attack; Vance Scout, defense; Bud Wolfram, midfield; and Phil Benedetti, goalie. Danny Grove will replace Vance Scout in today's match. Grove had been injured against Western Maryland.

Grove Returns To Starting Ten As Lacrosse Team Faces Penn Today

Danny Grove will return to action at his usual defense post as the Nittany Lion lacrosse team goes after its second win of the campaign against the University of Pennsylvania this afternoon.

The match is scheduled for 2 o'clock on the golf course. With Grove back in the starting line-up, the Lions will be at full strength. Grove missed last week's contest against powerful Loyola of Baltimore, and also the one before that at Navy. Grove had suffered a slight fracture of the left cheek bone in the Lions' opener at Western Maryland.

Grove Gives Lions Lift
The addition of Grove will give Penn State an additional lift as Grove's stick handling ability and his knack to clear the ball are valuable assets. Grove will replace John Amber, who did a commendable job while Grove was on the disabled list. Handling the other two defensive positions with Grove will be Barr Adplundh, Bryn Athyn, Pa., and John Henry, Philadelphia, Pa.

High Scoring Trio
The midfield positions will see Bud Wolfram, John Wilcox, and Jim Fulton at face off time. This trio has scored all of State's 30 tallies this season. Wilcox has six of these, while Wolfram is next in line with four counters. However, Wilcox tallied all but one of his scores in last week's hectic match with Loyola.

The second midfield trio will consist of Tony Eagle, Paul Rafensperger, and Wayne Hockersmith. This threesome has also scored its share of points as Rafensperger has hit no less than four times while Hockersmith and Eagle have each tallied twice.

Two lettermen will highlight the starting attack positions. The two lettermen are Ed Herring, Philadelphia, Pa., and Jim Reed, Towson, Md. John "Doak" Walker will start at the other attack position. Like Herring, Walker is also from Philadelphia.

Benedetti at Goal
As usual, Phil Benedetti, another Philadelphian, will handle the goal tending chores. Thus far, the diminutive Lion goalie has turned aside 60 shots. He was really busy against Navy as he stopped no less than 33 Middle shots.

Both Penn and Penn State will enter today's fray with an identical number of wins although the Lions have lost but two, compared to Penn's four losses.

Penn State's lone win was scored over a weak Western Maryland team, while the Quakers defeated the same type of team in West Chester, 8-2.

Netmen Eye 4th Win; Oppose Pitt Today

In quest of its fourth consecutive triumph, Coach Sherm Fogg's tennis team is due for a real test this afternoon when it meddles with a talent-laden Pitt contingent on the varsity courts.

The match will start at 2 o'clock. Since both squads are evenly balanced, each having six veterans starting in their lineup, the outcome of the tussle hinges on the No. 1 and 2 singles and doubles activity.

LaMotta Admits Ray Robinson Tough To Beat

New York, April 27—(AP)—Jake LaMotta today conceded he can't beat middleweight champion Ray Robinson at 160 pounds.

The old Bronx bull threw in the towel as a middleweight and released Sugar Ray from a contract for a return bout this June.

From now on, Jake will campaign as a light heavyweight. He expressed a desire to meet any top light-heavyweight contender in order to gain a shot at light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim's crown.

Not that Jake doesn't think he can whip Robinson. The 29-year-old punch-catcher said he'd like to meet Robinson in a non-title fight at 165 pounds.

"At that weight, I know I can beat him," LaMotta told Jim Norris president of the International Boxing Club. "Trying to get my weight down to 160 pounds would weaken me and I wouldn't be able to box at my best."

"In our Chicago fight last February," said Jake, "I knew I was winning until my stamina gave out. That was caused by the weight making."

LaMotta gave a good account of himself for the first ten rounds of his Feb. 15th bout with Robinson in Chicago. Then Robinson gave him a shellacking. The referee finally stopped what had become a slaughter in the 13th round.

That was the fifth time Robinson whipped LaMotta. Jake beat Robinson once, the only loss ever suffered by Sugar Ray.

Robinson is en route to Europe for a series of fights. It is possible that he may defend his title while there.

Bad Shoulder Puts DiMag In Hospital

BOSTON, April 27—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio, star New York Yankee outfielder, complained after the game with the Boston Red Sox today that his right shoulder felt stiff. He will enter Lenox Hill hospital in New York tomorrow morning to undergo X-rays and an examination of the shoulder.

If the examination shows no extensive damage Joe is expected to be in the lineup as usual against Washington in the Yankee Stadium tomorrow. He explained after today's game he has been unable to throw properly for the past two days.

According to Coach Fogg, "Our first two men will have to be at their best, for Pitt's No. 1 man and captain, John Lohstoeter, and No. 2 man, Harry Campney, are rated among the top in my book."

Two Sharpshooters
For the two sharpshooters have the reputation of coming through when the chips are down. Last season Lohstoeter won nine of ten singles matches and Campney eight of ten. They played together in seven doubles sets and were undefeated.

Lohstoeter only defeat was inflicted by State's bullet-serving captain and No. 1 man, Owen "Sonny" Landon.

Dick Wieland, maneuvering as Nittany No. 2 man, will be seeking revenge for last year's stunning losses when he copes with his arch rival, Harry Campney, in the second set today.

The third singles set should also be a rip-snorter since two veterans are pitted against each other. These are Bill Aiken for State, and Dearl Roof for the Panthers.

The Panthers' promising sophomore, Joe Bendel, and State's Ed Davis are scheduled to oppose each other in the fourth singles event.

Either letterman Bob Ilisevich or Jack Hardman will toil for Pitt in the fifth fray, while Bill Wood is Fogg's choice.

Bigott Starts
Gus Bigott, Venezuelan wizard, will match strokes with Harry Duncan, No. 1 on Pitt's frosh team last year, in the final singles event.

Possibly the best match of the season will be State's No. 1 duet of Captain Landon and Wieland tangling with Pitt's canny No. 1 twosome, Lohstoeter and Campney.

In the second doubles set, Aiken and Davis will perform, with Wood and Bigott participating in the third fracas.

Jeffrey Speaks

William Jeffrey, Penn State soccer coach, related the highlights of his team's trip to Iran to an assembly of Harris Township pupils in Boalsburg, Tuesday.

He discussed the people of Iran and the versatility of their soccer players.

Nittany Golfers Meet Syracuse Goodell Posts 2nd Badminton Win

Penn State's linksmen will be in quest of their second victory of the season when they oppose the Syracuse golf team at the Green Lakes Country club, Syracuse, this afternoon.

Coach Bob Rutherford has inserted three new men into his line-up in an attempt to get back on the winning trail. Bob Bowers, Marv Goldenberg, and Bob Kinkle will replace George Mazanowski, George Stewart, and Jack Wylie, who participated against Georgetown. The Lions lost two 4-3 matches to the Hoyas' last weekend.

The other four men in the Nittany line-up will be Ray Artz, Captain Joe Durniak, Ted Robertson, and Hud Samson. Rutherford cited Robertson for his outstanding play at Georgetown last week.

The Lions own a 1-2 season record since they won their opening match against Lehigh. Last year Rutherford's men defeated the Orangemen on the Penn State course.

IM H-Shoe Doubles Entries Due Mon.

Entries for IM horseshoe doubles will be taken until 4:30 p.m. Monday, according to "Dutch" Sykes, assistant director of intramural sports.

Separate tournaments will be held for both fraternity and independent groups. It was explained, however, that only one team may represent each organization. The entry fee is 50 cents per team.

Matches are going to be played between 6:30 - 8 p.m. on the courts along the south side of Rec hall.

Bob Goodell, Tau Kappa Epsilon's defending champion won his second round of play over Burton Cushner, Sigma Alpha Mu, 15-1, 15-0 in fraternity intramural badminton action Wednesday.

In other fraternity games, John Waters, Sigma Chi, beat Lou Cohen, Phi Epsilon Pi, 15-3, 15-13; Richard Style, Sigma Alpha Mu, beat Martin Memlo, Phi Kappa, 15-5, 15-13, and Sam Ellowitz, Phi Sigma Delta, beat Charles Garson, Phi Gamma Delta, 15-8, 15-4.

Jim Miller, Kappa Delta Rho, beat Stan Meyers, Pi Lambda Phi, 15-1, 15-5; Chet Makarewicz, Theta Xi, beat Charles Townsend, Phi Gamma Delta, 15-6, 15-2, and Ed Naythons, Phi Epsilon Pi, beat Edward Noyes, Theta Chi, 15-9, 1-15, 15-14.

In independent play William Anderson won his second match over Dick Karfunkle, 15-1, 15-3, to take possession of first place. Joe Jorkowski beat Peter Lansbury, 15-7, 15-11 and Harry Smith beat Irwin Nerenberg, 15-7, 15-3.

Movie Draws Crowd

Overflow crowds attended the showing of the movie, "This Is Penn State," yesterday.

The 20 minute color film explains the life of two Penn State freshmen. Students and faculty members appear throughout the picture.

The film is being shown in high schools throughout the state.

Tournament play will consist of single eliminations with actual play beginning on May 7, he said.
