FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1951

Olympian Makes 6 Horse Entry

Lt. Col. John Russell, of Altoona and New Cumberland, and a member of the U.S. Olympic team, will enter six horses in the annual horse show to be held this weekend.

The show, sponsored by the Penn State Riding Club, will open at 10 a.m. tomorrow with preliminaries, and continue at 1 p.m. tomorrow and 1 p.m. Sunday.

One of the horses Col. Russell will enter in the show is Ambrose

16 Candidates For PS Club Award Named

Sixteen candidates for the outstanding independent senior man competition. of the year award were announced at Monday night's meeting of the Penn State Club by Moylan Mills, vice-president.

The candidates and their cur-ricula are William Ashenfelter, hotel administration; Richard class of the open competition. Bard, arts and letters; Homer Barr, physical education; Arthur Benning, journalism; John Dal-bor, journalism; Bob Davis, journalism; George Demshock, edu-cation; and Harry Woolever, arts and letters.

Other Candidates

David Fitzcharles, commerce and finance; Dean Gladfelter, arts and letters; Blair Green, arts and letters; Emerson Jones, dairy of the University Club for that ~, ~, date caused the change to May 12. The dance will begin at 9 p.m. with the club providing Home Ec Staff of the University Club for that by the winner.

Nominate Officers

for next year's offices. Running for president are Wayne Homan and Lewis Hoover; vice-presi-dent; Arnold Gasche and Moylan Mills; secretary, Derle Riordan and David Thomas; treasurer, Carl Espey; social chairman, Her-bert Kulman and William Parks; athletic chairman, Peter Lansbury; public chairman, Joseph Bower and Cosmo Fazio; and parliamentarian, Ray Evert and Joseph Rubert. Nominations will remain open until election time.

to represent the club in the Ugly Man contest sponsored by Alpha Fhi Omega.

iocal Video A Possibility

A spokesman for radio station WMAJ yesterday revealed that within a month or so the Federal Communications Commission will clarify State College's posithe horse he rode in the Olympics. While competing in the Olympics. the horse became lame on the 221/2 mile competition and Col. Russell led the horse the final six miles. Olympic Horse

Another horse Col. Russell will bring with him is By-Day, which he now is training for Olympic Riding for the College in the modified Olympics will be Mar-garet Warner, William Brodnax, Edna Grabiak, and Ruth Rand. All students enrolled in riding classes may participate in any The 30 classes of the show are divided into eight main groupings and one miscellaneous group. The eight main groups are horse-manship, children's classes, gaited horses, western parade horses, Morgan horses, jumpers, hunters, and the modified Olympic.

Miscellaneous

Included in the miscellaneous group are bridle trail horses, Centre County pleasure horses, and an open class of pleasure and letters; Emerson Jones, dairy husbandry; Paul Kulp, agricul-tural economics; Walter Miller, arts and letters; Nicholas Mor-kides, commerce and finance; and William Zakor, journalism. A change of dates for the club semi-formal dance was announc-will remain at Penn State and the will remain at Penn State and the semi-formal dance bad ed at the meeting. The dance had names of the winning teams or originally been scheduled for individuals will be engraved on May 11, but the unavailability them. The replica is to be kept

The club nominated candidates Representatives 1934.

Travel To York About 20 staff members of the School of Home Economics will attend the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association to be held today and tomorrow at the Yorktowne Hotel at York. Lilla Cortright, instructor of Emerson Jones was designated ternational Relations" this afternoon.

Others on the panel from the College include Elsa Haglund, Swedish graduate student; Dr. Hazel Hatcher, professor of home economics education and homecommunity relations; Jane Bovie, assistant professor of child development and farm relations; Lilyan Galbraith; Satterthwaite, associate professor of home econextension; and Doris omics

Meyer. Also attending this meeting will be Dean Grace M. Henderson

In Reading Festival

READING FESTIVAL PARTICIPANTS-Five students participating in the Intercollegiate Reading Festiwal ending here today. They are, seated, from left—Ruth Johnson and Phyllis Brenckman; standing, from left-Regina Friedman, James Beaver, and Shirley Gallagher.

Physics Prof To Give Talk On Universe

Dr. George Gamow, professor of theoretical physics at George Washington University, will speak at 8 tonight in 119 Osmond on "The Origin and Evolution of the Universe."

His lecture is sponsored by Sigma Xi, graduate science so-ciety, and will be open to the public.

Naturalized Citizen

Born in Russia in 1904, Dr. Gamow, now a naturalized Ameri-

He has held numerous visiting professorships and studied at professorships and studied at other universities both in this country and in Europe. He has held his present position since

One of the outstanding theoretical physicists of the present day, Dr. Gamow is a fellow of the Physical Society, Astronomithe Carnegie Institution and is a consultant to the Office of home-community relations at the College will lead a panel on "In-ternational Relations" this after-tion, Operational Research Office, and Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory.

Gamow is the author of "The the students' hands. Theory of the Atomic Nucleus" Klisanin said he b Theory of the Atomic Nucleus" Klisanin said he believed Penn and nearly a hundred articles on State has the best student gov-physics and astronomy. Some of ernment in the state because it is American Society for Metals at Tompkins in Wonderland," "Mr. the most complete and compre-hensive. Tompkins Explores the Atom," Klisanin presented a platform Tompkins Explores the Atom," Klisanin presented a platform "Atomic Energy in Cosmic and Human Life," "Birth and Death of the Sun," "Biography of the Earth," and "One, Two, Three-Infinity."

Infinity."

Campus Chest Meets To Discuss Campaign

In anticipation of next semes-ter's fund-raising drive, a discus-sion of previous campaign policy and prospective procedure was the chief topic of the Campus Chest committee meeting Tuesday. Shortcomings of last year's drive were noted and attempts to Since this meeting was of a gen-eral and introductory nature no specific action was planned. It Penn State Christian Association eliminate them were discussed. was made known, however, that is sponsoring a square dance from final plans for the drive must 9 to 12 p.m. have the approval of All-College can citizen, received his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Leningrad in 1928. By Delegates

Cabinet.

The student government convention sponsored by the Na-tional Student Association last the approximation of the state of t tional Student Association last Robert Keener is chairman of weekend was termed successful the committee sponsoring the by the student leaders who at-tended, William Klisanin, NSA panel discussion on "Why Student Government?"

He told of Ralph Dorn Hetzel former College President, saying and trustee of the Pennsylvania his experience with Penn State, indicates that the best policy is 1951 to leave student government in

Klisanin said he believed Penn

793 Seniors Vote For Class Gift

About 40 per cent of the senior class, 793 students, voted for their class gift.

Otto Grupp, gift committee chairman, called the turnout an improvement over last year's.

The winning suggestion will be announced at the Senior Ball May 18.

The gift committee of Grupp, William Barr, Jo Ann Esterly and Joseph Lenchner chose the seven best suggestions from all those submitted.

Skull and Bones and Parmi Nous, senior men's hat societies, and the Speech, Drama and Music departments campaigned for the campus radio station.

Scarab, architectural honorary, and Phi Gamma Alpha, art hon-orary, supported "The Linesman," a gridiron statue.

The other suggestions were a grand piano for Schwab audi-torium, a gate at the junction of Route 322 and Pollock road, an ambulance, a student press and a scholarship fund.

Grab A Partner For PSCA Jig

"A bunch of the boys will be

Slim Bryant and his Wildcats from station KDKA in Pittsburgh will provide the square dance music. Admission is $1.75 per couple or $1 per person, tax included.

The Wildcats are heard on the KDKA Farm Hour each morning from 6 to 7 a.m. and on a nationwide broadcast each Saturday at 2 p.m. PSCA is sponsoring the dance to raise money to help defray a # cal Society, Geophysical Society, and the Philosophical Society of Washington. Harry Kondourajian, retiring All-College vice-president, gave an address and participated in a panel discussion on "Why Stu-

J. L. Mauthe, president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. State College, will receive the 1951 David Ford McFarland Award for achievement in metallurgy today. The award will be presented the Nittany Lion Inn at 6 toernment." H. W. Perkins, assistant dean of men, also attended the con-vention. Mauthe, a native of Turkey City, Clarion County, was grad-uated in metallurgy from Penn State in 1913.

