

AIM Elections Hit At Council Meeting

By DAVE JONES and TED SOENS

Charges were made last night that last week's AIM Board of Governors election was conducted contrary to the AIM constitution. Joseph Galati, parliamentarian of the West Dorm Council, attempted to create a council committee to investigate the election, find out if it was run according to the AIM constitution, and take the results to the board of governors.

A clause in the AIM constitution prohibits political party influence in board of governors elections.

Moved To Next Order

Before action could be taken the council moved to the next order of business by a 14-1 vote on a motion introduced by Charles Brewer. Two members abstained.

Galati proposed that such a committee would have the power to summon any council member or area resident for questioning concerning the matter. He said the committee would not be formed to degrade AIM, but to determine if the elections were unconstitutional.

John Clark was active in defeating the proposal. Clark said he helped defeat it "because I could not see us going off half-cocked again. If they have proof," he added, "let them take it to Tribunal." Galati said he was considering such action.

Galati Charges Clark

Galati said he felt the motion was defeated because "some members of the council were afraid they would be involved in a campus political smear." He charged Clark with having confidential information that the elections were unconstitutional.

Clark denied having such information, saying the affair was a result of "frustrated party politicians who don't have what it takes to run for an office." Galati was nominated for the AIM presidency, but withdrew in a letter to the board prior to the election.

The affair was brought to light
(Continued on page four)

Dairy Show Champions Announced

Martha Buganich is a grand champion fitter and Howard Davis is grand champion showman of the 26th annual Dairy Exposition, held Saturday.

Miss Buganich, a junior in dairy husbandry, won a clipmaster and the Falklands Farm trophy. Davis, a dairy husbandry senior, won a gold medal and trophy awarded by the Dairy-men's League Co-operative Association and a wrist watch awarded by the Supplee-Wills-Jones Co.

Besides the showing and fitting of 72 dairy cows, there were also tours of the Dairy Building; displays, the professors and coeds milking contests, a banquet, the ice cream mold contest, and the ice cream and milk judging contest.

Dairy Demonstrations

Inside the Dairy Building, demonstrations of ice cream making were given by Leslie Shallenberger. The cheese manufacturing process was explained by Wesley Menzel.

In the ice cream mold contest, William Hershey won with his mold of a box of chocolates. Fred Geyer and Leslie Shallenberger placed second and third with their molds of cakes.

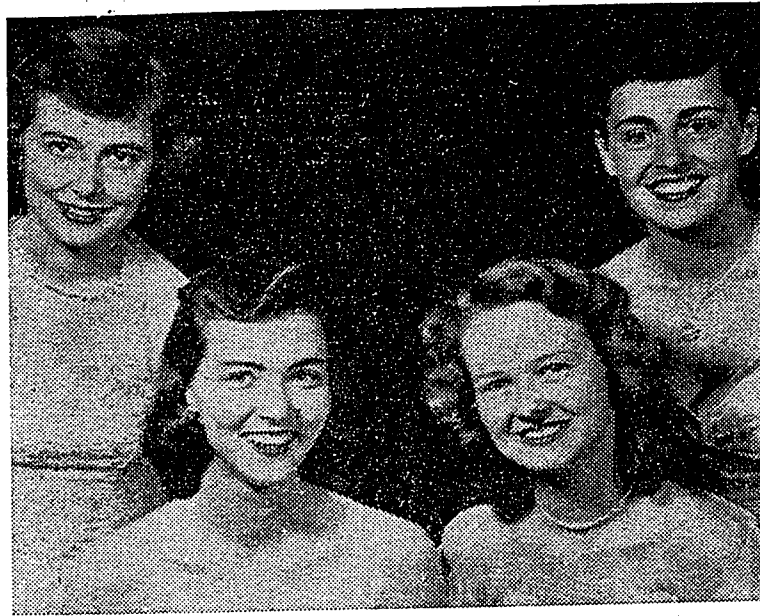

Hershey was awarded a one-year subscription to "The Confectionary-Ice Cream World" and $10. Geyer won $5 and Shallenberger also won a subscription.

The winner of the amateur division of the ice cream and milk judging contest, James Hall, won a prize awarded by the Wyandotte Chemical Co.

Watch Awarded

Marvel Heinsohn won a wrist watch awarded by the Supplee-Wills-Jones Milk Co. by taking first place in the professional division.
(Continued on page seven)

Spring Week Ceremonies Open With Parade Tonight

FINALISTS FOR Miss Penn State: (left to right) Barbara Klopp, Sara Sechler, Joan Hutchon, June Reinhard. The winner will be chosen at the Coronation ceremonies to be held at 8 tonight in Schwab Auditorium.

College Queen To Be Chosen

Spring Week festivities open tonight with a parade and the crowning of Miss Penn State.

President Milton S. Eisenhower, Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh; and William Jeffrey, soccer coach, will choose Miss Penn State during the coronation ceremonies at 8 tonight in Schwab Auditorium.

Joan Hutchon, Barbara Klopp, June Reinhard, and Sara Sechler have been chosen finalists in the contest by the Spring Week committee.

The parade preceding the coronation will form on Avenue H near the Dairy Barns at 6:35 tonight.

Blue Band To Play

The Penn State Blue Band and the State College Drum and Bugle Corps will march in the parade and each of the four finalists in the Miss Penn State contest will ride in formal attire aboard a float decorated by one of the women's honor societies.

Decorated cars publicizing booths in the Carnival Thursday are expected to be entered in the parade, David Schmuckler, of the Spring Week Committee, said yesterday.

The parade will move down Shortlidge road, to College avenue, to Burrows road, to Pollock road, and end at Schwab Auditorium.

Queen To Reign

Frank Lewis will be in charge of the entertainment program at the auditorium, with Mary Anne Hanna, last year's winner, crowning the Miss Penn State who will reign over this year's Spring Week activities.

Arnold Taylor's quintet will play at the ceremonies and the "Four Sharps and a Flat" a vocal quintet composed of Earl Baker, William Detweiler, David Margolf, Polly Potter, and Richard Wrentmore, will sing. Edwin Lefkowitz and Raymond Rachkowski will present comedy routines.

Scabbard and Blade, campus military honorary, will serve as honor guard for the coronation.

Fraternities Sponsor

Joan Hutchon was sponsored by Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, Barbara Klopp by Delta Tau Delta fraternity, June Reinhard by Delta Upsilon, and Sara Sechler.
(Continued on page four)

NSA Petition To Be Taken To Harrisburg

See Editorial Page Four

Four representatives of the student body will present the absentee voting petition today to the Senate Committee of Constitutional Changes in Harrisburg.

They are William Bair, president of the sophomore class; David Fitzcharles, absentee voting committee chairman; Nancy George, Panhellenic president; and William Klisanin, president of the National Student Association.

Arrangements will be made in Harrisburg to present the petition to the House Elections Committee.

The absentee voting petition calls for a constitutional amendment to legalize absentee voting. For adoption the amendment requires passage by two sessions of the legislature and a referendum by the voters. A previous absentee voting law in 1923 was ruled unconstitutional by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Parmi Nous Hat Society Taps 57

Parmi Nous, senior men's honorary, will tap 18 senior and 39 junior men at 7 a.m. today.

Senior tappers include Leonard Abrams, William Aiken, Donald Ashenfelter, William Ashenfelter, James Beaver, Casimir Borowy, Carlton Durling, George Emig, Robert Freebairn, and Lawrence Giancola.

Frank Gross, William Hankey, Robert Huling, Jesse Miller, Theodore Robertson, Alan Uhl, John Wilcox, and Charles Wilson.

Junior students tapped include Robert Alderdice, John Allison, Leonard Bartek, Arthur Betts, Jack Brown, Ronald Coleman, Bernard Cooper, Edward Davis, Ralph Egolf, Peter Fairchok, Florenz Fenton, Dudley Foster, Robert Free, James Geffert, and George Hamilton.

Richard Hartle, Edward Hoover, William Hopper, Chandois Johnson, Thomas Jurchak, Louis Koszarek, Marvin Krasnansky, Arthur Lukens, Jay McMahan, David Mutchler, and John Pakkanen.

James Polard, Paul Poorman, Peter Raidy, William Raymond, William Reese, Millard Rehburg, William Santel, Peter Sarantopoulos, Len Shephard, James Wharton, Owen Wilkinson, Hardy Williams, and James Wylie.

Those men tapped will be initiated on Thursday.

Penn State Club To Hold Elections

The Penn State Club's annual elections will be held at 7 tonight in 405 Old Main.

Running for president will be Wayne Homan and Lewis Hoover; vice-president, Arnold Gasche and Moylan Mills; secretary, Delle Riordan and David Thomas; treasurer, Carl Espey; social chairman, William Parks and Herbert Kulman; athletic chairman, Peter Lansbury; publicity chairman, Joseph Bower and Cosmo Fazio; and for parliamentarian, Ray Evert and Joseph Rubert.

Test Application Deadline Tonight

Tonight at midnight is the deadline for applications for the Selective Service College Qualification Test.

The deadline pertains to all testing dates, May 26, June 15, June 30, and July 12.

Applications may be obtained from any draft board and not necessarily the local board of each particular student.

Debaters Compete In Eliminations

The men's debate team will compete in the elimination round of the annual term end speaking contest at 7 tonight in 305 Sparks.

Each member of the team will speak for no more than ten minutes on the question, "What steps, if any, should be taken towards forming a new international organization?"

Finals will be held tomorrow night. The two winners will receive gold gavels. The inter-squad contest, which is open to the public, will round up this year's activities for the men's team.

Senior Killed Instantly; 3 Others Hurt In Crash

Donald MacIntire, 21, a senior in journalism, was killed early Sunday morning in an automobile accident on Route 322 while returning from Philipsburg.

MacIntire, who would have graduated in June, was one of four passengers in the car. All were members of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

George A. Weber, a senior in psychology, driver of the car, was taken to the Philipsburg State Hospital where he was treated for a possible concussion and back injury.

Casimir M. Borowy, co-captain of the 1951 swimming team, was treated for brush burns of the right knee. He was the only one not thrown from the car in the crash.

Donald MacIntire

Edward L. Smith Jr., junior in mechanical engineering, was taken to the College Infirmary where he was treated for multiple bruises and a back injury.

The car, going down the mountain road, hit the shoulder while attempting to make a slight bend in the road. Police said the car rolled over several times before coming to a halt. It was damaged beyond repair.

MacIntire's body was found about 50 feet from the car. He was killed instantly as a result of a crushed skull.

Police said an inquest will be held.

MacIntire, son of Lawrence E. and Margaret Hays MacIntire, of Chester, was president of his fraternity, advertising director of Froth, and art editor of Inking.

Funeral services will be held in Chester with interment in Chester Rural Cemetery. The death was the fourth in Centre County this year as a result of automobile accidents.

Top Seniors To Be Chosen

Postal card ballots for the choosing of outstanding seniors to be awarded honorary titles at class night ceremonies in Recreation Hall, June 10, have been mailed to all seniors, Herbert Stein, co-chairman of the class night committee, said yesterday.

The cards must be returned by Wednesday, May 16.

Twelve senior men have been placed on the ballot sent to graduating senior men. They will vote for five to be named spoon man, barrel man, cane man, pipe orator, and class donor.

The women's ballot contains no list of nominees. Senior women will list on the ballot the names of six outstanding graduating women. Bow girl, slipper girl, fan girl, mirror girl, class donor, and class poet will be chosen from the women receiving the highest votes.

Final Exams

Final examination schedule appears on pages 6 and 7 in today's Collegian.

Crafts Projects Now On Display

The annual spring exhibit sponsored by the Industrial Education Society began yesterday and will continue until Saturday, Howard Guest, chairman of the exhibit committee, announced.

The display consists of projects in electricity, basketry, plastics, ornamental iron, woodworking, machine shop, and leather, all of which were made by students in secondary education who plan to teach the same work upon graduation.

The exhibits are located at Rea and Derick's Drug store and on the fourth floor of Burrows near the Industrial Arts office.