

The Daily Collegian

Successor to THE FREE LANCE, est. 1887

Published Tuesday through Saturday mornings inclusive during the College year by the staff of The Daily Collegian of The Pennsylvania State College.

Entered as second-class matter July 5, 1934, at the State College, Pa., Post Office under the act of March 3, 1879.

Collegian editorials represent the viewpoints of the writers, not necessarily the policy of the newspaper. Unsigned editorials are by the editor.

Marv Krasnansky Editor Edward Shanken Business Mgr.

STAFF THIS ISSUE

Night editor, Shirley Vandever; Copy editors, Ted Soens, Arnie Bloom, Joan Kuntz; Assistants, Laura Badwey, Tom Saylor, and Sheldon Smoyer.

Ad Manager, Alison Morley; Assistants, Doris Grooms, Shirley Smulyan, and Pat Pritchard.

Junior Class Needs More Enthusiasm

Last Sunday the junior class held its first meeting. The attendance, which is never good for such meetings, numbered around 50.

This seems to support the statements of many campus leaders that the junior class is, to say the least, lethargic as far as extra-curricular activities are concerned.

Juniors interested in campus politics have been few and far between. Both political parties on campus had to scout around to find candidates for class officers. Publication staffs found that the same problem held true for them. Candidates for all publications were much more scarce than usual.

It seems to us that the junior class—as well as the senior class—should have attained that feeling of responsibility that is necessary to face and overcome life's problems. Campus affairs, though smaller in scope than the major affairs of life, require active students as well as energetic members of the administration.

An example of campus activities would be the Junior Prom. As an All-College dance put on by the junior class, it should be an affair that each class member could remember as "one of the best." This cannot be done without committees—hard working committees—from the junior class.

We do not mean to cast aspersions on the present Junior Prom committee. In fact, the committee to date has done a terrific job, but the fact remains, one good committee does not make a class a good class.

La Vie, senior class yearbook, requires that all candidates be from the junior class. Those who are selected from the candidates to be senior board members for the following year—their senior year—are responsible for their own yearbook. What they do to it and put into it will, or should, be cherished by each graduate of that particular year.

All this cannot be done by a few workers while the majority sit back and criticize. The right to criticize should be supported by the willingness and ability to do better!

How many of you juniors know your own class officers? If you don't know, you are one of the large number of "loafers" in the class. Your class officers are among the hardest workers on campus. We think they deserve more support than they are getting!

—Bob Fraser

Lion Rallies

Penn State followers have a right to be proud of their football team, despite Saturday's 20-14 loss to Villanova.

Most football observers rated the Wildcats a six or 13 point favorite. Villanova has a big, rough line, and a good backfield. They whipped Army in their opener, and the Cadets almost upset Northwestern, a Big Ten power, Saturday.

Army's narrow loss adds lustre to Villanova's win, and the Wildcats are now ranked as one of the best independents in the East. But the Lion's gridders refused to read the Main Liners' press clippings, and except for some bad breaks would have won.

Rip Engle's team also showed the courage to come back when the going was roughest. Twice, they rallied to get back in the contest. A team with that kind of "guts" is a team that will always be dangerous.

—Dave Colton

Froth Makes But One Mistake

Froth makes its first appearance of the current school year with its "Good News Issue." Aside from the fact that we will not have to pay for Froth this year (the editor of the Daily Collegian receives a complimentary copy) and that Froth contains some excellent pictures of Nancy Hensel, a rather attractive freshman, the appearance of Penn State's self-named "humor" magazine doesn't strike us as being particularly good news.

We are informed that the average issue of Froth circulates some 5000 copies on campus. We have never been quite convinced that there were that many people at Penn State willing to put out a 25 cent piece for the publication. Froth's circulation director has provided us with the answer: copies of the magazine are sold to pig raisers for fodder.

Among the best-read features of Froth are the short squibs poking fun at the Daily Collegian for typographical and other mistakes. Not being perfect, we do make some mistakes. In fact, we make quite a few mistakes.

But we can confidently say that Froth makes but one mistake—publishing.

Gazette . . .

Tuesday, October 9

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF METALS, Acacia, 8 p.m.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY, Armory, 7:30 p.m.

BIOFORUM, 214 Frear Laboratory, 4:15 p.m.

CAMPUS CHEST COMMITTEE, 108 Willard Hall, 7 p.m.

CHESS CLUB, 3 Sparks, 7 p.m.

COLLEGIAN business staffs, freshman, sophomore, and junior boards, important meeting, 9 Carnegie Hall, 7 p.m.

COLLEGIAN business candidates, 1 Carnegie Hall, 7 p.m.

COLLEGIAN editorial sophomore board, 2 Carnegie Hall, 7 p.m.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE CLUB, TUB, 6:45 p.m.

DELTA SIGMA PI, Theta Kappa Phi, 8 p.m.

EDUCATION STUDENT COUNCIL, 215 Willard Hall, 8:30 p.m.

FROTH art, editorial, and photography staffs and candidates, 2 Carnegie Hall, 8 p.m.

HOME ECONOMICS STUDENT COUNCIL, 109 Home Economics, 7:30 p.m.

LA VIE, activities candidates, 412 Old Main, 7:30 p.m.

NEWMAN CLUB lecture, Dr. Moraunt, 215 Willard Hall, 7 p.m.

PENN STATE CLUB, 405 Old Main, 7 p.m.

RADIO GUILD, 304 Sparks, 7 p.m.

SKI CLUB, 110 Electrical Engineering, 7:30 p.m.

AT THE MOVIES

CATHAUM: The Day The Earth Stood Still.

STATE: Kon-Tiki

NIITTANY: Monelle

COLLEGE PLACEMENT

Beacock and Wilcox will interview January graduates in M.E., Metal, and Phys., Thursday, October 18.

Belbing Heminway Corticelli will visit the campus to interview January graduates in M.E., E.E., and Ch. E., if enough students are interested. If interested, leave your name at 112 Old Main by Friday, October 12.

Bendix Radio will interview January graduates in E.E. and Phys. on Thursday, October 18.

Carter Research laboratory, Tulsa, Oklahoma, will interview M.S. and Ph. D. candidates in E.E., Pet. Eng., Mech. Eng., and Ph. D. candidates only in Phy., Chem. Eng., Phy., Chem., Chem., and Geo., who will receive their degrees no later than June, 1952.

Chance Vaught Aircraft will interview January graduates, at all levels, in M.E., C.E., E.E., Aero.E., Math., and Phys., Monday, October 15.

Lockheed Aircraft corporation will interview January graduates in C.E., Aero.E., M.E., L.E., and Arch.E., Friday, October 12.

West Penn Power company will interview January graduates in M.E. and E.E., Tuesday, October 16.

Wright Aeronautical corporation will interview January graduates in Aero. E., M.E., E.E., Eng. Mech. and Metal Tuesday, October 23.

National Biscuit company will interview January graduates in M.E., Chem. E., and E.E., if enough students are interested. Those interested should apply at 112 Old Main before Saturday, October 20.

U. S. Naval Ordnance Laboratory will interview January graduates in M.E., E.E., L.E., and Physics, Friday, October 19.

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company will interview January graduates in C&F., L.A., M.E., E.E., Ch.E., Friday, October 19.

Air Engineers will interview January graduates in M.E. Friday, October 19.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Chauffeur wanted five days a week: 11:30-1:30. Men for free hand lettering.

Man to set pins for bowling league. Woman to do full time housework.

Men playing following instruments: drums, tenor sax, and clarinet. Orchestra for Saturday nights.

Little Man On Campus By Bibler

"Now, now, Worthal—just lie back and relax—anyone could fumble a ball on the goal line."

A Column, by George!

Laundry Case Does Lots of Dirty Work

By GEORGE GLAZER

By far the greatest boon to the college student is the laundry case. Of course, conversely, it is also probably the greatest woe to Mom.

Naturally, there are old-fashioned people who either take their laundry to various places in the metropolis, or use the washers in the dormitories. But a far greater number of students rely on the rectangular boxes to do their dirty work.

In the interest of public service, and Mom, we have painstakingly gathered a wealth of material on the care and packing of dirty laundry. It has been collected over a period of three years which have been gorged to the gills with filling and mailing laundry cases.

Think Ahead

First off, pack the things right. This is a necessity. If you do it wrong, your laundry case will be the victim of unsightly bulges. It isn't considered correct to leave your own shirttail hanging out, and it is ever less in vogue so far as a laundry case goes. Besides, it is no help to mark it "handle with care," so nine chances out of ten, if you leave something sticking out, it will arrive home without whatever was sticking out.

In packing, always think ahead to the return trip. Throw all you can into one end. This leaves little support for the other end. To this madness, there is a method. When starched shirts come back, Mom can put all the collars at one end. It must be noted here, that after two or three trips, your case will be battered beyond recognition. If you always pack in the same way, the top will gradually assume a sort of slant, thus eventually providing a margin of safety for the shirt collars.

Another important factor in Laundry Case Mailing 437, which shall be the name of this course, is a regular schedule for mailing.

No Socks

It's bad enough to be caught with your pants down, but worse still to be caught without any. This unhappy situation can be avoided by always making sure that you have enough of everything to last until the stuff comes back, beaming and snowy white.

If not, you can be forced into the plight of having to take care of the laundry yourself. This is a most unfortunate happening. The first shortage usually occurs with socks. It wouldn't be so bad if the socks were white, or of colors that do not run. Normally, this is not the case.

Then you are faced with the prospect of rinsing your socks, slamming them against the sink to get the water out, and dropping them over the radiator to get them dry. It's an unpleasant experience that can be avoided by some careful planning and forethought.

No One but Mom

Next to socks, shirts are the most annoying. You always run out of white shirts when you have to go someplace special. Then you have no alternative but to dash madly to a laundry and have them

(Continued on page eight)

Graduating Seniors!!

... and then for a Really Fine PORTRAIT to send home

Visit Bill Coleman's Lion Studio

STARLITE DRIVE-IN

on BELLEFONTE ROAD

Show Time—7:30

TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY

"I Can Get It For You Wholesale"

SUSAN HAYWARD DAN DAILEY

also Selected Short Subjects

ATTENTION! WEST DORMS

The Student Dry Cleaning Agency for the West Dorm Area is located in Storage Room 1A in Hamilton Hall. This room is in the front hallway directly to your left as you approach the Post Office from the Thompson Hall side.

The Hours Your Student Dry Cleaning Agency Is Open Are:

Monday thru Friday 7:30 a.m.— 8:50 a.m.
Monday thru Friday 12:15 p.m.—12:45 p.m.
Monday thru Friday 5:30 p.m.— 8:30 p.m.
Saturday 8:00 a.m.—12:00 p.m.
Sunday 5:30 p.m.— 8:30 p.m.

There's A Special Every Thursday At:

The Student Dry Cleaning Agency