

Traffic Problem
Still Unsolved—
See Page 4

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

Mil Ball Theme
In Poor Taste—
See Page 4

VOL. 52, No. 14

STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 2, 1951

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Giants Beat Brooks 3-1; Hearn Winner

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1—(AP)—Jim Hearn, big side-arming right-hander from Atlanta, pitched one of his most brilliant games today and turned back the fighting Brooklyn Dodgers, 3 to 1, in a tense mound duel that carried the enflamed New York Giants to within a single victory of their goal—the world series.

In propelling destiny's tots to their eighth straight triumph and their 13th decision in their last 14 games, Hearn yielded only five hits to the bone-tired Flock and was not in serious danger of being caught because Bobby Thompson and Monte Irvin slashed home runs.

Tonight the amazing men of Leo Durocher needed to win only one of two games scheduled on their home field starting tomorrow to climax the greatest stretch drive in all baseball. Today's playoff was witnessed by 30,707 at Ebbets Field. It was a stunned gathering of Dodger rooters that saw its heroes succumb.

Ralph Branca went eight innings for the Dodgers and turned in a creditable performance, but Thomson's 31st blast of the season in the fourth inning with Irvin on base and Irvin's 24th leading off the eighth unhorsed the righthanded fastballer. Bud Podbielan worked the ninth.

Pafko Blasts Homer
Andy Pafko gave the Flock its only score when he caught a Hearn fast-ball and shot it into the shallow left field stands with two down in the second. Hearn did not give up a hit in the last four chapters, though he issued a couple of walks and had his little manager extremely nervous.

Though the Giants' infield looked tense at times and twice got Hearn into potential trouble in the middle innings, it re-

(Continued on page seven)

AIM Observes Student Week

National Independent Students Week, sponsored by the National Independent Students Association, began yesterday and is being observed through Friday.

The week was set aside by the NISA at its national convention held last March at the University of Kansas. Penn State's Association of Independent Men is a member of the group and sent delegates to the convention.

AIM, in observance of the week, plans to hold a radio round table over WMAJ later this week, John Laubach, AIM president, said yesterday.

Laubach also said AIM plans to bring Penn State students a series of radio features this year, something the organization has never done before.

Concert Renewals Now Under Way

Renewal of memberships in the Community Concert Association began yesterday as student volunteer solicitors began contacting members from last year. The opportunity to renew memberships will continue until Friday.

The graduation of many members last year, as well as other changes, will leave a number of memberships available for other students, Dr. Frederick R. Matson, chairman, said. The drive for new members begins next Monday.

Only members of the association will be admitted to the concerts, which will be booked after the close of the membership campaign Oct. 12.

TODAY'S WEATHER

FAIR AND WARMER

Leads Giants

Leo Durocher

Kappes Funeral Held Yesterday

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. yesterday in St. Thomas Church, Oakmont, for Corinne Joyce Kappes, 19-year-old junior at the College who was killed Friday night when she fell from a hayride tractor two and one half miles west of State College.

Nearly all members of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, of which Miss Kappes was a member, attended the funeral. Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternities also sent representatives.

The accident occurred on the Pine Grove Mills road. Miss Kappes had moved up front to steer the tractor and was returning to the wagon when she lost her balance and slipped beneath the left front wheel.

She was pronounced dead at 11:15 p.m. at the Centre County Hospital.

Miss Kappes was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kappes, 315 Eighth street, Oakmont.

Big Junior Weekend Will Feature Queen

Junior prom weekend will be made into a junior class weekend, complete with a queen of the junior class, it was decided at a meeting of the class Sunday.

Michael Hanek, class president, appointed Walter Sachs chairman of the junior class weekend committee, to which most of the 50 people who attended the meeting belong.

The queen must be a member of the junior class and will be crowned at the dance Nov. 9. She will ride a float at the Syracuse game the next day. Choosing a group of the most outstanding junior class students is also a proposal of the committee.

Football Theme

The committee and all other members of the junior class interested in joining the committee, will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday in 10 Sparks.

A football theme, with College cheers and songs, silhouettes of football players, and footballs with the numerals '53, will be carried out at the dance in Rec Hall, according to a report by Jean Nisley, chairman of the decorating committee.

The prom will last from 9 p.m.

WRA, WSGA Election Blanks Available Today

Application blanks will be available today, tomorrow and Thursday in the Dean of Women's office, 105 Old Main, for women students who desire to nominate themselves for WRA and WSGA elections.

Offices open are for two WRA freshman representatives, one WRA sophomore representative, WSGA freshman senator, and WSGA treasurer. Primary elections are set for October 16, and final elections, October 18.

WSGA Treasurer

Applicants for the position of WSGA treasurer must be second or third semester students and those for WRA sophomore representative must be present sophomores. Candidates for both positions must have at least a 1.5 All-College average and no major judicial record. Applicants for WSGA freshman senator and WRA freshman representative must be first semester freshmen, and if elected must have at least a 1.5 All-College average at the end of their first semester.

Interviews for each candidate with application boards will take place Saturday. The boards will explain duties of each office and review qualifications of applicants. Each candidate must nominate herself.

Duties Explained

The duties of each office are explained in the constitutions of the organizations. WRA freshman representatives will be members of the WRA executive board, be in charge of the WRA scrapbook, aid the sophomore representative in the management of the WRA cabin and will be the official representatives of the freshman class during their terms of office.

WRA sophomore representative will be a member of the WRA executive board, be responsible for ascertaining when competitive events are scheduled in order to secure timers and scorers, be manager of the WRA cabin, and be the official representative of the sophomore class.

WSGA treasurer will have charge of the finances of the association, disbursements being subject to approval of senate. At

(Continued on page eight)

Freshman Keeps Souvenir Hunter From Taking Flag

All the tackling that took place at Beaver Field Saturday wasn't during the game. Afterward, as the Campus Patrol guarded the pennants around the stands, a Boston fan tried to make off with the Commonwealth flag.

James Lafler, a freshman, made a flying tackle and brought the culprit to the ground.

The unidentified Bostonian had run down the flag from its pole and scampered for the gate. An irate group of students followed trying to catch him. Lafler tackled him just short of his goal, and Penn State students wrestled for the flag until Captain Philip Mark and two patrolmen arrived upon the scene. The patrol saved both the flag and the Boston student.

Lafler, a physical education major, said he just didn't like the idea of the flag being taken, so he tried to save it.

Students Break Window, Fined $5

Two students were found guilty of disorderly conduct and fined $5 and costs when they were arraigned before Guy G. Mills, justice of the peace in the borough, Saturday morning.

Thomas G. Hickson and Charles Bibbick were arrested in front of the Cathaum Theater Friday night and spent the morning in the borough jail.

Police reported that the crowd smashed the glass in the theater box while waiting to enter the theater for a midnight show.

Payment of Fees Due Thursday and Friday

Payment of fees will take place from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the basement of Willard Hall.

Individual student fees will be listed according to matriculation numbers. David C. Hogan Jr., bursar, asked students to check this listing and make checks out before getting in line.

Fees will not be paid in alphabetical order. Students may pay fees any time on either day.

Payments made late are subject to a $5 late payment fee.

West Dorms Will Elect Tomorrow

Male students in the West Dorm area will vote tomorrow night for their representatives to the West Dorm Council in 12 election districts, Thomas Durek, last year's council president, said yesterday.

Thompson Hall, formerly a part of the West Dorm Council, but now under regulation by Women's Student Government Association, will not be represented on the council this year. Durek indicated, however, that joint committees between the council and Thompson Hall residents may be formed to solve problems involving both male students and coeds.

Officers on Council

Elections will be held from 7 p.m. to 12 midnight in the suite of the adviser of each district.

(Continued on page eight)

Free Tickets To Be Given For Forum

Want to win a free season ticket to the Community Forum series? All you have to do is sell 25 tickets between now and Oct. 15.

Although regular dormitory representatives were appointed last night, Marian Morgan, co-chairman of the ticket committee, said that any women who wish to sell tickets may contact her in 311 Simmons Hall. Men should speak to Clair George at Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Chimes Selling

Residents of the men's dormitories may obtain tickets from their counselors, and fraternity representatives are covering the houses. Tickets are also available at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats from Oct. 22 until Nov. 1, the date of the first lecture.

Kept in Cell

Robert Vogeler will open this year's program with his firsthand story of 17 months' imprisonment behind the iron curtain. European representative of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company, Vogeler was arrested in 1949 and charged with "espionage, sabotage and conspiracy against the Hungarian Government."

After Vogeler confessed to these charges, it is reported he was kept in a cell with two inches of water on the floor; a bright light was on continually, and when he tried to sleep someone kept banging against the wall.

Other speakers will be Eric Johnston, economic stabilizer, on Nov. 28; Arthur Schlesinger Jr., historian, Jan. 8; Dr. Bernard I. Bell, education consultant, Feb. 14; and Kurt Von Schuschnigg, former Austrian chancellor, March 25.

Belle Lettres Club

Dr. William S. Dye Jr., former head of the English Literature Department, will address the Belle Lettres Club at 7 tonight in the northeast lounge of Atherton Hall.

His subject is "Bernard Shaw." The meeting is open to the public.

Today the Nittany

Lion Roars . .

Still limp after Saturday's thriller with Boston University, the Lion fights off a hoarse throat to emit a mighty roar for Coach Rip Engle and his fighting Penn State football team.

A kingly salute to a team that came from behind three times to gain a 40-34 victory over Harry Agganis and friends. The 1951 football season should prove interesting to the Lion and Penn State rooters all over the nation.