

IFC Elects Officers

Interfraternity council will elect next year's officers tonight at 7:15 o'clock in 105 White hall.

Candidates are Jerome Gibson, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Stanley Wengert, Alpha Tau Omega, for president; Robert Koons, Sigma Pi, and James Wharton, Sigma Nu, for vice-president; and John Allison, Phi Kappa Psi, Earl Baker, Chi Phi, and Richard Hartle, Sigma Chi, for secretary-treasurer.

Gibson is a transfer student from the University of Pennsylvania. He is a junior majoring in arts and letters and hails from Sheffield, Pa. His activities include first assistant wrestling manager, secretary of Blue Key, secretary of Alpha Sigma Phi, Hat Societies council, and Thespians.

Wengert is a junior in the Department of Economics and Commerce. His home town is Harrisburg and he is president of Alpha Tau Omega, chairman of the IFC treasurers' workshop, member of Delta Pi, and member of the Pan-American week, Campus chest, and Spring Week committees.

Nominations for candidates closed last week. Nominations were turned into the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Clower To Speak At ASME Meeting

James I. Clower, chairman of the mechanical engineering department at the University of Delaware, will address the regional meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers to be held tomorrow at the College. He will speak on armor penetration before the Central Pennsylvania sections of the association.

During the war, Clower supervised research and development work on armor plate and armor-piercing shot, and recently completed a study of the Army's armor-piercing shot program at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Club Constitution To Be Presented

Completed drafts of the constitution and by-laws of the newly-formed DeMolay club will be presented for final adoption tonight.

The club will meet in 203 Willard hall at 7 p.m.

Also on the agenda will be discussion of social events to be sponsored by the club.

Thomas Farrell, president of the organization, has announced that all DeMolays, Master Masons, and persons interested in joining are welcome to attend the meeting tonight.

New Forum Today At 12

The Faculty forum, a newly organized weekly luncheon discussion group, will hold its first meeting at noon today at the Alencrest tearoom.

The forum, an outgrowth of Religion-in-Life week, has been organized by the International Relations club and the Penn State Christian association. Its purpose will be to discuss religious and moral problems at the College, and to develop plans for improved student-faculty relationships.

Daniel A. DeMarino, assistant dean of men, who was scheduled to speak at today's luncheon, will be unable to attend because of a back injury, Norman Thielke, resident associate in ceramics and chairman of the forum, said yesterday.

All faculty members are invited to attend the forum. The price of the luncheon is 85 cents, and reservations may be made by calling extension 541.
