

Coeds Sigh, Actives Fire Five Questions

By BETTIE LOUX

Better make the most of it, rushees. Time is running short, and in another week you'll be buying your own cigarettes. Sisters will once again be sitting in those comfortable arm chairs, and you'll be sprawling on the floor... because, what do you know! You'll soon be pledged!

But along with the endless errands you'll be running, and the little tasks you'll be expected to perform, will be the comforting assurance that you no longer must have quick, ready answers to the famous five questions.

They are: namely, What did you say your name is? What course are you in? Is this your first year on campus? What did you do last summer? Where are you from?

Diaper Changing

The first question may be accompanied by a furtive glance at the name tag, as a whispered "Hetty," "Letty," or "Betty," may not be heard above the din of shrill female voices all asking the same thing. Then a light dawns over the sister's face and she eagerly inquires whether Gretty Pledgethebest is related to so and so who knows so and so. Gretty looks into smoke-filled space, ponders a minute, and then says no, she doesn't think she knows them, but the name sounds familiar. Mutual acquaintance is no more. We pass on to the next question, "What course are you in?"

This is an easy one, because there is sure to be one sister at the feet of the rushee who is a home ec or elementary ed major. This is her cue to rise to the occasion and exclaim, "Oh! Have you had Diaper Changing 2 yet?" "Yes, I had it last semester with Miss Changemequick" . . . so on we go into the mysteries of how to keep a baby sweet and clean, just like they look in magazine pictures.

Reminiscing

Conversation lags . . . a sister smiles brightly. "Is this your first year on campus?" If rushee says no, she was here last year, someone can explain, "Oh how lucky you were not to have to go to a center." Chatter will now be directed into channels of freshman customs, how it feels to be a sophomore, and so on.

On the other hand, if rushee did go to a center, she is bound to find mutual comradeship with a sister who went to the same one. Talk will be punctuated with "Is Prof so and so still there? Did you know Miss Whats-her-name was married? How do you like Penn State?" Rushee, it is hoped, will say something appropriate such as "Well, it's very confusing, but I seem to be getting around all right."

Place Unknown

The question, "What did you do on your summer vacation?" can be eased in subtly. Rushee with glorious tans undoubtedly lounged on the beaches of New Jersey, all summer long. Or, of

Marriages

Abramson-Feinberg

Jacqueline Feinberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Feinberg, and Martin Abramson were married Sept. 9 at Curtis Arboretum Gardene in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Abramson was a psychology major, and is a member of Sigma Delta Tau. Mr. Feinberg, a liberal arts major, is a member of Phi Sigma Delta.

The couple is residing in Philadelphia.

Zurier-Rosen

Janet Rosen, a June graduate of the College, and Melvin Zurier were married July 4 in Providence, R. I. The couple is residing in Cambridge, where Mr. Zurier is attending Harvard Law School.

Mrs. Zurier, a member of Sigma Delta Tau, was president of Mortar Board, feature editor of the Daily Collegian, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Lordi-Scuderi

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Diane Scuderi to Anthony Lordi Sept. 8.

Both were graduated from the College in June. Mr. Lordi majored in electrical engineering and was a member of Alpha Phi Delta.

Mrs. Lordi was an arts and letters major.

course, they may have been waitresses at Chautauqua. The palefaces can generally be typed as temporary office clerks.

Question number five, "Where are you from?" is a doozy, and should be avoided if possible. Rushees, as a rule, come from little towns that only professors of Pennsylvania geography have heard of. Sisters, however, try valiantly to place them. "Is that near Pittsburgh?" "No." "What city is it near?" Another town with population under 700 is named. This goes on and on until the general location is determined. One rushee was asked her home town three times by the same sister. First she answered Erie, second time Altoona, and finally Lancaster. Pretty smart kid, don't you think?

Engagements

Klinepeter-Lewis

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Lewis of State College, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Donald Klinepeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Klinepeter of Harrisburg.

Miss Lewis is a junior in elementary education. She is a member of Delta Zeta. Mr. Klinepeter is a senior in secondary education, and was in the armed forces for four years.

Roberts-Lawrence

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lawrence of Lester, Pa. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Bernadette, to Frederick Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Roberts of Folsom, Pa.

Miss Lawrence is a senior in education, and was sweetheart of Sigma Chi last year.

Mr. Roberts, a senior in commerce and finance, is a member of Sigma Chi, and plays varsity lacrosse.

Korber-Hammond

Mr. Earl Hammond of Warrior's Mark, Pa. has announced the engagement of his daughter, Lillian, to Edmund Korber, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Korber of Johnstown.

Mr. Korber, a junior, is majoring in mining engineering. He is a member of the Mining Society and of Sigma Chi.

Miss Hammond is employed by the Centre Daily Times.

Horty-Rosenberry

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Rosenberry of Johnstown announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice, to John Horty, son of Mr. J. Frank Horty, also of Johnstown.

Miss Rosenberry is a senior in the School of Liberal Arts, and plans to graduate in January. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta.

Mr. Horty is a graduate of Amherst College, and is in his second year at Harvard Law School. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Patterson Elected

Richard Patterson has been elected treasurer of Players, campus dramatic organization. All other officers had been elected last year.

Betty Lou Morgan, president, announced that Players would meet at 4 p.m. the first Thursday of every month in the Little Theater.

Sororities Schedule 'At Homes'

Each sorority rushee may attend four At Homes from 2 to 5 p.m. tomorrow, according to Marilyn Levitt, president of Panhellenic Council.

The council increased the number from three to four yesterday. A rushee may not attend an At Home unless she has turned in an acceptance, according to rushing rules.

Afternoon dresses and suits will be proper to wear. A rushee may stay no longer than one hour in any suite, Miss Levitt said.

Party invitations may be picked up from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday at the post office.

A revision in the rushing code provides that the party invitations will serve also as coke date invitations. A rushee who receives a party invitation from a sorority may visit the suite anytime from 11 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday.

Rushees will be informed by the post office when they are to attend the parties of their choice. Party times will be distributed at 5 p.m. Monday.

Addell Owen, Panhellenic Council rushing chairman, will explain preferential bidding to all rushees at 11 a.m. today in 121 Sparks. Questions concerning rushing also will be answered by Panhellenic Council officers.

West Dorm area is to sit on the benches in front of the dorms jutting down names of shapely frosh women as they go in and out of the dining hall.

Where oh where department:— As long as everyone was wondering what had happened to the hatmen, I'd like to know what's happened to the hatwomen. They're wearing their hats but they haven't been doing a darn thing yet.

Speculation of the week:— How'd you like to see a coed as Frothy this year? Reports smuggled in from the office around the corner indicate that a shapelier figure may represent Froth for '51-52.

Drama doings:— Players will probably announce next week that "Tartuffe" will replace "Biography" as the second show at Center Stage this year. "Tartuffe" will be the first Moliere comedy tried by Players in several years. The change was necessary to ease director Warren Smith's production schedule. By the way, the leads in the first Center Stage production for the year have plenty of experience. Ruth Devlin played Mrs. Crochet in the Westminster College version of "The Great Big Doorstep," and Joe Brown played the commodore in a summer production of the show at Penn State in 1950.

It's always interesting to find out what some of the students who figured prominently in much of last year's news are doing now that they have graduated. So here goes with several names. Bill Zakor, last year's La Vie editor, is doing public relations work with the Army Air Force. Former All-College President Bob Davis is still selling. Not the Lion Party anymore but radio station time in Norfolk, Va. The fiery Armenian, Harry Kondourajian, last year's All-College veep, entered Penn law school about a week ago. When he registered, he was given three law cases to review.

Eisenhower Host To College Heads

Meeting to discuss "all problems of mutual interest," Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania; Robert Johnson, president of Temple University; and Rufus T. Fitzgerald, chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, will be guests of President Milton S. Eisenhower over the weekend.

The four college heads, who meet every six months, held their first meeting at President Stassen's home late last year. The meetings are social in nature and are held to discuss common problems.

President Eisenhower, who returned today from a board of directors meeting of the Quaker Oats Co. in Chicago, will act as host.

Hunt to Speak To Freshmen

Dr. Lyman C. Hunt, School of Education, will speak on "Methods of Study for College Students" at 6:45 p.m. Monday in Schwab Auditorium. All first-semester freshman women are required to attend.

Monday night's program is the second in a series of three lectures planned by the office of the Dean of Women in cooperation with the School of Education.

Although the lectures are intended mainly for freshman women, they are open to all women students. Dr. Hunt will offer suggestions on such topics as study habits, outlining, and methods of study for objective and essay-type examinations.

Dr. Nell Murphy, also of the School of Education, will conclude the lecture series Oct. 1.

The BX is open for selling and purchasing books for two week periods at the beginning and end of each semester. A week is set aside sometime during the semester to pay book sellers the money due them from the sale of their books.
