

Final Touches

READY FOR MAY DAY—May Queen Martha Lee Baltzell tries on her gown and has Charlotte Stine, one of the senior attendants, check her coiffure, in preparation for the ceremonies to be held before Old Main at 3:30 p.m. today.

May Day Features Crowning Of Queen

Martha Lee Baltzell, a senior in Home Economics from Reno, Pa., will be crowned May Queen at the May Day ceremonies beginning at 3:30 p.m. today on the front campus of Old Main.

Over 3000 students and parents are expected to attend according to Mary Brewer, assistant to the Dean of Women and advisor for May Day.

In case of rain the affair will be moved to Recreation Hall.

Maid of Honor for Miss Baltzell will be Louise Robertson, of Reading, a freshman.

Attendants to the Queen are seniors, Sara L. Sechler and Charlotte Stine; juniors, Addell Owen and Melissa Ward; sophomores, Cassandra Caraway and Mary Eyerly; freshmen, Phoebe Erickson and Juliana Fees.

Heralds and Jesters

Heralds are Virginia Smith and Barbara Werts. Sonia Goldstein and Barbara Klopp are jesters.

Twenty senior women who have been outstanding in campus activities have been chosen for the Honor Arch. They are Ruth Aaron, Eileen Bonnett, Audrey Brua, Gay Brunner, Bettina dePalma, Rose Eifert, Jo Ann Esterly, Nancy George, Sally Greenberger, Suzanne Halperin, Ruth Johnson, Betty Jones, Lois Kenyon, Nancy Metzger, Helen Pond, Virginia Richard, Janet Rosen, Suzanne Scurlfield, Joan Wentzel and Ella Louise Williams.

Virginia Miller, retiring vice-president of WSGA, is general chairman for the program. Janet Herd and Esther Beck, presidents of their living units, are co-chairmen of ceremonies.

(continued on page eight)

Ag School Offers Two-Week Course

A two-week dairy husbandry supervisors' training course started Wednesday.

This is one of five, two-week courses that the Dairy Husbandry and Extension departments hold during the year. It entails a study of dairy husbandry management involving milk output, feed consumption, general costs, and upkeep.

The course is from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily plus a few night sessions. Herbert Gilmore, dairy husbandry extension representative, is in charge of the May 10-24 session.

Four women and 18 men are enrolled in the course.

Violin Artist To Perform On Monday

Paul F. Chalfant, violinist, a member of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, will be presented in concert Monday in the State College high school auditorium.

The 24-year-old violinist is one of the youngest members of the orchestra. He ranks as one who already has made his way in music even though he is just on the threshold of his career, PSCA officials said.

He will be accompanied by his twin sister, Mrs. Kenneth H. Gee, 232 E. Nittany avenue, State College.

Chalfant is a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory of Music and formerly assisted in the Department of Music at the University of Tulsa.

At Oberlin he was chosen during his last year in school as the violin soloist for the Bach B Minor Mass. He occupied the first chair in the orchestra the entire year of 1949.

During the same year he was invited to be soloist with the Harrisburg Symphony Orchestra, and played one concert with this organization.

He has been active in string ensemble work. His Oberlin string quartet performed in concert, as did a similar group in Oklahoma. One of his solo appearances in the southwest was on invitation of the Oklahoma teachers at their state convention, when he played in company with Dr. Bela Rozsa, pianist.

71 Student Paintings To Be Shown Today

Seventy-one paintings done in a State College recreation class will be on display today from 12 noon to 10 p.m. in the Fye Building at the corner of Frazier street and College avenue.

5000 Expected To Visit Campus

More than 5000 parents are expected to visit the Penn State campus this weekend for the combined Mother's Day and May Day festivities.

A program which includes athletic events, the crowning of the May Queen, fine arts exhibits, open houses, and dramatics and musical events is scheduled for the weekend.

The outdoor part of the program may be disrupted by bad weather. Today will be cloudy and cool with a few showers, according to the Associated Press.

Booth Chairmen To Meet Monday

Chairmen of individual organization booths for the Spring Carnival will meet Monday at 7 p.m. in 405 Old Main, William Zakor, Spring Week chairman, announced yesterday.

Carnival procedure and booth placement and size will be announced and explained, he said.

Art Exhibit To Include Puppet Show

Puppet shows, pottery and sculpture demonstrations, and pantomimes will be presented at the Temporary Union Building this weekend in connection with the Combined Arts Festival.

Scheduled for today are a sculpture demonstration from 2 to 4 p.m.; the pantomime drama "Mad Tea Party" from Alice in Wonderland at 2 and 4:30 p.m.; and a pottery demonstration at 2:30 p.m.

Tomorrow, "Mad Tea Party" will be presented at 2 and 4:30 p.m., and the sculpture demonstration will be given from 3 to 5 p.m.

Puppet Shows

Puppet shows will be presented at 9:15 and 11 a.m. Monday; a pottery demonstration, at 10 a.m.; and three pantomimes—"Mad Tea Party," "Memories," and "At the Races"—at 7:30 p.m.

Taking part in the pantomimes are John Pakkanen, Patricia Marsteller, Raymond Ricci, and Janice Berg in "Mad Tea Party;" Edward Girod and Rudolph Valentino in "At the Races;" and Jeanne Reist and Sonya Tilles in "Memories."

The Combined Arts exhibits now open will continue until May 20 in the Temporary Union Building, the third floor of Main Engineering and the Pattee Library.

The fine arts exhibit located at (continued on page eight)

Elson Ruff To Speak At Chapel

Dr. G. Elson Ruff, editor of "The Lutheran" and editor-in-chief of the United Lutheran Publications House, the Muhlenberg Press, will speak in Chapel at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

The Chapel choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willa Taylor, with George Ceiga at the organ, will sing "Sanctus" (Verdi), from the Requiem Mass they sang at their recent concert.

Born in Dunkirk, N.Y., Dr. Ruff attended the University of Pittsburgh and a Lutheran theological seminary. He received his B.A. degree from Thiel College, which later gave him the degree of Litt. D. He earned his M.A. at the University of Pennsylvania.

After he began a career as newspaperman with the Philadelphia Inquirer, Dr. Ruff decided to enter the ministry. He served as a clergyman for 14 years in Shaverton and Schuylkill Haven, Pa. Since 1937 he has been with the United Lutheran Publishing House in Philadelphia, first as book editor and as editor-in-chief since 1945.

A student of social-religious conditions throughout the world, Dr. Ruff recently spent several months in some of the "Iron Curtain" countries, traveling as far east as Warsaw.

First Inklings Hits Stands Next Week

Inklings, new campus literary magazine, will be on sale for Spring Week-end, Samuel Vaughan, editor, said yesterday. The circulation staff has already met with much success selling one-issue subscriptions to the faculty, Vaughan said.

The magazine will contain fiction, poems, feature columns, and an introductory page to the magazine written by the editors. Most of the articles are illustrated and each features a thumbnail sketch and photo of the author.

"An Inklings of Greatness" will honor persons who have done an outstanding service for the College who have received little previous recognition. Columns on books and music have been written by William L. Werner, professor of American literature, and G. W. Henninger, associate professor of music. The magazine will also feature two interviews with prominent lecturers who have spoken on campus.

Stories were written by Patricia Roseberry, Seymour Rubenfeld, Helen Jaskol, Joyce Kappes, Richard Martz, and Peter Whelan. Poems are by Thomas Hepler, Anne Pinkovitz, Madeline Gardner, Yvonne Carter, and Marilyn Levitt.

Eisenhower Expected Home This Weekend

President Milton S. Eisenhower is expected to return from Washington, D.C. this weekend. The Prexy left the College Tuesday to attend UNESCO meetings and meetings of the executive committee of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities.

Three Additional Booths Approved For Carnival

Three additional booths have been given final approval by the Spring Week committee. This brings to 53 the number of entertainment booths to be set up at the third annual Spring Carnival which opens Thursday.

Kappa Delta Rho fraternity will auction members of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority at "The Sultan's Slave Market." The girls will be put up for auction one by one, each going to the highest bidder, who then may take his slave girl with him for a designated time anywhere on the carnival lot.

Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity's "Play Ball" will feature a ball toss at milk bottles.

Bearded Lady
A bearded lady will be one of the features at Phi Mu sorority's "Sideshow."

Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority and Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity will join in presenting the "Mirthful Minstrels."

A puppet show will be featured by Delta Gamma sorority and Phi

Living Units Open
Women's living units will be open to visitors from 2 to 3 p.m. today. Teas will be held for mothers. Sorority suites will also be open from 2 to 3 p.m.

The West Dorms and all fraternities will hold their open houses today and tomorrow from 1 to 6 p.m.

The School of Chemistry and Physics will conduct tours of all laboratories this afternoon, while the School of Engineering will open all its buildings to visitors from 1:30 to 8 p.m. The Schools of Home Economics and Physical Education will also be open for visitors.

May Day ceremonies will get underway at 3:30 p.m. today in front of Old Main.

Sports Program

This afternoon's sports program includes the all-Penn State Olympic track meet at 1 p.m. on Beaver Field, a tennis match with Syracuse at 2 p.m. and a lacrosse game with the Maryland Lacrosse Club at 2 p.m. on the golf course.

Combined Arts exhibits will be in the Temporary Union Building, third floor of Main Engineering building, and in the Pattee Library. There will also be pottery, puppetry, sculpture and pantomime demonstrations at the TUB today and tomorrow.

Dairy Exposition

The Penn State Dairy Exposition will begin at 8:30 this morning and continue throughout the day. Demonstrations of a model torpedo will take place from 2 to 4:20 p.m. today and 6:40 to 9 tonight at the water tunnel.

Tonight, Players will present two shows at 8 p.m., "John Bull's Other Island" will be at Center Stage and "Lady in the Dark" at Schwab Auditorium.

The College Symphony Orchestra's concert tomorrow at 3 p.m. in Schwab Auditorium rounds out the events for the weekend.

GAREY TO SPEAK

Dr. John C. Garey, professor of bacteriology will address the Faculty Luncheon Club at the Hotel State College at noon Monday on the subject, "Antibiotics."

Kappa Sigma fraternity as they present their "Follies Berserk." Delta Upsilon will set up a bowling pin which must be knocked over by a bowling ball suspended from the ceiling on the return swing, after passing the pin.

Horror House

Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity and Chi Omega sorority plan a joint "Horror House."

West Dorms will build a "Foul Shooting" booth.

The Association of Independent Men will enter a "Guess the (Continued on page three)