

Injuries Sideline Two Lion Backs

Ted Shattuck, MacAvoy Hurt In Scrimmage

Rip Engle's efforts to whip the Nittany Lion football squad into a smooth working grid machine before the opener with Boston College September 29 hit a snag when halfback Ted Shattuck and quarterback John MacAvoy were injured in a scrimmage Monday afternoon.

Shattuck, who was the Lions third leading groundgainer last season, was badly shaken up during the scrimmage and an examination later showed some badly bruised ribs.

Shoulder Separation

MacAvoy, a freshman who was running number three at the quarterback position behind Tony Rados and Bob Szajna, suffered a separation of the shoulder. Shattuck was released from the infirmary yesterday. MacAvoy will probably be released today.

Dr. A. H. Greiss, team physician, said that Shattuck will probably be back in action in a week while MacAvoy will probably be out for a month.

Third Injury

The injuries were the second and third to hit the Lion gridder. Pete Schoderbek, sophomore guard who showed great promise in spring practice, broke a bone in his foot while working out with the Duquesne High School squad before fall practice started at State.

Meanwhile, Engle has the Lions going through practice sessions twice a day in an effort to work with the team as much as possible before classes begin Monday.

Best All-time Log

Wrestling boasts the best all-time record—193 wins, 50 defeats, 9 ties—in Penn State sports history.

Army, Temple Fill Vacancies On Nittany Soccer Schedule

Two changes will highlight the Penn State soccer schedule this year as the Lions prepare for their opener against Bucknell, here, Oct. 6.

Army and Temple will replace Syracuse and West Chester this year. The Lions defeated Syracuse last year, 2-0, but West Chester edged the Nittanians, 1-0, in an overtime tilt which put the skids on a State winning streak at 21 games. Syracuse has dropped soccer as a varsity sport.

Unknown Quality

Army and Temple are of an unknown quality as far as soccer goes, but the Black Knights of the Hudson could very well give State one of its sternest tests of the coming season. This may be verified by the fact that the West Pointers are defending Eastern Intercollegiate Soccer League champions.

Penn State's success during the season may rely on several newcomers from the freshman team and also some new men from the Swarthmore Center.

Two of the freshmen, Hap Irvin and Jack Pinezich, both of whom made the good-will trip to Iran, may ease Coach Bill Jeffrey's hunt for men to replace the eight men lost through graduation. Irvin saw action at the center last year while Pinezich started at outside right.

Goalie Position Open

Action will be hot and heavy at the goalie slot where Jeffrey will be looking for a replacement for Ron Coder, who allowed but seven goals in nine regularly scheduled contests last year. Charlie Steeley, Red Barrett, Jack Krumrine, and frosh Bob Harris are expected to battle it-out for top honors.

They're In The Red

Only Penn State's swimming, fencing and lacrosse teams have lost more games than they won in the years since their founding.

Frosh Grid Candidates

All freshman interested in playing varsity football are asked to attend the meeting tonight in 10 Sparks at 7 p.m.

Football Managers

Candidates for second assistant managership of varsity football are asked to sign up in 107 Old Main as soon as possible.

Swimming Tests

Swimming tests for freshman men and transfers are being given this week in Glennland Pool at Beaver and Pugh streets. The tests will be given every day the rest of the week.

All freshmen and transfers must take the test to determine whether or not they must schedule swimming in place of phys ed the first semester.
