Ferguson, of the Agriculture Experiment station; F. C. Banner, head of the Journalism department; and P. H. Margolf, chairman of the student activities committee.

Twelve students will receive keys for outstanding work for the last two years. They are Marlowe Hartung, and Charles Zellner, former editors; Thomas Jurchak, present editor; John Berkebile; Sarah Chinn; Lawrence Drabick; Cy Fahnestock; Robert Free; Carl Gerhart; Daniel Pierch; David Stabler and Richard Witmer.

The Frustrated Four will provide entertainment after the dinner.

McGeary Article In Law Review

The opening article of the Spring 1951 issue of the University of Chicago Law Review was written by Dr. Nelson McGeary, professor and head of the Department of the Political Science at the College.

Dr. McGeary's article traces the historical development of the United States Congress' power of inquiry.

The issue is in the form of a symposium by congress men, journalists, and political scientists on the subject of congressional investigations.

Acceleration --

the World War II acceleration program wanted the present system to continue, or if changes were necessary, to set up two seven and one-half week summer sessions.

'Lost Enthusiasm'

One professor, the report said, commented: "During 1944, I taught every day except Sundays, Christmas, and July 4th. I definitely lost my enthusiasm."

Other members of the acceleration committee were S. W. Blizard, assistant professor of social and rural sociology; F. L. Gwynn, assistant professor of English literature; and R. K. Vierck, associate professor of engineering mechanics.

Summer Session Deadline Extended

The final date for the acceptance of advanced registration for summer sessions, 1951, has been changed from April 30, 1951 to May 26, 1951, R. M. Koser, assistant chief recorder, announced.

The change was made necessary because the course offerings for the first and second six weeks science sessions have not, as yet, been announced. Therefore, any undergraduate or graduate student now enrolled on campus may complete advance registration for summer sessions anytime from now until the final day for registration, May 26, 1951.

Church To Be Bloodmobile Headquarters

The State College Methodist church will be headquarters for the first Red Cross bloodmobile unit to visit the College since World War II.

The unit will be prepared to take blood from 200 students on May 3. Interfraternity council, the Association of Independent Men, Panhellenic council, and Leonides are currently recruiting donors for the drive.

"O" type blood will be flown to Korea within 72 hours after the blood is donated in State College. Blood which is not sent to Korea will be processed and used in veterans hospitals in the United States.

Allan Reëce, assistant in charge of part-time placement and head of the campus bloodmobile program, announced that the Pre-Medical society has volunteered to help out with the technical and recruiting ends of the drive.

Chairmen from each of the participating groups in the program are Harold Leinbach, IFC; William Raymond, AIM; Joan Wiley, Panhel; Sorley Snyder, Leonides; and William DeCrease, Pre-Med society.

AIM will supply 100 donors; IFC, 50; Panhel, 20; and Leonides, 30. In addition, 100 alternates will be recruited in case large numbers of the volunteers are turned down because of physical condition.

British Fellowship

An Athlone fellowship has been awarded to Vernon L. Dutton, instructor in civil engineering, by the British government.

He will spend two years in Great Britain and will study with Sir Alexander Gibbs and associates, consulting civil engineers in hydraulic construction, and the hydraulics division of Vickers-Armstrong.

Opinion Blanks Circulated By Town Council

A questionnaire to get student opinion on student government issues will be circulated by the AIM Town council on Monday, the council announced Wednesday night.

The questionnaire will be available at the Student Union desk.

The survey is similar to one issued by the council earlier in the semester. It will ask these questions among others: Do students favor eighth semester finals, the Student Union Assessment, and the present marking system? Would any prefer to live in the dorms and are they interested in an AIM sports program?

A proposal was put before the council to amend the constitution by creating an elections committee. Such a committee, according to the amendment, would provide for a nominations committee to be elected in the spring of each year to organize next year's council. The committee would aid in the nominations and elections of candidates to the council.

The council appointed a committee to set up a spring carnival booth.

Larson To Make Vegetable Survey

Dr. Russell E. Larson, horticulturist at the College, will head a committee of scientists to make the first complete tabulation of all vegetable varieties in the United States, Canada, and U.S. territories. Plant breeders, hybrid producers, and commercial sources are included in the list.

The committee, named by the American Society of Horticultural Science, will compile the first complete record of many vegetable crops, listing their characteristics and other pertinent information.

When finished, the list is expected to aid in producing improved vegetables, Dr. Larson explained. To launch the project, each member of the committee is tabulating the information on 100 varieties through a nationwide survey underway.

Mierop To Speak To Bible Group

Dr. William A. Mierop, president of the Bible Institute of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, will be the guest of the Penn State Bible fellowship on campus this weekend. Tonight Dr. Mierop will present a "Summary of the Gospel of John" at a meeting in 405 Old Main at 7:30 o'clock.

A graduate of Eastern Baptist Theological seminary with a degree of ThB, Dr. Mierop was a former pastor of the Ocean City Baptist church at Ocean City, N.J. Since 1944 he has served as president of the Bible Institute of Pennsylvania.
