

Quill Girl To Be Named At Annual Matrix Dinner

Announcement of the 1951 Quill girl will highlight the annual Matrix Table, sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary, to be held Monday at the Nittany Lion inn.

Voting Tuesday and Wednesday decided who would win the title and be honored at the Matrix Table. Candidates were Barbara Sprenkle, president of WSGA; Mary Ellen Grube, president of WRA; and Janet Rosen, president of Mortar Board. Presidents of WSGA, WRA and Mortar Board are the only persons eligible for the award.

Miss Sprenkle, a senior in the School of Home Economics, is a member of Omicron Nu and Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honoraries, and Mortar Board.

Rosen's Activities

Miss Rosen is a member of Psi Chi, psychology honorary, and Pi Lambda Theta, women's education fraternity. She is a feature editor of the Collegian and on senior board of La Vie.

Miss Grube is assistant editor of Chimes national magazine and treasurer of Mortar board.

Matrix girl and Cap girl will also be named at the dinner. The former title is given to the woman who has served the College without previous recognition in Chimes, Cwens or Mortar board. The title of Cap girl is given to the woman who has had the most varied amount of activities. Both Cap and Matrix girls are chosen by members of Theta Sigma Phi.

Craig To Speak

May Craig, noted Washington correspondent and writer for the Guy Gannett newspaper chain in Maine, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Craig was decorated during the war for her service as a correspondent. She covered the Normandy campaign, the liberation of Paris, and the German campaign.

In 1947 Mrs. Craig spent four months in Germany studying occupation conditions. She made a special study of displaced persons' camps in Austria.

She has been chosen more frequently than any other woman correspondent to appear on the radio and television program "Meet the Press." Mrs. Craig is the only woman ever to serve on the standing committee of correspondents who govern the press galleries of Congress. The University of Maine has awarded her an honorary degree of doctor of humane letters.

150 Invited

Invitations to the dinner, sent to 150 outstanding women on campus, must be answered before noon today at Student union.

Theta Sigma Phi first sponsored the Matrix Table in 1937. Norma Gleghorn, president, will preside.

Mrs. Milton Eisenhower will be among the guests.

Engagements

Greenawalt-Christensen

Mr. and Mrs. John Christensen of Long Island, N.Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mardi, to Richard B. Greenawalt, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Greenawalt of New Cumberland, Pa.

Miss Christensen is a senior in the school of journalism and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Mr. Greenawalt graduated from the school of Industrial Engineering in 1948 and was a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. He is now with U.S. Steel in Pittsburgh.

Sigma Chis To Give Library Face Lifting

The grounds surrounding the Bellefonte library are going to get a mighty fine face-lifting today when 15 of the Sigma Chi pledges show up to do a job of amateur landscaping.

As a civic project for the fraternity and in co-ordination with hell-week duties, the pledges will clean up the lawn area, trim the bushes, and move the stones on the property to form a wall.

Angling Pays In This Course

Angling for good marks and fishing for passing grades are typical student endeavors in any college course. But there is one class at the College where the art and science of successful angling is practically applied.

"Principles and Techniques of Angling" is taught by George Harvey as a part of the physical education curriculum. A graduate of Penn State, Harvey worked for 15 years to get the course established.

Today there are five trout fishing classes containing 20 students each. In addition, field classes organized by the College Extension service instruct another 500. The course covers the making of trout lures and the subject of trout behavior. The students receive practical experience during "lab" periods at one of Pennsylvania's trout streams.

Any man or woman, Harvey says, who enjoys some form of recreation, such as trout fishing, will live a happier and more fruitful life.

Societies Elect New Officers

Pi Lambda Theta, women's national education honorary, recently elected officers for next year.

Nancy Saylor was elected president; Jeannine Bell, vice-president; Barbara Waska, corresponding secretary; Roberta Reiss, treasurer; Anna Bess Buchannon, member at large; and Lois Blum, keeper of records.

Plans were also made for a social to be held May first for all sophomore women who are in education.

Gay Brunner is chairman for the program. Other committee heads are Eleanor Griffith, invitations; and Jeannine Bell, refreshments.

Installation ceremonies will be held May 1 for the newly elected officers.

Omicron Nu, women's home economics honorary initiated its pledges and elected officers Tuesday night in the Home Dining room of the Home Economics building.

The new officers are president, Robin Brunner; vice-president, Eleanor Miller; secretary, Elaine Notari; treasurer, Nancy Ferguson; and editor, Vivian Hartenbach.

The new members are Margaret Rouse, Virginia Lee Diver, Ida Mae Brandt, Mary Lou Larpen-teur, and Marianne Brozier, seniors; Joanne Straley, Miss Notari, Nancy Lea Saylor, Miss Hartenbach, Emma Jean Way, Betty Beam, Miss Ferguson, Ann Walker, Miss Miller, Betty Lou Dahlinger, Sara Youngs, and Miss Brunner, juniors; and Aileen Kornhauser and Lilla Cortwright, graduates.

New officers of the Penn State Geographical society are, William Stockdale, president; Edward Huggler, vice-president; Byron Rineheimer, secretary; Walter Powell, treasurer; and Roy Benenotto, social committee chairman. Faculty advisor is Dr. Allan Rodgers.

AIM Sponsors Starlight Dance

The Association of Independent Men will sponsor its first starlight dance of the year from 9 o'clock to midnight tonight in front of Old Main.

Ray Evert and his Artists in Melody will provide music. The dance is free. If the weather is bad the affair will be held at the TUB at the same time.

AIM revived the tradition of starlight dances last year. Richard Mills, social chairman, said last year's dance was so successful that two starlight dances were scheduled for this spring. The second dance will be held during Spring week.

Also on the social committee are Robert Greathead, William Cole, Paul Zanoni, and Weston Tomlinson. George Peters is in charge of publicity for the dance.

Hotel Greeters Club Plans Belle Hop Ball

At the Junior Hotel Greeters club meeting held last Tuesday, plans were discussed for the Belle Hop ball to be held next year. Plans were also coordinated for a dinner to be held at the Eutaw house, and a week-end trip to Pittsburgh or Philadelphia.

Matrix Tickets On Sale

Women intending to accept Matrix dinner invitations must pay for dinner tickets at the Student Union desk before noon today, according to Norma Gleghorn, president of Theta Sigma Phi, which is sponsoring the dinner.

Co-Edits

Pi Kappa Alpha

Marilyn Stewart, of Goucher college, was chosen "Dream Girl" at the annual Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl dance held last Saturday night at the Nittany Lion inn. She was selected by varsity coaches at the College.

Collegian incorrectly reported yesterday that Marilyn J. Franklin had been chosen.

Alpha Chi Rho

Alpha Chi Rho fraternity recently elected the following officers: Thomas Hanna, president; James Brasher, vice president; Warren Dodge, secretary; Eusebio Lavin, treasurer; Lloyd Warn-eka, ritual officer; George Lott, chaplain; and Henry Gracey, sentinel.

Raymond Rachkowski was appointed social chairman; Donald Felker, rushing chairman; Chris Tonery, athletic chairman; George Davis, scholarship chairman; and Ronald Oschmann, library chairman.

Delta Delta Delta

Fifty Air Force men were entertained Thursday night by Delta Delta Delta sorority. A skit with variety acts was presented. Refreshments and dancing followed.

Recently elected officers of the sorority are, Lila Barnes, president; Greta Weaver, vice-president; Constance Cranmer, treasurer; Roberta Claycomb, secretary; Rosemary Scott, marshal; Joan Davies, social chairman; Ruth Jean Diehl, chaplain; and Patricia Rowland, rushing chairman.

Eight Acts Listed For Stunt Night At Hillel Tomorrow

Tomorrow night will be Stunt night at the Hillel foundation. The program will feature skits, acts and musical numbers produced by various fraternity, sorority and independent groups. Cups will be awarded to the first and second prize winners, Natalie Alder, social chairman, announced yesterday.

At least eight different acts will be presented. Dancing and refreshment will follow the program.

The party is open to the public. Admission is free, but there will be a voluntary silver offering toward the United Jewish Appeal campaign, which will close soon.

Groups Recruit Blood Donors

Four campus groups will recruit donors for a Red Cross bloodmobile, which will come to the campus May 3. A. M. Reece, assistant in charge of part-time student placement, has announced.

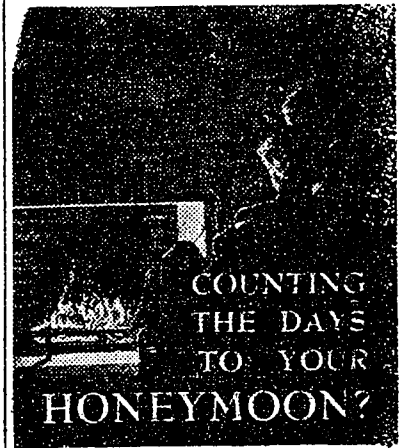

The groups are the Inter-Fraternity council, Association of Independent Men, Panhel, and Leonides.

Chairmen are Thomas Shriver and Harold Leinbach, William Raymond, Joan Wiley, and Sorley Snyder, respectively. Ted Allen, assistant director of placement service, also worked with the groups.

Each chairman now has pledge forms and will work out plans for contacting the members of the organization he represents.

All of the blood will go for defense purposes, Reece said. O type blood will be in Korea 72 hours after it is taken from State College, he said. The rest will be processed and sent to service hospitals.

Reece said that AIM is offering 100 donors; IFC, 50; Panhel, 20; and Leonides, 30. In addition there will be 100 alternate donors.
