Memo to Air Force: Penn State's 1950 backfield is headed for Wright-Patterson Field at Dayton, O., and would like nothing better than to be reunited on the football field. And just for good measure, there'll be a tackle in the crowd.

Owen Dougherty, 1950 captain, Vince O'Bara, Tony Orsini and George Jacob played under three coaches in their three years at Penn State and distinguished themselves both offensively and defensively. As Air Force ROTC graduates, they've been assigned to Dayton.

Charles (Chuck) Godlasky, Lion tackle, also will be in the Penn State party as will O'Bara's understudy, Dick Koerber. Their outfit, of which approximately half will go to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in mid-July, numbers more than a hundred.

George F. Avery, Jr., 1951 football manager, has been assigned to Mitchell Air Force Base but if the Air Force needs managerial help, soccer manager Neil S. See will be a candidate. See, who piloted the Penn State soccer team to Iran on its good-will mission, is among the ROTC graduates assigned to Wright-Patterson Field.
