Debaters Argue Price Control

The national intercollegiate debate topic for this year, Resolved, that the United States should adopt a permanent program of wage and price control, was discussed Tuesday night at the first meeting of the women's debate squad. Returning members from last year's team were present.

Plans were also made for preliminary freshmen and upperclasswomen calls which will be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 3 and 4, respectively, in 2 Sparks.

All interested freshmen and upperclasswomen may attend these preliminary meetings. Freshmen will not be required to try out. However, tryouts for upperclasswomen will be announced at a later date.

Tribunal

Ten more freshmen tried to get out of customs on the grounds that they had attended prep schools and had already gone through customs. They were denied immunity unless they could show they had advance standing in college other than ROTC.

Two second semester students who had advance standing but hadn't gone through customs were also denied immunity. One veteran and a 27 year old freshman were the only ones granted releases from customs. Previously, Tribunal had granted 42 other immunities.

Tribunal Makes Rulings

Tribunal has announced the addition of two more interpretations of freshman customs.

Freshmen are now prohibited from crowding around places of business and busy intersections, and from cheering in public buildings (especially lounges) except those sponsoring athletic events.

Hydraulic Fluid Is Developed For AF Use

The first synthetic, all-weather, high temperature hydraulic fluid and lubricant has been developed by the petroleum refining laboratory at the College for use by the Air Force.

The fluid shows promise of solving many of the perplexing lubrication problems which confront airplane manufacturers. Dr. M. R. Fenske, director of the laboratory, says the fluid was originally designed for use in connection with a much needed constant-speed generator in B-36 planes.

Because the speed of these planes' engines varies from 2900 r.p.m. to 9000 r.p.m. it was difficult to design a generator which operated at 6000 r.p.m. if directly connected to the plane's engine. When a suitable generator was finally developed, it was necessary to find a hydraulic fluid for the generator which could withstand the rigid requirements in these planes.

After two years of intensive study, Dr. Fenske and his crew found the answer in what the "lab folks" call PRL 3039. The fluid had to pass about 30 different tests before it was acceptable to the Air Force. For example, it had to withstand temperatures as low as -65 degrees and as high as 300 degrees F. It had to work at sea level or at 60,000 feet. It had to lubricate successfully in the close tolerance of 50 one-millionths of an inch.

Dr. Fenske does not think he has found a cure-all for all aviation lubrication problems, but he does think he has the answer to the lubrication problems in turbo-prop planes.

Grad Students Eligible For Season Tickets

Graduate students are eligible for faculty-staff season tickets, College Athletic Association officials have announced. The sale will continue at the Athletic Association ticket windows, first floor, Old Main, until the season opens next week.

Season tickets entitle holders to reserved seats in the West Stands for the four home games. The price of $9.60, tax included, represents a saving of $4.80 for the season. Each sale is limited to two tickets.

Book Exchange Still Needs Used Texts

An SOS for college text books has been sent out by the BX.

Frank Kelly, publicity director for the Book Exchange, listed yesterday the 33 texts most urgently needed by students. He said the following are unattainable:

Art 74, "Art In The Western World;" Botany 3, "An Introduction To Plant Science;" Botany 27, "Botany;" Chemistry 1 and 2, "College Chemistry;" Chemistry 3, "General and Applied Chemistry;" Chemistry 20, "Elementary Quantitative Analysis;" Commerce 15, "Transportation;" Commerce 30-31, "Principles of Business Law In Pennsylvania;" Commerce 40-41, "Principles of Accounting;" and Education 1, "Education In A Democracy."

Also included in the cry are: English Literature 25, "Modern Short Stories" and "Great English and American Essays;" English Composition 1, "Writers Guide and Index To English" and "Essentials of English Composition;" Food Nutrition 120, "Foods;" Food Nutrition 121, "Introductory To Foods;" Food Nutrition 150, "Nutrition;" History 19, "Europe In Perspective;" History 20, "Federal Union;" and History 21, "History of the United States."

There are needed: Math 2, "College Algebra;" Math 4, "Plane Trigonometry;" Math 55, "College Algebra;" Meteorology 300, "Weather and Man;" Physical Education 11, "Health Facts For College Students;" Physical Science 7, "Study of the Physical World;" Physics 237, "College Technical Physics;" Physics 285, "College Technical Physics;" Political Science 3, "Government in Modern Society;" Psychology 2, "Psychology and Life;" Sociology 1, all texts; and Zoology 3, "Biology."

Dinks, Bow Ties Not Yet Here

Milton Bernstein, chairman of the Book Exchange Board of Control, announced yesterday that men's dinks and bow ties have not yet arrived. He expects them within the next week and cautions all freshman men to watch for an announcement of their arrival.

In the meantime, men who do not have dinks and bow ties are to wear their name cards and follow all other regulations.

Auto Census Is Extended

Student car owners who neglected to receive or to fill out the auto census card provided at registration may still do so at the Campus Patrol office, on the third floor of Old Main.

The information is essential to the formation of a satisfactory parking program for the present year, Walter H. Wiegand, director of the physical plant said. He added that many of the students had apparently misunderstood the purpose of the census, and had not filled out the cards during formal registration.

A similar census will soon be undertaken among faculty and staff members, and the combined totals will enable the physical

Poor's Best Work

Henry Varnum Poor's Land Grant fresco in Old Main has been termed by the painter's sister, Mrs. Eva Poor Stone, "his best work."

Mrs. Stone and her husband reside in Chapman, Kan., near Abilene, in the house where her famous brother, Henry Varnum Poor, was born. Enroute to New York she and her husband stopped at the College to see the mural.

plant to cope with the parking problem intelligently.

Wiegand said that no other method of determining the exact number of cars in use on campus during a normal day now exists. The census was undertaken to determine the parking requirements for students and faculty members.
