Worth explained, will work to better relations with the faculty and administration.

Appointed to the Paul Smith Award committee by virtue of the offices they hold, were Sally Shoemaker, senior class secretary; Donald Maurey, Athletic Association president; and Worth.

Co-chairmen of the calendar committee are Eleanor Morisuye and Michael Hanek. Robert Alderdice and Joseph Simone were appointed co-chairmen of the campus upkeep and safety committee.

Junior Prom

The junior prom committee members, appointed with aid from Hanek, junior class president, are Merritt Dinnage and Jean Nisley, co-chairmen; Miss Morgan, Glenn Wiggins, Zita Kabeschat, and Haines.

Members of the fun night committee are Marilyn Williams, chairman; Donald Maurey, Betty Anders, David Olmsted, and William Mihalick. Miss Williams explained that the committee would operate during orientation week next fall in sponsoring a fun night for the new students on campus. Cabinet passed a motion making the night a closed affair for new students only. Worth asked all cabinet members to help make the program a success.

Cabinet formed a committee at the request of Laubach, president of AIM, to investigate the possibility of creating a record lending library service for students.

Proposal--

posal, the abolition of Lower Division, was proposed by the committee because the committee believes the required work should not be concentrated in the first two years, but should be distributed through four years study.

The plan is to have students schedule six credits each in English composition, history, and foreign language, in the freshman year.

In the sophomore year, six additional credits in the same language, six credits in social science, 12 credits in natural science or mathematics, and philosophy I, would be scheduled.

As upper-classmen, students would schedule six credits in literature, six additional credits in social science, six credits in art and/or music, philosophy 2 or 3, and three credits in psychology.

Members of the planning committee which presented the proposal are Dr. Franklin B. Krauss, chairman of the committee and professor of Latin; W. L. Werner, professor of American literature; R. Wallace Brewster, professor of political science; Dr. H. H. Arnold, professor of Romance languages; Dr. J. S. Bowman professor of English composition; Aaron Druckman, assistant professor of philosophy; Dr. J. H. Ferguson, professor of political science; F. E. Johnson Jr., professor of mathematics; Dr. A. H. Reede, professor of economics; Ben Euwema, dean of Liberal Arts; and Seth Russell, assistant dean of Liberal Arts.

this type "didn't begin to get to first base" because it could not trap those who have decided ahead of time not to tell the truth.

"Heavenly perjury is all in a day's work," Malin said of those who are devout subversives. He said he had no personal objection to taking the oath, but only disagreed with it on grounds that it wouldn't achieve its intended goal.

Maple Room Closes For Semester

The Home Economics Cafeteria and Maple Room will close today for the semester. Regular food service will resume in the Fall.

Summer Theater Tryouts Scheduled

College students or community residents interested in trying out for the cast or crews of Moss Hart's "Light up the Sky" should contact Kelly Yeaton, assistant professor of dramatics, as soon as possible.

The play will be the first production of the newly-formed Summer Center Stage, an independent venture jointly produced by Warren Smith and Walter H. Walters of the drama department, in co-operation with the College.

Three plays will be given. Directors for the summer season are Kelly Yeaton, Mike Kesdekian, and James Ambandos.

"Light Up the Sky" will run for two consecutive weeks at Center Stage, starting July 4.

side the sphere of cabinet jurisdiction because the persons involved are not students, Wengert said. There are too many worthwhile campus projects to appropriate student funds to persons who may never be students.

2. It would set a precedent for all other groups who need money. If cabinet gave to one group, it would be under obligation to give to all groups.

3. The Campus Chest has been established so that students contribute only once. This contribution would be in violation of that principle.

Others on the committee beside Wengert were Thomas Jurchak, All-College secretary-treasurer, and William Baer, sophomore class president.

Carnival Report

William Zakor, Spring Week chairman, also revealed that over 30,000 tickets had been sold to this year's Spring carnival, the highest number of any of the three annual carnivals. The ticket sale brought in a gross of $2670.37 which was over $550 more than last year's total.

No accurate net profit can yet be determined because all the bills have not been turned in, Zakor said. The committee expects that the profit will approximate $870. This would be $70 more than last year's carnival netted.

Records At Theatre

Recordings made by the original cast of Arthur Miller's tragedy, "Death of a Salesman," will be played tomorrow night from 7:30 to 9 in the Little Theatre, 11 Old Main. There will be a kaleidoscope visual accompaniment.

low the same procedure at 3:30 p.m.

In announcing the change, Kenworthy said that the idea of a single, outdoor ceremony is given consideration every year by the committee, but that many problems have to be overcome. He stated that the committee gave reconsideration to the plans at a special meeting yesterday at the request of President Eisenhower, who is hopeful that this change will enable more of the families and friends of the graduates to attend, as well as having the class all together for their graduation ceremony. If forced inside by inclement weather, Russell will give the address at both ceremonies. Andrew W. Cordier, Executive Assistant to the Secretary General of the United Nations, who was to be the afternoon speaker for the double ceremony has been assigned to a world-wide tour and will not be available.

The baccalaureate service will be held at 11 a.m. on Sunday, June 10 in Recreation Hall as scheduled, with the Class Day ceremony at 7:30 p.m. at the same place.

Taxation Meetings To Close Today

Today will wind up the fifth annual meeting of the Institution on Taxation, in progress here for the last five days.

Pennsylvania's foremost tax authorities have been meeting at the Nittany Lion Inn to consider present-day tax problems and procedures. Thirty lectures were delivered during the course of the discussions.

Among the topics discussed were problems concerning Pennsylvania taxes pending legislation, tax evasion, and all phases of economics.

The meeting is sponsored by the Department of Economics and Commerce and the Liberal Arts General Extension Services.

Among those present at the meeting are J. K. Lasser, author of the best seller, "Your Income Tax"; Roy Blough, member of the Council of Economic Advisors to the President; Donald J. Sherbondy, member of the bar, Supreme Court of the United States; and Paul B. Hartenstien, business representative to the Office of Price Stabilization.
