

700 More Women To Enroll

Carnival Beats Rain; Most Booths Open

See Pictures, Page Two
By JIM GROMILLER

For every Spring Carnival there must be some rain it seems! But yesterday, for the first time the rain failed to conquer, and by evening nearly every booth was operating. The third annual Spring Carnival went on as scheduled despite the downpour which caught most booths off guard at 1:20 p.m. The rain came in two heavy showers, beginning just 20 minutes after the carnival opened. Most booths closed for the afternoon, revised plans, then re-opened with new banners in the evening. An intermittent drizzle throughout the evening failed to keep the crowds away.

Jet Planes To Fly Over Parade Area

Air Force and Navy planes will fly over State College tomorrow afternoon as ROTC cadets from the three branches of the armed forces and airmen stationed here will join community groups in the Armed Forces Day parade.

The first jet planes will streak over the area shortly after 2 p.m., the time the parade is scheduled to begin. A flight of fighter planes is scheduled thirty minutes later, thirty minutes after that, jet planes of the U.S. Navy should pass over the area.

Cpl. Irvin Moyer, 21-year-old Bellefonte hero who is home from Korea under the rotation plan, will appear with President Milton S. Eisenhower, chief marshal, and others in reviewing the

(continued on page eight)

Booths Operated

Booths with themes fitting the weather, Delta Delta-Delta sorority and Theta Chi fraternity's "Dunka Delta" booth and Phi Kappa Psi fraternity's "Mud Bath", managed to draw customers throughout the afternoon.

A decision to keep the carnival operating was held in abeyance until about 4:30 p.m. when at a hurried conference of the Spring Week committee it was decided not to postpone.

The ferris wheel, a noted addition to this year's carnival, was crowded throughout the evening.

Variety Shows

Booths featuring variety shows posted standing room only signs. Kappa Delta Rho fraternity brought their "slaves" out front for review before conducting their slave market inside. According to the rules the man winning the girl was allowed to take her

(continued on page eight)

Charlie Spivak Will Play For Senior Ball Tonight

Charlie Spivak's orchestra, one of the most popular bands ever to appear on campus, will return tonight to Recreation Hall for the annual Senior Ball.

The man who plays the "sweetest trumpet in the world" set the record for the largest attendance at a Penn State dance when he appeared on campus for the senior dance in 1947, and nearly duplicated the mark at last year's Senior Ball.

The theme for the dance will be built around barbershop quartets of old with four large song books containing portions of popular campus songs set up in front of the band stand.

Walter Vilsmeier is chairman of the senior dance committee.

Tickets at SU

Tickets will be on sale today at the Student Union desk in Old Main and will also be on sale at the door tonight. They are $4 a couple.

John Erickson, president of the graduating class, will announce the senior class gift choice at intermission.

The selection was made from among a campus radio station, an ambulance, a gridiron statue, a grand piano, a scholarship fund, a gateway project, and a student press. Seniors voted earlier in the month for their choice.

Committee

Otto Grupp, William Barr, Jo Ann Esterly, and Joseph Lenchner served on the committee which proposed the list of possible gifts for the senior ballot.

Spivak, who heads a nine-year-old band, was born in New Haven, Conn. He began studying the trumpet while in grade school, and in spite of the fact that his family had chartered a medical career for him, he went ahead with music, studying under George Hyer of the New Haven Symphony Orchestra.

Later he joined the Dorsey Brothers' orchestra along with Glenn Miller, Skeets Herfut, and Bob Crosby.

When Ray Noble came to Am-

Charlie Spivak

erica, Spivak was the first musician to be signed for Noble's band.

On his own, Spivak became the highest paid free-lance trumpeter in radio, playing on the Ford Symphony Hour, and the Kate Smith and Fred Allen programs. After forming his own band he was signed for his first big engagement by the Glenn Island Casino.

Five feet, eight inches tall with brown hair and blue eyes, Spivak still blushes at a compliment. An avid baseball fan, he likes to drop around to the major league dressing rooms and chat with the players.

Inductions Postponed To Aug. 20

Drafting of college students has been postponed to Aug. 20 in order to give draft boards an opportunity to receive and judge the results of the Selective Service College Qualification Tests, Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, said yesterday.

No inductions will be postponed beyond Aug. 20, Hershey told state officials.

Approximately 300,000 college students, it was reported last week, have applied for the test which will be given May 26, June 16, June 30, and July 12. These results will have to be tabulated before any student can be inducted.

Draft boards may use either the scores made in the test, or the scholastic records, in deciding whether to grant student deferments. They are, however, under no obligation to consider them at all, according to the present draft law.

College and high school students will have their inductions

(continued on page eight)

Business Staff Announces 66 Promotions

Sixty-six students have been promoted on the business staff of the Collegian, Edward Shanken, business manager, announced.

Junior Board promotions are circulation staff: Robert Walker, Stanley Zimmerman, Laurence Lee, Ruth Widman, Richard Rostmeyer; classified advertising staff: Eleanor Mazis; promotion staff: Phyllis Kalson, Marion Morgan, Terese Moslak, Ann Porter, Nancy Trembley.

Business staff: George Yusavage, Yolanda Bovalina, Janet Landau, Lina Delle Donne, Robert Kennedy; advertising staff: Helen Brown, Nancy Marcinek, Lewis Hoover, Cyril Farrelly, Morris Shanken, Elizabeth Slotta, Ray Victor, Elizabeth Agnew, Richard Smith, Barbara Potts, Alison Morley, Elizabeth Zimmerman, and Cordell Murtha.

Promotions to Sophomore Board are Jean Geiger, Jean Marohnic, Ann Skapik, Ann Martin, Ann Quigley, Carolyn Pelczar, Nancy Supplee, Pat Prichard, Diane Miller, Shirley Smulyan, Virginia McMillin, Margaret Troutman, Ruth Fine, Gordon Greer, Sven Schiff, Franklin Kelly.

Don Stohl, Ruth Pierce, Peggy Lengwell, Nancy White, Patricia Sechler, Robert Potter, Craig

(continued on page eight)

Fall Time Tables Available Now

Time tables for the fall semester are now on sale in the basement of Willard Hall, the scheduling office has announced.

The time tables, selling for 15 cents each, are to be used in pre-registration Monday and Tuesday.

A complete schedule of class periods appears on the cover of the book. The tenth sequence should be corrected to read "M. Th. 2:10 W. 4:10," rather than M. Th. 3:10 W. 4:10.

Saturday classes, with the exception of some laboratory courses, have been eliminated.

Final registration will take place Sept. 13, 14, and 15, with classes beginning at 8 a.m., Sept. 17.

President Announces Change; 4 West Dorms To House Coeds

See Editorial On Page Four

An additional 700 women will be admitted to the College next fall to overcome the expected drop in male enrollment, boosting the coed population to a new all-time high of 2700 or more.

President Milton S. Eisenhower said today that only by admitting more woman students could the College achieve 95 per cent occupancy of its dormitories, which he described as necessary in order to meet all payments on the College's $16,300,000 debt.

The President, in announcing that incoming coeds would be assigned to Irvin, Watts, Jordan, and Thompson Halls, emphasized that the plan should be considered as an emergency measure and not permanent policy. He said the College would return to its former policy as soon as male enrollment returns to normalcy. "This housing plan," he explained, "was thrust upon us by conditions beyond our control. Our responsibilities are such that from the outset we must be sure that our facilities will be fully occupied for the duration of the emergency. In that way, and in that way only, can we meet our obligations to the College and to the state."

He reiterated that the College would adhere to its established policy of requiring all freshmen to live on campus. As many as possible will be assigned to the West Dorm area, and the others will be assigned to Nittany and Pollock dormitories.

Priority System He said a quota of rooms had been reserved in the West Dorm area for upperclassmen, and that these assignments will be made according to a priority system yet to be worked out.

He expressed confidence that it would be possible to accommodate all upperclassmen wishing to live in the Nittany-Pollock area.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Women were housed in the Tri-Dorm area during World War II. With the return of normal peace-time enrollment, the dormitories were turned over to male housing.

Brenner, Lewis Receive Gavels

Marlin Brenner, debate team manager, took first place in the inter-squad term-end speaking contest held Wednesday night. Brenner and runner-up David Lewis were awarded gold gavels.

They competed against the four other finalists, David Swanson, Frank Fasick, Edwin Leftwith, and Rubert Matasick, who were picked in the elimination round Tuesday night.

The topic used in the contest was "What steps, if any, should be taken towards forming a new international organization?"

Brenner contended that a new organization is not necessary because there are already organizations existing on three levels: the UN level, the regional agreement level, and the level of unilateral agreement.

He said that world leadership from the United States is what is needed to make the existing machinery work at its full potential.

Lewis favored adopting the Hoover-Kennedy plan of defense, which would strengthen the western hemisphere into a Gibraltar.

Combined Arts Lists Schedule For Today

Combined Arts demonstrations at the Temporary Union Building today are:

9:15 a.m.—Puppet show

10:00 a.m.—Pottery demonstration

7:30 p.m.—Drama pantomime

—"Mad Tea Party"

8:00 to 11:00 p.m.—Sculpture demonstration

RILW Plans '52 Program

The Religion-In-Life Week committee has decided to include faculty luncheons and fireside discussions in its program again next year.

Luther Harshbarger, adviser to the committee, reported that a total of 8,032 persons attended the various programs of this year's Religion-In-Life Week. Eighteen-hundred attended church services; firesides, 1419; and classroom discussions, 1415.

This year's RILW committee, including Emerson Jones, Joan Hutchon, Ralph Cash, Dr. Philip J. Elving, Prof. Norman Theilke, Lenore States, and Harshbarger, will meet soon to set up a committee for next year.

Letters will be sent to campus and local religious organizations asking each to send its president and adviser to the next meeting. The deans of the schools and All-College President James Worth will also be invited.