

U.S. Should Block Red China Entrance To UN—Marshall

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall indicated today that the United States should use its veto power if necessary to block the entry of Red China into the United Nations.

The Department of State has held that Red China's admission to the UN is a "procedural" matter which cannot be vetoed in the Security Council—even though this government is reported opposed to the entry.

The Secretary gave Senators this view as he defended—for the fourth straight day—the administration program in Asia with arguments which President Truman told reporters are the exact truth, word for word.

He will resume his testimony tomorrow at 9 a.m., EST.

Earlier, Marshall had said the U. S. government will fight Communist China's admission to the UN and will not permit the island of Formosa to fall into Red hands.

Marshall's statement on the veto came after he denied that old prejudices, growing out of clashing views over the Chinese Reds coming to power, had played a part in the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

He said: "I don't think that had any connection with it whatsoever."

Truman Backs Beef Ceilings

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—President Truman today gave emphatic support to the beef price ceilings now being put into effect.

He told his news conference that protests against the new ceiling orders by packers and others were the same old 1946 fight over again. He indicated he would not be swayed by them.

He said he approved the price orders of Administrator Michael DiSalle and they will be enforced.

Recalling the 1946 controversy and agitation which led to the removal of meat price controls effected during World War II, Truman said current cries stem from the fact that whenever you tread on the toes of anybody they have to scream.

The DiSalle orders call for progressive reductions in the prices paid for live cattle and for a total reduction of nine or ten cents a pound at retail by October.

Tanks Rip 10 Miles To Parallel

TOKYO, Friday, May 11 (AP)—Allied tanks smashed within 10 miles of parallel 38 on the western front Thursday in the battle of Korea—a battle described by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as possibly turning the tide against world Communism.

Ridgway, United Nations commander, said that because of Allied successes in Korea, history might record "that the crest of the communist wave has been broken."

Van Fleet had said earlier that he felt more confident of whipping the Reds now than he did at the outset of the Chinese and Korean Red offensive April 22. After 10 days and losses of an estimated 75,000 men, the Reds began a withdrawal that—in most sectors—still continues.

Red supply lines have been hit round-the-clock by Allied fighters and bombers. More than 650 sorties were flown by dusk Thursday.

Moser, assistant professor of romance languages; Dr. Robert J. Clements, professor and head of the department of romance languages; Dr. Henry A. CONSUMER STEEL CUT
WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—Officials disclosed today that more than half of the nation's record-size output of steel may be set aside for defense-supporting programs in July—and still more in August.
