

Textbook Plan
Could Save $—
See Page 4

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

Sunday Movies
For Borough
See Page 4

OL. 52, No. 16

STATE COLLEGE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 4, 1951

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Tense Moment in Playoff

— Photo by McNeillie

CROWD OUTSIDE GRAHAM'S listens to a radio broadcast of yesterday's final playoff game between the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers. Giants won, 5-4, in a flaming finish to cop the playoff and National League flag.

Giants Win Pennant On Thomson's Blast

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—(P)—In as heart-stabbing a finish as baseball ever saw, Bobby Thomson slammed a three-run homer into the left field stands with two mates aboard in the ninth inning to give the New York Giants a 5 to 4 victory over Brooklyn in the third and deciding game of their playoff for the National League pennant at the Polo Grounds today.

The tremendous blow, one of the most valuable ever struck, came with one down in the final chapter to electrify a crowd of 34,320 which had been resigned to a Dodger victory only minutes before.

The Flying Scot Homers
Few madder scenes ever have been seen on the diamond than that put on by Manager Leo Durocher's men, as the Flying Scot trotted around the sacks behind Clint Hartung and Whitey Lockman after he had powdered the second pitch thrown by Ralph Branca, Dodger reliever.

The great blow climaxed the most spectacular pennant dash in the game and sent a club into the world series which had been 13½ games out of first place as recently as Aug. 11. Giant supporters will concede nothing to their series rivals, the Yankees, after what happened today.

Dark Raps Out Single
Until Thomson teed off to send the crowd into hysteria, the Giants never had been ahead in the ball game. They had tied the count at 1-1 briefly toward the end, but had promptly been reduced to the depths of despair as the Dodgers rallied for three runs in the top of the eighth and apparently put the decision beyond question.

Going into the ninth, big Don Newcombe had shackled the Giants with four hits. Then Alvin Dark, shortstop and field captain of the new league champions, rapped the husky right-hander
(Continued on page seven)

Eric Walker to Speak

Eric A. Walker, dean of the School of Engineering, will speak to students enrolled in Engineering 2 on the topic "Engineers in Research," at 4:10 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

TODAY'S WEATHER

CLOUDY WITH POSSIBLE
SHOWERS

Frosh-Soph 'Tug,' Joint Hazing Today

The joint customs enforcement program and freshman-sophomore tug-of-war, both to be held today, may make this the biggest day in frosh customs since they began last month.

A switch in the customs enforcement procedure, announced yesterday by Tribunal and the Freshman Customs and Regulations Board, goes into effect this morning and will last all day.

The change will permit upperclass men to haze frosh women and upperclasswomen to haze frosh men. Regular rulings allowing upperclassmen to haze freshman men and upperclasswomen to haze frosh women will also be in effect.

To Follow Pep Rally
Hat societies have been alerted to see that there is no illegal

New A-bomb Test Held In Russia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(P)—Russia set off a second atomic bomb recently, the White House announced today.

The terse statement termed the blast "another atomic bomb." This was the first official confirmation that President Truman referred to a bomb when he announced the Soviet's initial "atomic explosion" Sept. 23, 1949. Not Hydrogen Bomb

Only minutes ahead of the official word, the Associated Press had begun transmission of information from other competent sources that the government was studying information indicating the Russians actually made two atomic explosive tests in recent days or weeks—one of them a failure.

These sources said the data already studied indicates the tests involved only standard nuclear fission—not the fusion type explosion involved in the hydrogen bomb.

Details Withheld

The White House did not go into such detail. Presidential Secretary Joseph Short concluded his brief statement:

"Further details cannot be given without adversely affecting our national security interests."

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Ia.), former chairman and member of the congressional atomic committee, said earlier in a Baltimore speech that powerful new atomic weapons were available for use in Korea. He indicated he favored their use but said this was a military decision.

But the president's announcement caused another atomic committee man, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Penn.), to conclude that the Soviet explosion had been known for several weeks. "It explains why we have not used atomic weapons in Korea."

Student Hurt in Crash

Charles H. Meyers, 22, a student at the College, was injured on Route 545 Saturday night when his car ran off the road, colliding with a car owned by Robert D. Holsinger, State College RD 1.

Religion Week Plans Begin

The executive committee for Religion-in-Life Week met Tuesday night to begin plans for this year's program, to be held Feb. 18 to 25.

Ralph Cash, co-chairman, accepted Jane Ifft's resignation as other chairman. Miss Ifft left the College for the semester because of illness.

Another chairman will be named when the general cabinet meets Wednesday night. The executive committee proposed Ann Porter, runner-up for the position last year.

The Rev. John Peabody, rector of St. Andrews Episcopal Church, reported that several speakers for the week have been contacted. The Rev. James Pike, from Columbia University, will help plan and participate in this year's program.

College Has Borrowed $4 Million—Sen. Hare

Penn State has been forced to borrow $4,000,000 from the banks to meet costs because of the tax snarl in the state legislature, according to Sen. Fred P. Hare Jr. (R-Somerset), majority whip in the state Senate.

Sen. Hare was quoted in a by-lined story in Tuesday's Philadelphia Evening Bulletin by Duke Kaminski, the paper's Harrisburg correspondent.

In addition, Sen. Hare charged, according to the story, that approximately $50,000,000 in state aid to 169 hospitals and 125 state hospitals, medical schools, and colleges was being held up by the legislature's failure to enact a tax program.

"The Justice department," Hare was quoted as saying, "through the Deputy Attorney General Harrington Adams, has advised us that these appropriations have been classified by the Supreme Court as non-preferred and cannot be paid until the biennial appropriation bills have been cleared.

"We were advised that the stop-gap funds may be used for normal governmental expenses, including public school subsidies, but not for non-preferred appropriations," Hare was reported to have said.

Some $80,000,000 has been appropriated as stop-gap funds to meet governmental operating expenses.

Penn State has been slated for $15,000,000 on Gov. Fine's budget. The House of Representatives, however, has passed a bill calling for $17,500,000 for the College. The bill must be approved by the Senate and signed by Gov. Fine before it becomes law.

Reds Send Truce Reply To Ridgway

MUNSAN, Korea, Thursday, Oct. 4—(P)—A message from the top North Korean and Chinese Red commanders in Korea to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was delivered about 10 a.m. today (8 p.m. EST Wednesday) to allied liaison officers at Panmunjom.

The message, from North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Red General Peng Teh-Huai, presumably was the answer to General Ridgway's suggestion that the suspended cease-fire talks be resumed at a new site in no-man's land.

Allied representatives flew in two helicopters to Panmunjom, five miles east of Kaesong, to get the message. They left shortly before 10 a.m. and returned to Munsan, allied Advance base camp, at 10:15 a.m.

Ridgway's Message

Today's flight was the first by the Allies to the Kaesong neutral zone since Sept. 27.

At that time Col. Andrew J. Kinney delivered Ridgway's message to the Reds. The message suggested a new meeting site in a no-man's land near the village of Songhyon.

The Reds broke off the talks at Kaesong after charging an Allied plane had tried to "murder" the Red negotiators the night before. The charge was investigated and denied. But thereafter the Reds kept the talks suspended while piling up more such charges.

There were mounting indications, however, that the thunder of war would drown out the whisper of peace in Korea as Gen. Omar Bradley cut short his visit to the Far East last night and flew back home.

The Chairman of the U.S. Joint hazing. Hazing limitations stand as always.
(Continued on page eight)

Following Penn State's second football pep rally of the year, to begin at 7:30 tonight on the steps of Old Main, the freshmen will meet the sophomores in a tug-of-war with the removal of customs as the stake.

Freshman and sophomore "tug" teams, composed of 50 men each, will battle tonight at the corner of Burrows and Pollock roads on campus. The first team to drag its opponent through a stream of water played across the corner will win the tug-of-war.

Miss Hensel Starter

If the frosh win, men's dress and dating customs will be removed immediately, according to Tribunal. If the sophomores win, customs will remain in effect.

Nancy Hensel, freshman who
(Continued on page eight)

Pep Rally To Be Held At Old Main

The second football pep rally of the year will be held at 7:30 tonight on the steps of Old Main prior to the Villanova game to be played at Allentown on Saturday.

Following the rally, the freshmen and sophomores will battle in a tug-of-war to decide the duration of the customs period.

Thomas Smith, who emceed the Campus Chest Kickoff Dance last week, will act as master of ceremonies for the rally.

The Blue Band, under the direction of James Dunlop, will be on hand at the rally. They will aid the cheerleaders in teaching students cheers to new fast tunes played by the band.

David Mutchler, Tribunal chairman, will speak at the rally and will explain the tug-of-war.

Thomas Hanna, head cheerleader, said he hopes to have Coach Rip Engle and at least part of this year's football eleven at the rally.

Scott Assigned to Unit

Harvey L. Scott Jr., a freshman in psychology at the College, has been assigned to the 335th Replacement Battalion, Army reserve unit located in State College.

Tickets for Forum Going 'Pretty Well'

With student representatives selling Community Forum tickets for the second year, sales are going "pretty well," according to Marian Morgan, co-chairman of the student ticket committee.

Season tickets may be bought for $3 from members of Chimes, junior women's honorary, as well as from dormitory and fraternity representatives.

Students may also sell tickets on their own by contacting Miss Morgan at 311 Simmons Hall or Clair George at Tau Kappa Epsilon. A free ticket will be awarded anyone who sells 25 tickets by Oct. 15.

Hat Societies to Meet

All hat society members will meet at 7:30 tonight in front of the Lion Shrine, Clair George, vice president of Hat Society Council, said yesterday.

Arthur Rosfeld, president of Blue Key, also announced that members of the junior men's honorary will meet at 8 tonight in front of Old Main to supervise the tug-of-war between the freshmen and sophomore classes.