

Trackmen Vie Tomorrow For Intercollegiate Honors

Although Penn State cannot be rated a contender in the race for team honors in IC-4A track meet which begins tomorrow at Franklin Field in Philadelphia, at least one of the 14 outstanding Nittany competitors may wear an individual Intercollegiate crown come Saturday night.

On a basis of the relative strength of the opposition to be met by Lion cindermen, Bob Freebairn seems to have the most chance to gain an individual title for the Lions.

Threats to Freebairn's aspirations are numerous. Villanova's Fred Dwyer beat Freebairn during the indoor IC-4A's with a 4:16.2 effort but will have to be much faster to win Saturday. Carl Joyce from Georgetown, indoor Intercollegiate runnerup, Brown's Walt Molineux, heptagonal champ, and Manhattan's Pat Duffy can all win it.

Test Shea

In the two mile Chick Werner has Bill and Don Ashenfelter to see if Army's Dick Shea can be beaten—a difficult task as Bill found out when he finished second to the swift cadet for the IC x-country title last fall.

Bill Ash's best this spring was 9:38 against Navy. It's not up to Shea's 9:11 Penn Relay romp, but the Nittany captain has been concentrating on the mile. Aside from Shea and his 60 second eighth lap kick, Georgetown has Penn Relay runnerup Charles Capozzoli as a threat.

In the 220, the Lions have scrappy Bill Lockhart facing Seton Hall's Andy Stanfield. Lockie did a swift 21.9 around one turn against Pitt, but Manhattan's Bob Carty is down to 21.2.

Triple Win

Stanfield, incidentally, will attempt to pull a feat no athlete has done in the 75-year history of the IC-4A's since Penn State's wing-footed Barney Ewell—a triple win in the 100, 220 and broad jump. Even if he does it he won't match Ewell's amazing triple-triple victory of the same three events in 1940, '41, and '42.

The Lions' Ted Roderer took a javelin fifth in the IC's last year and should finish even higher this year. A deterrent to any of Ted's championship hopes lie in the 225 foot throwing arm of Navy's Bob Allison.

Vic Fritts and Jim Herb, a pair of IC indoor high jump champs can win if they can find some of that form which has been conspicuously absent this spring. Trinity's Bob Jachens, who beat Fritts last year with a 6 foot 6 inch jump is the man to beat.

Tough Competition

In the 880 the Lions have Bob Parsons and John McCall. Cornell has Bob Mealy, 1:53 heptagonal champ, and Georgetown has as much in Joe Deady and Joe LaPierre, all with better times than State entries.

John Lauer has been coming on fast in the 440 but he is figured no threat to Cornell's 47.9 Charley Moore.

Guy Kay has done 23.9 in the low hurdles and has a good chance to place. Kay has been concentrating on the quarter but may challenge Cornell's Gour-dine who won the heptagonals with a 23.2. Against Navy, Guy did 24.8 but don't be fooled. The race was run around a 90 degree bend and the time was just .7 from the stadium record.

Owen Wilkinson may cause trouble in the pole vault if he can conquer the 13 foot height which has been his downfall all year.

Mile relayers Lockie, Lauer, Kay, and McCall can break the Penn State record at 3:19.2, but aren't likely to match a 3:13 time Cornell is capable of running.

Maurey Captain Again

Don Maurey, of Clearfield, is the second member of his family to captain a Penn State wrestling team. Jim Maurey, who won Eastern 145-pound honors the same year, captained the 1950 team. Don, who'll captain the 1952 team, won Eastern 137-pound honors this year.

FBI Will Investigate Sports

WASHINGTON, May 23—(AP)—The FBI is looking into restrictions placed upon broadcasting of professional and amateur games, it was announced today. But at almost the same time, bills were introduced in Congress to make sports exempt from anti-trust laws.

Attorney General McGrath announced the FBI investigation. He said the Justice department is receiving a "substantial number of complaints" about "alleged restraints imposed by professional baseball upon the broadcasting and televising of games."

Cover All Sports

But, he said, the investigation will cover all sports, including college football.

The bills were introduced by four members of Congress long interested in baseball:

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.), president of the Western League; Rep. Herlong (D-Fla.), former president of the Florida State Baseball League; Rep. Price (D-Ill.), a former sports writer, and Rep. Mills (D-Ark.), who describes himself as just a fan.

Anti-Trust Laws

Although all four apparently had baseball chiefly in mind, their similar bills did not mention baseball by name, but said that organized sports should be exempt from the anti-trust laws.

These laws long have frightened leaders of organized baseball.

Here's why:

Reserve Clause

When a player signs a professional contract, he becomes the property of the team with which he signs. He remains its property until the team decides to get rid of him.

He cannot peddle his services to another club if he doesn't like the terms he's getting from the team which signed him. "Chattel" has been the word used by some critics to describe such an athlete.

Phi Delts Capture IM Field Events

By SAM PROCOPIO

Phi Delta Theta moved into strong contention for the IM track crown last night, copping the field events with a total of eight team points. The finals for the running events will be run off tonight.

Before tonight's finals, the six men who tied in the 100-yard dash trial heats with times of 11.1 will run a qualifying heat, the three lowest times going into the finals.

Broad Jump

Led by Norman Gage's winning board jump of 19 feet 10½ inches, the Phi Delts won the field events, nosing out Alpha Gamma Rho, defending champions, who finished with six team points.

The Phi Delts tallied their markers on Gage's winning leap and Johnny Reese's fourth in the broad jump and Fred Huston's fifth place in the shot put.

High Jump

Alan Hinkle of Lambda Chi Alpha took the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 8 inches, beating out Beta Theta Pi's Jay McMahan who jumped 5 feet 7 inches.

John Myton, Delta Tau Delta, was third, jumping 5 feet 6 inches. Robert Nicholas, Omega Psi Phi, Herm Sledzik, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Howard Wright, Beta Theta Pi, tied for fourth at 5 feet 5 inches.

Shot Put

James Pitzer of Phi Gamma Delta took first place in the shot put with a throw of 39 feet ½ inches. Dave Douglas of Sigma Chi captured second place, with a put of 37 feet 10½ inches.

Alpha Gamma Rho's big point getter, Charlie Wilson, and Sam Pennybacker, Sigma Phi Sigma, tied for third with throws of 35 feet 7¼ inches.

Following Gage in the broad jump were Robert Farguhar of Phi Gamma Delta and Wilson, AGR. Farguhar jumped 19 feet 7¼ inches while Wilson went 18 feet 11¼ inches. Reese and John Usaitos of Phi Kappa followed in that order.

Hopper 'Doc' Nominees For All-District Team

Outfielder Bill Hopper and pitcher Owen Dougherty are Penn State's nominees for the All-District baseball team, James Coogan, sports editor of public information, announced yesterday.

Coogan said a discussion of District 2's top players will be held at the selection committee meeting in Scranton, Monday. The committee will also select a team to represent the District in the collegiate World Series in Omaha, June 13 to 17.

Mel Paces Bosox To 12-0 Victory

Lefty Mel Parnell had a perfect day at bat, three singles and a double, while pitching the Boston Red Sox to a 12-0 shutout over the lowly St. Louis Browns yesterday afternoon with a fourth-inning performance.

Detroit and New York were rained out in the only other scheduled American League game.

During the slaughter of the Browns, Vern Stephens equalled Luke Appling's three-year-old American League third base fielding record by totaling 10 assists.

In the National League, outfielder Sam Jethroe of Boston lost a costly fly in the sun and the St. Louis Cardinals took it from there to score a 6-5 victory over the Braves.

The Redbird break came in the fourth inning, with St. Louis trailing 3-0. There were two out and runners on first and third when Nippy Jones lifted an easy fly to center. Jethroe had his hands up as if he were ready for a routine catch. But he lost the ball and it struck him in the stomach and dropped to the ground.

Hits Homer

In Chicago, the New York Giants, outfit three to one, needed only one of their four hits—a home run by Monte Irvin—to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 2-1.

Irvin's homer, his third of the season, followed on the heels of a walk to Wes Westrum in the fourth inning and gave the Giants their third victory over the Cubs in as many meetings this season.

The Giants made only three other hits—all singles—off loser Paul Minner while Sal Maglie surrendered 10 safeties to the Cubs.

Cincinnati hopped all over Jim Konstanty in the tenth inning to defeat Philadelphia, 4-3.

The victory, behind the somewhat spotty pitching of Willard Ramsdell, ended a four-game losing streak for the Reds.

Philadelphia held a two-run lead going into the sixth when Cincinnati tied it up. Dick Sisler, hitting safely in his 13th consecutive game, rifled the ball over the left field fence in the tenth with two out to put his club in front again.

Bison Loss Ruins Lion Hopes
The Lion's chances for a District playoff bid were ruined by the Bucknell Bisons Tuesday. Behind the eight hit pitching of Dick Roush, the Bisons defeated Coach Joe Bedenk's team 4-3. The loss lowered the season's record to 8-3.

Tomorrow the Nittanies will attempt to get back on the winning trail when they play Penn at Philadelphia. The team will conclude its trip to Philadelphia, when it plays the Temple Owls, Saturday, in the final away-game of the season.

Hopper, leading batsmen for the Lions, with a .410 average also leads the team in runs-batted-in with 18. The big right-fielder paces the team with six doubles and is tied for the home run leadership with one.

Dougherty Has 5-0 Record

Dougherty, although knocked out of the box in the Bucknell game, was not charged with the loss. He has a 5-0 record for the season, and has fanned 36 batters in 46 innings of pitching.

The team has scored 105 runs in the first 11 games this year and limited its opponents to 36.

Sil Cerchie leads the team in walks and strike-outs. Cerchie has received 14 bases on balls, but has fanned 13 times. Harry Little and Paul Mowry have committed the most errors. Each has made eight miscues. Hopper, Cerchie, and Schoellkopf lead the regulars with perfect 1.000 fielding averages.
