

GOP Gives Support To UMT In House

WASHINGTON, April 6—(P)—The combination Draft-Universal Military Training bill got some Republican support today as the House ended its general debate on the controversial measure.

UN Must Keep Up Fight—Lie

LAKE SUCCESS, April 6 (AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie said today the U.N. must fight with all the force it can safely commit in Korea until the other side signals it is willing to negotiate for a cease-fire. He said also he does not now expect a third world war, though it will take time to restore calm.

The top secretariat official shied away at his news conference from the storm over statements by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, U.N. commander in the Far East. He said any questions relating to MacArthur should be addressed to the unified command (actually the United States government), to which MacArthur is responsible.

He refused to say whether U.N. forces should cross the 38th parallel, but insisted the U.N. aim is a unified and independent Korea.

"There has been no sign for many weeks that the North Koreans or those supporting them (Communist China and, some delegates charge, the Soviet Union) are willing to open negotiations for a cease-fire," Lie said in a prepared statement.

Rep. Cole of New York, a leading Republican on the House Armed Services committee, said: "The foreseeable future offers no reasonable expectation that times will remove the need for a strong military establishment to protect this country."

And Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.), another committee member, argued with those who say the bill, if passed, will be a step toward militarizing the country.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Gavin said.

On the other hand, Rep. Shafer (R-Mich.), who also is a member of the committee, said there's only one reason why the UMT question is before the House now.

Shafer said: "Gen. George C. Marshall, secretary of Defense, has decided that now is the strategically proper D-day for establishing a firm beachhead in the U.S. for his brand—and the Pentagon's brand—of permanent universal military training and national service."

Debate—

"Resolved: That the non-Communist nations should form a new international organization."

Six Debate Rounds
Six rounds of debate were scheduled. The last two rounds will be held this morning at 9 and 10:30 o'clock. The first four rounds were debated yesterday.

Tournament headquarters is 10 Sparks and all information may be obtained there.

J. F. O'Brien, men's debate coach, is chairman of the tournament. His assistants are faculty members from other participating schools. O'Brien is chairman of the District VII committee.

Brenner, also debate manager, said yesterday that this tournament is the biggest and most representative tournament ever held in District VII. He said the debates are open to the public.

The Red retreat was made on a 17-mile sector north of Uijongbu, but how far it had gone was not disclosed.

The sudden disappearance of the Chinese north of Uijongbu surprised front line troops who had spent the preceding two days doggedly digging the Reds out of defensive positions only four miles north of the 38th parallel.

Observers agreed the withdrawal may have been ordered for one of two reasons:

1. The Chinese Communists may be badly hurt and forced to regroup or
2. The Reds might be baiting a trap, set to touch off a mighty spring counter-drive.

A force of 280,000 Chinese still was deployed north of the 38th parallel in a sector loosely embracing the Hwachon-Kumhwa-Chorwon triangle.

Hwachon, eight miles north of the old political boundary, was the immediate objective of advancing U.N. troops.

Field dispatches said the advance on Hwachon moved ahead slowly but thoroughly. The Reds were being destroyed or forced to yield ground.

Coed Debaters To Start Tour

Three women from the College debate team will leave tomorrow on a debate tour of four men's colleges, Princeton, Rutgers, Lehigh, and Lafayette.

Yvonne Carter, Janet Horger, and Peggy Crooks will compete with the men in one non-decision debate a day beginning Monday.

Lois Pulver, women's debate manager, said Penn State women were the only female group to debate Princeton. They have been meeting Princeton since 1936, Miss Pulver said.

She said the women will have their picture taken at Rutgers for the Report From Rutgers magazine. Miss Pulver added that the magazine would also include a feature story on the team.

Topic for the debates will be the national intercollegiate debate question, "Resolved: That the non-Communist nations should form a new international organization."
