

Iranian Oil Workers Will Return To Fields

TEHRAN, Iran, April 16 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Azizollah Kamal, military governor of Iran's southern oil fields, said striking apprentices agreed today to return to work at the big refinery city of Abadan. They had been the spearhead of widespread strikes and rioting which last week took the lives of three Britons and eight Iranians.

Kamal said some of the 800 apprentices already were returning to the shops, ending their month-old strike against the British-controlled Anglo-Iranian oil company.

Abadan, scene of the world's largest oil refineries, was calm as fresh tanks and troops arrived to reinforce those already holding the city of 130,000 under strict curfew.

(In London, Iranian Ambassador Ali Soheily issued a tart statement accusing Britain and the United States of meddling in his country's affairs. Soheily, who said he spoke with the approval of his government, assured Britain that Iran has no intention of giving her oil to any country or of depriving Britain of its use. However, he criticized Anglo-American talks in Washington on the Iranian oil crisis as interference in Iran's affairs.

(In Washington British and American officials said they planned to continue the talks.)

There are 25 American engineers at Abadan installing a giant new cracking plant to produce high octane gasoline. Five of them have asked that they be permitted to leave before their scheduled time next month. One engineer and his wife left yesterday.

The Senate, reaffirming its approval of Premier Hussein Ala's policies in handling the crisis over this country's vast oil wealth, today gave the premier a unanimous vote of confidence.

The Majlis (lower house of parliament) has not yet held its confidence vote. The vote was delayed last week when angry National Front members—vanguard of the move to nationalize Iran's oil, including Anglo-Iranian holdings—walked out, leaving the house without a quorum.

Gangster Funerals Conservative Now

NEW YORK, April 16—(AP)—Charles Fischetti, gangster heir of Al Capone, went to his grave today.

But his funeral was not the gaudy, expensive affair of the prohibition underworld pattern, for these are the Kefauver '50's and not the roaring '20's.

Most of gangland's bigshots stayed away. The heat has been on them for months because of the Senate Kefauver Crime committee hearings.

The committee named Fischetti one of the top crime syndicate leaders in the nation and sought him for weeks as a witness. He finally surrendered April 3 but died a week later without testifying.

Sixty-five limousines were earmarked for Fischetti's funeral procession, but only 27 were used. The others weren't needed.

Congress —

(Continued from page one) MacArthur unless the general asked for an appointment, and the White House said he hasn't asked for one yet.

4—Plans were rushed for a big civic reception at the Washington monument. MacArthur messaged the committee that he would be 'proud and happy' to take part.

5—MacArthur also wired that he would be willing to testify before the Senate Armed Services committee some time after his appearance at the joint session. The House Armed Services committee promptly voted to ask the general to appear before it as well.

In addition, Rep. Adair (R-Ind.) introduced a resolution calling for the dismissal of Dean Acheson as Secretary of State. And Rep. Bakewell (R-Mo.) offered one to give MacArthur a special medal. Rep. Crumpacker (R-Ind.) introduced a resolution for the removal of both Acheson and Secretary of Defense Marshall.

The resolutions were referred to committees. No early action was in prospect.

West Dorms —

(Continued from page one) for the blood drive who are under 21. The forms must be filled out and returned by next Wednesday.

Action on a motion for the council to oppose baseball playing on the area grounds was tabled.

Strait Poultry Manager

Rodger Strait, freshman agricultural education student, has been appointed manager of the Poultry show to be held in conjunction with the Dairy Science show May 12.

Poultry products will be the theme of the show. Flowers made from feathers of chickens and turkeys will be sold.

Pledged To A.L.D.

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, pledged Alice Yeager, Bellefonte, at a recent meeting.

A committee was appointed to be responsible for a float to be used by a candidate for Miss Penn State.

For Best Results Use Collegian Classified

The Place to SAVE on . . . Opportunity Da y Is At . . .

TEMPLE'S

Tri-Valley Peaches in heavy syrup 3 cans $1.00

Dainty Dell Milk 5 tall cans $65c

Creamery Butter 73c lb.

Crisco 3 lb. can $1.09

Fresh Ground Beef 63c lb.

Swift Smoked Picnics 49c lb.

Pork Loin Roast 43c lb.

DELIVERY SERVICE

TEMPLE MARKET

131 W. Beaver

Phone 4921

For Leg Flattery
DORELLA HOSE
by Holeproof
Seven shades for spring including Bird of Paradise. Sizes 8½-11. Slightly irregular.
Only $1.25

CLEARFIELD'S
124 East College Ave.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

100% Gabardine Slacks YMS
ALL SIZES ALL COLORS
$4.99

Men's Fancy Pattern HOSE 3 pr. $1.10

White Combed Cotton TEE SHIRTS and BRIEF 2 for $1.00

Men's White HANKIES 8 for $1.00

young men's shop
STATE COLLEGE
127 s. allen
one man tells another

For Ability

All-College Candidates—
Clair George, President
Ray F. Evert, Vice President
William J. Klisanin, Sec., Treas.

Senior Class Candidates—
John M. Stoudt, President
Robert Flick, Vice President
Polly Potter, Sec.-Treas.

Junior Class Candidates—
Joseph Haines, President
John A. Donnal, Vice President
Barbara Baker, Sec.-Treas.

For Leadership, Experience and Ability

VOTE LION

OD Means EXTRA ECONOMY