184 Dorm Applications Sent To Dean Of Men

One hundred eighty-four signed applications circulated by Nittany and Pollock dorm councils, which would reserve rooms in the West dorm area for men now living in the Nittany-Pollock area, have been turned over to the dean of men's office, according to a report by Robert Faust at Monday night's meeting of Nittany dorm council.

Twenty-five of the applications were from Pollock area men, Faust said.

A similar petition is being circulated by West dorm council.

Faust said that Dean of Men H. K. Wilson told him that no policy had been decided upon as yet, and that the applications would be taken into consideration.

Cole Reports On Dinner

William Cole, of the Barons, reported that an exchange dinner has been arranged with Atherton hall this Sunday. He said that plans were progressing for the Nittany-Pollock-Leonides semi-formal dance, "Dimensions in Music" Saturday night. He asked for volunteers from the area to help with decorations in Recreation hall Saturday afternoon.

Donald Fagan reported that George Donovan, manager of student activities, said this department would supply a number of semi-classical records for use in the area dining hall.

David Hallenback said his committee was still considering an order for filling Nittany dorms next semester. Council President John Laubach explained that in past years area dorms had been opened while others closer to the dining hall remained closed.

The council also was told that its quota had been set at 30 for the next visit of the Blood Mobile, May 4. Names of donors must be reported to Charles Wolff by April 25.

CHICAGO — Gen. Omar N. Bradley spoke out yesterday against General MacArthur's suggestions that the Korean war be extended to China. UJA Campaign Still $2,000 Short

The United Jewish Appeal campaign is still about $2000 short of its goal, $4500, Jacqueline Cohen and Julius Marcus, co-chairmen, announced yesterday.

They asked that all captains and members of teams who have not yet turned in the money they collected to do so immediately.

CA Schedules Auction, Dance, Violin Concert

The Penn State Christian association will sponsor three events—an auction, a square dance, and a concert—as a means of raising money to further reduce its budget deficit.

The first of these events, an "old-time" auction, is scheduled for April 28 at 2 p.m. in the TUB, J. Bertram Kessel, assistant professor of physical education and faculty auction chairman, said.

Kessel said the main attraction will be the unusual items which will be auctioned. He said the auction will also feature band music and refreshments.

The auction has been divided into four categories, Kessel said. He said the services of professors and students will be auctioned plus large items, such as pianos and cars, and small items, such as household trivia. The last category are the "pigs in pokes" which are really unusual, Kessel said.

The square dance will be held at Recreation hall, May 5, from 9 p.m. to midnight, Robb Keener chairman, said. Slim Bryant and his Wildcats from radio station (Continued on page six)

Truman Calls Off Speech To Give General Spotlight

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur stepped into the full spotlight of world attention today. President Truman moved aside to make room for the man he fired.

With MacArthur scheduled to address a joint meeting of Congress at 12:30 p.m. (EST) Thursday, Truman called off a speech he was supposed to make to the American Society of Newspaper Editors less than two hours later.

The White House said the President didn't want to detract from "Gen. Douglas MacArthur's day." The General's address will be broadcast and televised over all major networks.

So Thursday will be all MacArthur's. And the echoes will be a long time dying away.

HONOLULU, April 17—(AP)—General MacArthur, jauntily swinging a red flower lei from his left arm, took off for the mainland at 9:30 a.m. today (2:30 p.m. EST), headed bound to air before Congress the Asian policy views for which President Truman dismissed him.

MacArthur's Constellation transport, the Bataan, was scheduled to reach San Francisco at 8 p.m. PST (11 p.m. EST) tonight.

Today, with suspense mounting as the deposed General flew here by easy stages from Tokyo and got a conquering hero's welcome en route, there were these developments:

1—The Senate's Republican policy committee resoundingly called for a two-house, all-embracing investigation of U.S. policies in the Far East and elsewhere. There was immediate opposition from some Democrats.
