It is surely un-American to give one man control of the allegiances, the consciences, and the thoughts of his fellow citizens," the President said.

Loyal Citizens

The President said that some loyal citizens would refuse to sign on philosophical grounds, while subversives would sign without compunction.

Speaking of Penn State policy, the President said, "one of the major values each student should derive from higher education is an abiding commitment to the democratic way—a commitment based not on empty indoctrination but upon a genuine understanding of the principles that characterize our free society."

Defending his bill, Pechan argued that the bill's backers do not wish to curb educational philosophy as long as it "goes in the right direction."

Pechan and McCracken combined to name the chief purpose of the bill as "seeking to rid the public payrolls of the subversive, un-American elements in the state."

"We don't want anyone on the payroll who believes that any other form of government is better than this one," Pechan said.

Chest Group To Meet

There will be an open meeting of the Campus Chest committee at 9 tonight in the Hugh Beaver room, 305 Old Main. The purpose is to evaluate the Campus Chest of 1950-51 and lay preliminary plans for 1951-52.

Vichy French. Brown went into Syria with the British, narrowly missed being shot by advance Nazi motorcycle squads entering Yugoslavia, and saw and broadcast the invasion of Crete and the escape of the King of Greece.

In his peacetime coverage of the domestic scene, Brown continued to fight against censorship and restriction of news. "A free flow of information aids in understanding the hopes, aspirations and desires of others," he maintains. "The better you know a person the less desire you have to punch his nose."

Haac To Lecture

Skilled Hands

Those special hands... the guiding, teaching hands of the occupational therapist or the physical therapist... the strength-giving hands of the hospital dietitian... are the ones Air Force men in hospitals look to with admiration and respect.

Those mending hands are hands to fly with... the skilled fingers that bring the flying and supporting men of the Air Force back to duty strong and healthy.

Graduates and prospective graduates in occupational or physical therapy, or dietetics, can now have interesting, challenging careers as commissioned officers with good pay and allowances in the Women's Medical Specialist Corps of the U. S. Air Force Medical Service. Opportunities for further professional education are also available.

Regular and reserve commissions are offered to qualified specialists in these fields. Write for details to The Surgeon General, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.
