

Contest Registration Will Begin Today

Registration for all students entering the annual John Henry Frizzell Extempore Speaking Contest will take place at 7 p.m. today in 121 Sparks. All undergraduates, except previous prize winners, are eligible.

At this meeting each entrant must select a topic from lists provided, or may choose a topic of his own subject to the approval of the committee in charge.

Members of the debate squads will not be permitted to use debate topics or other forensic contest topics in either the eliminations or the finals.

Each contestant will speak for five minutes without notes in the eliminations next Thursday. Finalists will speak for eight to ten minutes without notes May 28.

The winner will receive the Pennsylvania State College prize of $50 and the John Henry Frizzell award of merit in extemporaneous speaking. The Forensic Council prize of $25 and the Frizzell award of merit will go to the runner-up.

The Frizzell speaking contest is more than a half-century old. Originally known as the Junior Oratorical Contest, it later became the Sophomore Extempore Speaking Contest. It is now run as an annual contest in honor of John Henry Frizzell, the first head of the Department of Speech, who retired with emeritus rank June 30, 1946 after nearly 45 years of teaching.

Parmi Nous --

Alumni

Among the names that appear in the lengthy register of Parmi Nous are such names as B. C. Jones, president of the Penn State Alumni Association; Bob Higgins, former State football coach; Earl Edwards, head football coach at Michigan State; Charlie Speidel, wrestling coach; Curt Stone, former Nittany track star, and All-American football players, Glen Killinger, '21, and Sam Tamburo, '48.

It is the "l'esprit de State," that is the main reason for existence of Parmi Nous and all other hat societies on campus that have grown up since Parmi Nous made its appearance 43 years ago.

Galati --

That Klingensmith has been active in State party politics was confirmed last night by Murray Goldman, party chairman.

Klingensmith had previously denied in a letter to Collegian that he had been approached.

Galati also said last night that he had dropped his plans to take the matter before All-College Cabinet. He said, however, he planned to bring his information to the attention of the AIM Board of Governors.

West Dorm Council Wednesday night turned down his proposal to sponsor an investigation.

EXA

The "advanced design" 35 precision miniature— priced at 133.50

Just follow these 3 steps

- 1 COMPOSE YOUR PICTURE IN THE REFLEX VIEWFINDER. One lens is used both for viewing and picture taking. You see the true picture you will get on the film — no matter how close or far you are from the subject.
- 2 TURN THE FOCUSING RING FOR SHARPNESS, SET THE DIAPHRAGM RING FOR THE CORRECT AMOUNT OF LIGHT. The Exa lets you make the picture the way you want — because you see all the details before you shoot.
- 3 PRESS THE SHUTTER RELEASE TO TAKE THE PICTURE. Once you take the picture, double exposure is impossible. The film is automatically moved to the next frame when you wind the shutter again.
