

Baltzell Elected May Queen; Robertson Is Maid Of Honor

Martha Baltzell will reign as queen of the May Day festivities as a result of yesterday's election. Louise Robertson was selected maid of honor.

The queen will have Sally Sechler and Charlotte Stine as senior attendants. Phoebe Erickson and Juliana Fees will be the freshman attendants. Miss Sechler and Miss Stine were runners-up for May Queen. Miss Erickson and Miss Fees ran for maid of honor. The queen will be crowned on May 12 at 3:30 o'clock on the front campus.

When Miss Baltzell learned she had been selected by the women students for May Queen, she exclaimed, "I just can't believe it's true." She is a blonde home economics major and a belle candidate for La Vie. The blue-eyed queen is a member of the College symphony orchestra, the Home Ec club, and the Ski club. Her major interests are in sports, of which she prefers swimming, tennis, and golf. Aside from these, she likes dancing and sewing. She spent her freshman year at Indiana State Teachers college.

Maid of Honor

Louise Robertson, the newly-elected maid of honor, came to State in February after spending her first semester at Albright college. She is in the School of Liberal Arts and expects to go into merchandising.

In spite of being elected from nine finalists to represent her town on the Be-Teen fashion board last year, Miss Robertson flashed her quick broad smile and confided that she was "speechless" when she found she was a candidate for maid of honor.

Honor Arch Named

Twenty outstanding seniors were elected to the Honor Arch by WSGA. These girls include Ruth Aaron, Eileen Bonner, Audrey Brua, Gay Brunner, Rose Eifert, Joanne Esterley, Sally Greenberger, Nancy George, Sue Halberin, and Betty Lou Jones.

A special committee selects the remainder of the Queen's court. The coeds they pick will be sophomore and junior attendants, freshmen jesters, and sophomore heralds. The committee will announce their choices today.

Stine Was Dairy Queen

Charlotte Stine, a senior attendant, is a dark-eyed brunette and an eighth semester Home Ec major from Hershey, Pa. She has been Pennsylvania dairy queen for the past three years, and last year reigned over the Dairy Exposition here.

Sally Sechler, the other senior attendant, is an eighth semester senior in art education. She was elected to three courts at Edinboro State Teachers college, and also chosen one of four belles of the Edinboro yearbook.
