

Poor Man's Paradise

By PAUL POORMAN

Paging through another newspaper published in State College a short time ago, I happened to read Hal Boyle's Column for June 21. I don't mean to imply that I am not a regular reader of Mr. Boyle's daily masterpiece, for I am not, but it just happened to catch my eye that day. I was, in the words of LIU's basketball coach, shocked.

Now before I start, don't get me wrong. Far be it from me to call names and shout words like "plagiarism" to the four winds, and even farther yet to take up any journalistic cudgels at my disposal in defense of Froth, a (ugh) humor magazine published intermittently through the school year here at State. But in this instance, I feel that my friend Ron Bonn, aspiring young editor of the aforementioned magazine, has been uproariously, if perhaps unintentionally, undone.

List of Cliches

Boyle cited in his column a list of cliches used by news commentators during war time, which he says he got from another newspaper columnist. The other columnist says he got it from an Air Force officer in Korea. There can be no doubt that the Air Force officer subscribes to Froth, for the list, word for word, was the same as one authored and composed by this same Ron Bonn and printed in Froth last year.

Apparently the list does bear reprinting, but under the proper credit line. It was published in several other college magazines throughout the country, correctly naming Bonn as the author. And if college humor rags, notorious for pilfering their material (Froth included), can give a proper credit line to the piece, so can Mr.

Boyle, other columnist, AF officer, et al.

The list, which appeared in the October, 1950, Froth reads partially as follows:

"... Planned withdrawal to strengthened positions . . . strengthen positions . . . (we're running.)"

"... Fleeing in confusion . . . (they're running.)"

"... In this hour of crisis, it would be folly to change horses . . ." (election year, Democrat.)

The list goes on and on, and although I would never admit it to Ron's face, it is fairly humorous Bonn himself in a letter to the editor of the newspaper, called the list "hilariously funny." And he should know, he wrote it.

It has been said that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, and I imagine Bonn's size 8 1/2 head is still swelling. But how about a credit line, Mr. Boyle? Help a struggling young journalist out.

Four More Home Ec Lectures Scheduled

Four more lectures have been scheduled for the Summer Forum Series of the School of Home Economics at the College.

The other lecturers, which will be presented at 4:30 p.m. in Room 144 Home Economics Building, will include:

Mary Sweeney, former assistant director, Merrill-Palmer School, Detroit, July 16; Dr. Richard Gerstell, director, State Council of Civil Defense for Pennsylvania, July 23; Dr. Edward C. Henry, professor of ceramics at the College, July 30; and Dr. Frederica Carleton, associate professor of household economics, Syracuse University, August 6.

NITTANY GARD & GIFT SHOP
GIFTS — STATIONERY CARDS
SALT & PEPPER SHAKERS
(Across From Ath)

The Candy Cane
has delicious
White & Dark
Chocolate
Candies
Conveniently
Priced For You.
Also
Various Other
Delectable
Sweets
(Between The Movies)

Distinctive Orange Blossom

Smart, beautiful rings, outstanding in styling and assured fine quality.

CRABTREES
State College, Pa. Jewelers
Registered Jeweler - American Gem Society

24 HOUR PHOTO FINISHING
AT THE
CENTRE COUNTY FILM LAB
NEW LOW PRICES ON JUMBO PRINTS
Complete Line of Photographic Supplies

CENTRE COUNTY FILM LAB

PHONE 4805

122 WEST BEAVER AVE.

Slack JAMBOREE

Values To $8.95

2 Pairs $9.00

Gabs
Tropicals
Sharkskins

ALL COLORS
ALL SIZES

A Little Store—A Big Selection

Pennshire Clothes

100 Ft. Off College Ave.—On S. Frazier St.

SEE PENN'S CAVE

America's Only All-Water Cavern

A Boat Ride of 1 Mile Underground

18 MILES SOUTHEAST OF STATE COLLEGE
5 MILES EAST OF CENTRE HALL
ON ROUTE 95

Open 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. Daily

SMART SHOP'S SUMMER CLEARANCE

Starts TOMORROW THURSDAY, JULY 12

You'll Find Genuine Bargains In Quality Merchandise

SMART SHOP

123 S. Allen St. (Next to R&D Drug Store) All Sales Final