

Coaching Staff, 40 Gridders Leave For Allentown Today

Coach Rip Engle, his assistants, and a squad of 40 Penn State gridgers will leave by bus for Allentown this morning for the game with Villanova tomorrow afternoon on the Allentown High School field.

The Lions are scheduled to go through their last workout this afternoon before meeting the Wildcats tomorrow.

"I believe that Villanova is one of the best teams in the East. They are big and rough. Although he's not a Harry Agganis, they have a good passer in Bill Branau," said Engle.

"We'll be better this week. But I believe that Villanova will too. Our defense will be better. We've been working on it all week," he continued.

Although he still is undecided on his starting lineup for tomorrow's contest, he hinted that it would be the same as the one which started against Boston University last Saturday except for one position on the defense. Don Barney will play defensive guard in place of freshman Orville Haldeman.

Against Boston U. last week, Engle started an offensive line of Co-captain Art Betts and Joe Yucica at ends, Ed Hoover and Bill Hockersmith at tackles, Len Bartek and Tom Pevarnik at guards, and Jim Dooley at center.

The offensive backfield which opened against Boston and which will probably start against Villanova has Bob Szajna at quarterback, Ted Shattuck at halfback, Bill Leonard at wingback, and Paul Anders at fullback.

The defensive line will probably have Charlie Wilson and Pat McPoland at ends, Stew Scheetz and Dick Cripps at tackles, and Don Barney at guard. Co-captain Len Shephard, Joe Gratson, and Joe Shumock will probably do the line backing with Leonard, Bob Pollard, and Chan Johnson rounding out the defensive backfield.

After taking Army, 21-7 last weekend, the Wildcats are pointing for an undefeated season. Coach Art Raimo has a rock-ribbed line and a hard charging backfield which has already proven itself on the gridiron. The Wildcats will probably be the biggest team the Lions will have to face this year. The Mainliners' line averages around the 215 mark. State's offensive line averages 208 and the defensive line, 207.

State's big job tomorrow will be to stop the Wildcats Ben Addiego and Bob Haner. Addiego, a halfback in Villanova's T-at-

Boudreau May Manage Bosox

CLEVELAND, Oct. 4—(AP)—A Cleveland News baseball writer said today he learned "from a source beyond challenge" that Steve O'Neill is through as manager of the Boston Red Sox and Lou Boudreau will succeed him.

In a story from New York where he is covering the World Series, Ed McAuley, veteran news baseball writer, said President Tom Yawkey and General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox have decided to replace O'Neill with Boudreau for the 1952 season.

Boudreau played shortstop for the Cleveland Indians from 1939, when he came up from Buffalo, until last year when the tribe gave him his unconditional release. At Buffalo he played for O'Neill who was then manager of the Bisons.

During Boudreau's managership of the Cleveland Indians, O'Neill was one of his coaches. Boudreau piloted the Tribe from 1942 until after the 1950 season, and O'Neill became a Cleveland coach in 1948 after six years as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

MSC, Ohio St. Clash in Top Football Battle

NEW YORK, Oct. 4—(AP)—The college football season barely is getting up steam and already the game that could determine the mythical national champion is on tap.

That one is, of course, Ohio State vs Michigan State in Columbus on Saturday. Michigan State was ranked No. 1 in the first nationwide Associated Press poll this week, while Ohio State was placed in the No. 7 spot.

It's too bad the Spartans do not become eligible for the Big Ten race until 1953. Then the game would have added significance and probably would decide the league winner.

Biggie Munn's Spartans have been building up slowly for the past few years, and this is supposed to be their year. Until someone beats them, they'll probably have to be favored in every game they play. Something like the pre-1950 Notre Dame teams.

Speaking of Notre Dame, the Irish are slated for a Friday night game against the University of Detroit, which should not put up too much of a fight. Before last week, when Frank Leahy's boys swamped Indiana, 48-6, you probably could have gotten even money on Detroit's chances.

No more, though. The Irish suddenly have popped back into the national spotlight, and were rated No. 5 in the first AP weekly poll of college football teams, after being virtually ignored before the campaign started.

The second most important game in the country Saturday will pit Oklahoma against Texas A and M. The Sooners, winners of the national championship last year, currently are ranked No. 4 and Texas A and M No. 10.

In the east, Princeton, which lost virtually its entire team from last year when the Tigers sported an unblemished record, gets a stiff test against Navy. Charley Caldwell's outfit was presumed to be shot for 1951. Navy tied Yale, 7-7, last week, and is said to have some good backs who can carry the mail if given the opportunity.

What with all the power in the west this year, the best the eastern seaboard has to offer so far is Maryland, which is ranked No. 9 currently. The Terrapins play host to George Washington Saturday, a team that won't give much indication of the favorite's power.

Jeffreyemen Face Bisons Tomorrow

When Bucknell's soccer team comes to State College tomorrow to open the season, it will mark the eighth consecutive time that the Bisons have come here for a match.

Not since 1941, when Penn State traveled to Lewisburg and beat Bucknell, 7-1, has a State team gone to Bucknell. In fact, the 1941 contest was the only time State has ever gone to Bucknell. No match was played in 1945.

Seek Revenge

Bucknell will be seeking revenge for the 11-2 drubbing it took last year. That score was the highest run up by Penn State in the 15 games it has played against the Bisons. To rub salt in the wound, practically all of State's scoring was done by center forward Joe Lane, who tallied seven goals, a Penn State record. Lane has since graduated.

Lane's place in the lineup this season will be taken by sophomore Don Shirk, whose spirit and ability to take advantage of every opportunity might make him better than Lane.

Running along side Shirk will be Ron Coleman and Jack Pinezich at inside left and inside right respectively. Pinezich is a big, strong boy and will make his presence felt with some timely shots. Coleman will give State plenty of good ball handling and passing, something any club needs.

Wing Posts

Lone Freshman

All except Dierks played varsity last year. And all except Dierks and Charlton were regulars. Charlton did, however, see a lot of action in addition to making the Iran trip. Dierks is only a freshman.

The lone uncertainty in the Penn State opening lineup is the goalie spot. Coach Bill Jeffrey will start either Jack Krumrine or freshman Dick Cheskis.

Ford Hanover Takes Futurity

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 4—(AP)—Undeclared Ford Hanover captured the rich Kentucky Futurity in straight heats and set a new season's record today to put his claim on the three year old trotting title.

The classy bay son of his excellency—Freda Hanover got his record of 2:01 2/5 in the last dash. It was one-fifth of a second faster than his first trip which equaled the 2:01 3/5 established by Yankee Hanover in a 20 class trot earlier today.

Ford Hanover went out and took the first heat like it was just so much exercise but he had to hustle all the way to grab the second from Scotch Rhythm, Leo C. McNamara's determined filly who dueled with him most of the route.

Candy Man, an outsider, finished second and third to take second in the summary, and Scotch Rhythm was third with finishes of fourth and second.

Ford Hanover, now unbeaten in 11 starts, picked up $36,662.79 for his owner, Bill Strang of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Pitt Harriers Prep For Lions

Pitt's fired-up cross-country runners will arrive here this afternoon to work out over the golf course in preparation for their dual meet with the Lions at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Victorious in its season opener last week, Pitt, with an all-veteran team, can make things miserable for the national champions in tomorrow's opener.

Last week on the Slippery Rock hill-course the Panthers swept the first five places to shut out both Slippery Rock and Geneva.

Men To Beat

Leading the Panthers to the finish was Ken Mahanna with a 22:53.4 four mile time. Ken who has two years of varsity experience, and veteran Bernie Luterancik a junior, will be the two men for the Nittany harriers to beat.

Luterancik last week took second 20 yards behind Mahanna along with Frank Kuzma and Don Deligatti. Kuzma is a fine miler, who is almost as much a five-mile threat as Luterancik and Mahanna.

Soph Stars

Deligatti, along with fifth-place man, Dan Somers, are excellent sophomore prospects. Last year in Penn State's freshman rout of the Panthers, Deligatti finished fourth behind Carl Godshall, Red Hollen and Don Bagby. Bagby's in the service, but both Hollen and Godshall will make further acquaintance in tomorrow's race.

Another soph running for Pitt is Jim Betts, who tied State's Pete Judd for fifth a year ago in the frosh race. Pete is also starting for Chick Werner's squad tomorrow.

Other Panther runners who will probably see action tomorrow are seniors Jack McMahan and Ed Bermen. Four newcomers to the Smoky City lineup will be Don Sallade, Chuck Fritz, Dick Weber and Charlie Winel.

One year ago at Pittsburgh, the team which was to win the IC-4A and NCAA titles later, trounced the Panthers, 17-38.

Ash Starving

Bill Ashenfelter, who is starting tomorrow for the Lions, tied for first in 27:20.5 with teammate Al Porto. State's Bob Freebairn uncorked a terrific last quarter sprint to edge Pitt's Luterancik for third. After that Blue and Gold runner in fourth place, a host of Lions followed. Don Ashenfelter took fifth, Bill Gordon sixth, Pitt's Mahanna slipped into seventh, followed by Statesmen Bob Parsons, Dud Foster, and Jack St. Clair.

The race will start on the cinder track in Beaver Field. From there the harriers will run past Rec Hall then cross the road to the golf course. After one short loop (half-mile) followed by two long loops (about 1 1/2 each) around the course the runners will wind back to the stadium and finish on the track.

Cincinnati, Chicago Pull Two-for-Two Player Deal

CINCINNATI, Oct. 4—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, who have announced a "ready to trade anyone" policy, tonight completed a two-for-two swap with the Chicago Cubs.

They swapped catcher John Pramesa and outfielder Bob Usher to the Cubs for catcher Forrest Burgess and outfielder Bob Borowski.

Lions' Iran Trip Noted In Geographic Magazine

The Nittany Lion soccer team's goodwill trip to Iran last March has been mentioned in the October issue of the National Geographic Magazine.

The article, "Journey into Troubled Iran," was written by George W. Long and J. Baylor Roberts. A full page color picture, taken by Roberts, illustrates the story.

Grads to Hold Dance

The Graduate Student Association will hold a get-together and record dance at 8 p.m. tomorrow in 304 Old Main.

The dance, which is for graduate students only, is the first of the Association's attempts to bring graduate students to closer social harmony.

Giants --

finer game in his life than he did today.

Much of the game's drama was wrapped up in the first inning. Reynolds got the first two hitters, but then wavered and issued a pass to Hank Thompson. Irvin followed with a clean shot into left field on which Thompson easily reached third.

First Steal Since '21

For a moment it looked like a bad break for the Giants—Lockman's hit having bounced in—for otherwise Irvin would have scored easily on the wallop. But then, with hero Bob Thomson at the plate, Irvin broke for home and slid in cleanly under Yogi Berra for the score as Reynolds' pitch went high.

It was the first steal of home in a World Series game since 1921, and the crowd rewarded the Orange, N.J., athlete with a deafening roar of approval.

Louis Not Disappointed Over Rescheduled Bout

NEW YORK, Oct. 4—(AP)—Joe Louis wasn't too disappointed when his bout with Rocky Marciano was moved from Oct. 11 to Oct. 26.

"Now I can concentrate on the world series," said the old Brown Bomber, a redhot baseball fan. The bout was moved back because the keen pennant races and the world series completely blanked out the fight on the sports pages.

Local Church Groups Plan Student Fun Night

Wesley Foundation will hold a "Wesley Woundup" at 7:30 tonight in the Wesley gymnasium. Westminster Foundation will have a roller-skating party at the Coliseum tonight. Students will meet at 7:15 at the foundation and go to the rink as a group. Cost per student will be about 30 cents.

After preparatory services at 7:30 tonight in Grace Lutheran Church, students will gather around the fireside in the Lutheran Student Association fellowship hall for games and singing.
