Open surreys were standard equipment of college Romeos—there wasn't a cream-colored convertible on the landscape. It was then, a century ago, that Arrow started manufacturing their famous collars ... and in a few years they were setting campus styles. That's one thing that hasn't changed. Arrow is still style leader on America's campuses. College men everywhere know that the Arrow label always stands for smart styles, fine fabrics, meticulous tailoring ... the superior quality that reflects good taste.
