

440-Relay Squad, Kay Qualify For Penn Relay Finals Nittany Nine Nips Rutgers, 2-1

Relay Team 2nd With 43.2; Kay Takes 3rd In Hurdles

Special To Daily Collegian

Penn State's champion 440-yard relay team and hurdler Guy Kay were the only Lion entries to pass yesterday's trial tests and qualify for today's Penn Relays finals.

The relay crew of Bill Lockhart, Bill Polito, John Lauer, and Kay turned in a second place time of 43.2 in the trial heat. They finished five yards behind Columbia, and will race N.Y.U., Morgan Satter, Duke, Manhattan, and Columbia in the finals. Columbia posted a winning time of 42.8.

Kay won third place in the first heat of the 440-meter hurdles on a judge's decision. His time was 55.3. On a time basis covering both heats he was given fifth place standing. Charles Moore, Cornell, was the winner in 51.8.

Place Second

The Lion 880-relay team placed second behind Duke in the first trial heat in 1:29.8. However, on the overall time basis for the two heats they were disqualified from the finals. Polito was injured slightly in this race when after completing a diving pass of the baton he fell and suffered brush burns.

In the 2-mile run, Jack St. Clair broke away to a good start and led the pack for three laps, but he then lost his stuff and faded back to 13th. He put on a last-ditch sprint and managed to pull into 10th place, finishing in 9:51.

Defending champion Dick Shea of Army broke the tape in 9:11.9 to set a new carnival record.

Lose Heart-Breaker

The Lions lost a hearbreaker in the distance medley race. Lead-off man, John McCall, shot to the front quickly, and looked like a good bet to give the Lions a lead, but because of a mixup at the starting line the runners were called back.

McCall's second start was not nearly as good and he finished far back. Bob Freebairn and Bill Ashenfelter made a futile effort to make up the lost time and finished eighth. Favored Georgetown was the winner in 10:12.

McCall covered the half-mile in 21.8, Lockhart did the quarter-mile in .51, Freebairn finished the three-quarter-mile in 3:14, and Bill Ash ran a 4:28 mile.

IM Soccer, Net Deadline Set

Deadline for filing intramural soccer and tennis-doubles will be 4:30 Monday. All entries must be made at the intramural office at Rec hall, according to "Dutch" Sykes, assistant director of intramural sports.

Separate tournaments will be held for both fraternities and independents. Entry fee is $1.00 per team for soccer and 50 cents per team for tennis-doubles.

A soccer team will consist of five men with the game being played on a field of half-regulation size. Games will consist of two ten-minute halves on the soccer practice area of the golf course, he said.

It will be necessary to schedule games on Friday evenings with the games being played between the hours of 6:15 and 8:30 p.m. Actual play will begin on or about May 4, Sykes said.

Matches for tennis-doubles will be played by arrangement between opponents within certain deadlines set by the IM office. Students who go home frequently on week-ends, or have very few free hours, should not enter this tournament because it is very difficult to arrange matches, Sykes reported.

The tournament play will start about May 7, and be played on College courts.

Each organization may be represented by one team in the soccer and tennis-doubles play.

Mulbry Quits As Baseball Sec.-Treas.

CINCINNATI, April 27—(AP)—Walter Mulbry jumped the gun on his own resignation as secretary-treasurer of baseball today, walked out of his office and purposely paved the way for a new deal in the management of the national pastime.

The executive council of baseball was told that Commissioner A. B. Chandler would not resign—following failure of reelection—unless Mulbry, former friend, now bitter enemy, got out of the picture.

Mulbry did so today. His formal resignation was presented to the executive council on March 12. The council asked him to stay on the job. Today, he said he had had enough of his $30,000 a year job.

That followed word from New York yesterday that Chandler told the council he would quit a year ahead of the end of his seven-year contract only after Mulbry left. His $65,000 a year tenure ends April 30, 1952. Baseball club owners offered to pay the contract.

Chandler, at his home in Versailles, Ky., told a reporter that he had appointed George Denman to Mulbry's job. Denman, a former private detective in Chicago has been with the commissioner's office since it was established under the late Federal Judge K. M. Landis.

A close friend of Chandler said tonight he did not expect the commissioner to quit soon, despite the fact that club owners had offered to pay him off in full.

Soph Pitcher Ruled Ineligible

Penn State's chances for Eastern baseball supremacy received another jolt yesterday when Coach Joe Bedenk learned that sophomore pitcher, Tom Campbell, will be ineligible for the remainder of the season.

Campbell was ruled ineligible because of an academic deficiency. His loss will weaken the Lion pitching corps since Bedenk was counting on the right-handed hurler for intensive relief work. "He's got a terrific amount of stuff for three or four innings," Bedenk said.

The mittmen have had tough going all year. Before the season started Carmen Troisi, hustling shortstop, was sidelined because of a grade deficiency. Then in the first game of the season Chris Tonery, hard hitting third baseman, broke his ankle and will be lost for the remainder of the year.

Kuhnle Elected President

Paul Kuhnle was elected president of the American Institute of Architects, student chapter, at its meeting Wednesday night.

He replaces Fredrick Sheridan, the past president.

Other officers elected were Charles Hall, vice-president; Christine Leuschner, recording secretary; Myron Fetch, corresponding secretary; Edward Thompson, treasurer; and Prof. Ronald Whiteley, faculty advisor.

THIRD BASEMAN Harry Little who collected two of the team's four hits and stole home with the winning run in State's 2-1 victory over Rutgers at New Brunswick yesterday. Owen Dougherty pitched a two hitter to lead the Lions to the victory over George Case's 1950 District II NCAA representatives.

Doc Holds Foe Hitless For 6; Little Sets Pace

Special to the Daily Collegian

Coach Joe Bedenk's hopes for an NCAA post-season playoff berth received a shot in the arm when his Nittany diamondmen defeated Eastern contender Rutgers, 2-1, at New Brunswick, N.J., yesterday.

Southpaw Owen Dougherty pitched near perfect ball to record his second victory of the season. "Doc" had a no hitter until the last of the seventh when Rutgers collected both of their hits to score the first run of the game and break a shut-out battle.

Little Stars

Harry Little was the offensive star for the Lions in their triumph over George Case's 1950 NCAA District II champions. Little collected a single and a double, half of the Nittanies total output in the well-pitched game, and stole home with the winning run. Paul Lowry and Bill Michalich garnered the other safeties off Al Willenbrock who suffered his first loss of the year after three straight wins.

Trailing 1-0, the Lions came back in the top of the eighth to bunch an error, a double, an intentional pass, and a stolen base to score both their runs and the ball game. Dougherty started off by reaching first on an error. Hen Albright sacrificed him to second, and Harry Little drove a double down the left field line to score Dougherty and tie the score.

Bob Schoellkopf batted for Sil Cerchie and grounded to third and Little advanced on the put-out. Bill Hopper was given his second intentional pass of the game, and with Stan Laganosky at bat, Hopper and Little worked the double steal, with the diminutive third baseman stealing home with the winning run on a close play.

Rutgers Scores

Rutgers lone tally came in the last of the seventh. After center-fielder Jim Monaghan bounced out to second, third sacker Rudy Scanvel ruined Dougherty's bid for a no-hitter as he lined a double to left. Bob Koperwhats, bespectacled shortstop, lined a single to center with Scanvel scoring the only Rutgers run.

State will carry a 3-1 record into today's game with Lafayette. Until yesterday's game, Rutgers was tied with Princeton for the section II lead with an 8-2 record. The Scarlet's ace moundsman, Al Stull was unable to hurl yesterday because of a bad back.

Because of their fine showing yesterday, the Lions will probably face Lafayette's heralded Fred Kroog, who recently hurled a two-hitter and a no-hitter. Bedenk will counter with either Bill Bair or Bill Everson, both right-handers.

The Line-ups:

PENN STATE				RUTGERS
Ab	R	H		Ab	R	H
Albright,lf	3	0	0	Haber,2b	3	0	0
Little,3b	3	1	2	VanCleaf,cf	3	0	0
Cerchie,cf	3	0	0	Tussis,1b	1	0	0
Hopper,rf	2	0	0	Monaghan,rf	4	0	0
Laganosky,lb	3	0	0	Scanvel,3b	4	1	1
Mowry,ss	3	0	0	Koperwhats,ss	4	0	1
Mihalich,2b	3	0	1	McDonogh,lf	3	0	0
Buss,c	4	0	0	Gravate,c	1	0	0
Dougherty,p	4	1	0	Willenbrock,p	2	0	0
a-Schoel'pf	1	0	0
Totals	29	2	4	Totals	28	1	2

a—batted for Cerchie in 8th.

Penn State 000 000 020—24

Rutgers 000 000 100—12

on-visiting teams a hollow feeling. He took a nice, level swing in those games, and when he connected it was with authority. When he went down to first he was just a blur, and we still can see the expression of astonishment on big Walt Dropo's face when the Red Sox first baseman fielded a roller from Mickey's bat and lazily ambled toward the bag. The play was closer than bread and butter. Dropo just did make more than one seasoned veteran it.

Sports Trail . . .

Martin Tells Writers To 'Lay Off' Mantle

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, April 27—(AP)—Hey, why don't they lay off the kid? They might as well be beating Mickey Mantle with sticks or dipping him in hot tar or using his hide for a dart board as to heap on him scathing insinuations that he is a first-grade flop as a major league ball player.

A flop after eight or nine games, in which he hit .232. Joe DiMaggio was hitting .229, and Johnny Mize .167, but the flop is Mickey Mantle. With DiMag and Mize it's just a slump. Maybe a 19-year-old kid isn't entitled to slumps.

It isn't as if Mantle was a fog-horn-voiced braggart who assailed the ears of everyone within miles with stories of what he had done and promises of what he would do.

Quiet Kid

Here's a nice, quiet kid who never said anything about his abilities. Any reputation he has was acquired through his feats, which were embellished until the fans expected him to hit more runs every weekday and twice on Sundays.

It wasn't his fault he was rated the hottest rookies to come along since DiMaggio. He would just as soon have been rated just another kid. Ignored, even. Then the pressure would have been off.

But he could hit the ball a country mile, and he could run like a scared antelope, and you just can't hide such attributes. Consequently his name practically was plastered on barns and telephone poles to prepare the folks for his arrival. It's been a long, long time since a ball player received such a buildup before he ever played a major league game.

Looked Confident

We saw him in his first couple of games, and were duly impressed. We saw a well-set-up young fellow who stood up there at the plate with an outward show of confidence, even if you knew moths were fluttering around in his stomach and the hands that gripped the bat were moist and clammy. Remember when you were 19 years old? Just imagine yourself at that age playing for the first time in Yankee Stadium, whose awesome magnitude gives more than one seasoned veteran it.

Michigan Staters Set Relay Mark

A quartet of surprising milers from Michigan State College today blazed to a new four mile relay record in the opening of the 42nd annual Drake Relay carnival.

The Spartans, with Warren Druetzler running a 4:15.8 anchor mile, snatched victory from Washington State College in 17:21.2 to knock eight and four tenths seconds off the Drake record of 17:29.6 established by Oklahoma A & M 12 years ago.

Druetzler's margin at the finish over Washington's Bill Parnell mile champion of the British empire, was five yards. Michigan finished third with Arkansas fourth and Missouri fifth.

Druetzler was scratched from the two mile to conserve his speed for the four mile triumph.

Major League Results

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yesterday's Results

Boston	4	New York	3
Philadelphia	at	Washington	(night)

Standings

	W	L	Pct.
Cleveland	5	1	.857
x-Washington	6	1	.857
Chicago	5	3	.625
Boston	5	4	.560
New York	5	4	.556
Detroit	2	4	.333
St. Louis	2	7	.222
x-Philadelphia	1	9	.100

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Yesterday's Results

Boston	7	New York	3
Brooklyn	11	Philadelphia	5
St. Louis	3	Chicago	0
Cincinnati	at	Pittsburgh	(night)

Standings

	W	L	Pct.
St. Louis	5	2	.714
Boston	8	4	.666
Philadelphia	6	4	.600
Brooklyn	6	4	.600
x-Pittsburgh	4	3	.571
Chicago	4	4	.500
x-Cincinnati	2	6	.250
New York	2	10	.166

x—these standings do not include last night's games.