

The Nittany Realm

Pete Shopa, the Lions' rugged little second-string fullback, who has already scored three touchdowns in his first two games as a varsity performer, has found himself replacing last year's grid captain, Owen Dougherty, as the newest hero of the folks in the anthracite region around Scranton.

As a schoolboy star at Blakely High School, Pete led the "Bruising Bears", as they are perennially known in the coal region, to two consecutive Eastern Conference championships.

Though he weighed only somewhere in the 150's in high school, Pete grabbed plenty of glory for himself, when he was chosen for two years straight on the Lackawanna County All-Scholastic teams and the All-State elevens.

It's no easy job becoming the favorite boy in an area where football talent is in abundance. Pete gets plenty of competition from such worthies as Ray Arcangeletti, Miami's defensive captain and linebacker; Nick Chickillo, Miami's big, rough sophomore guard; Bob "Choo Choo" Shemon-ski, Maryland's hard-charging halfback; Tony Trunzo, a sophomore lineman at Villanova; Pete Bonani, a high school teammate of Pete's, and a first string end at Detroit U.; and many others.

Pete joins quite an impressive list of coal region boys who have made names for themselves while at State.

Chuck Cherundolo, Old Forge, captured the 1936 Nittany eleven from his center position, and later went on to play pro ball for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Sam Donato, who hailed from Dunmore, Dougherty's home town, captured the Lion team after Cherundolo in 1937. Donato was a blocking back from Bob Higgins' single-wing. Sam was also boxing captain the same year, and is now head football coach at West Scranton High School.

Lou Palawski, another Dunmorean, was the center and captain of the 1942 Lion squad which finished with a 6-1 record. Lou went on to play with the New York football Giants, and served as line coach under Donato at West Scranton until this season.

What makes Pete Shopa's chances of becoming one of the best to come out of a region of greats is the fact that he is only a sophomore, and is already looking good.

Midland Quarterback Clinches Detroit Berth

DETROIT, Oct. 9 — (AP) — Ed Gornak, pint-sized sophomore from Midland, Pa., apparently has clinched the wide-open quarterback berth on University of Detroit's football team.

Government Brings Suit Against NFL

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9 — (AP) — Demanding the end of all restrictions on television and radio broadcasts of sports events, the federal government today brought suit against the National Football League, accusing it of violating federal anti-trust laws.

The Justice Department said it picked the NFL for this test case because it is "the worst in respect to having the greatest restrictions" on radio and TV of any major sports activity.

The suit asked the U.S. district court to issue an injunction prohibiting the NFL from restricting television and radio broadcasts of its football games.

Only Beginning
H. Graham Morison, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust activity, hinted that if the government is successful in its move against the NFL, it will take similar action to set free professional baseball, college football, boxing, and other sports.

"If the shoe fits," Morison told a hastily-gathered news conference, "then we'll see what happens."

IM Gridders-- liams was good for a touchdown. The first fraternity game of the evening resulted in an overtime battle with Acacia finally edging Theta Kappa Phi, 1-0, when the ball was resting on the Theta Kappa Phi 47-yard line after the six overtime plays were completed.

Acacia Threat
Acacia made the only serious threat to score in the regulation game. In the first half, Wayne Williams pitched a lateral out to George Ripple who threw a long pass to David Evans on the Theta Kappa Phi 2 yard line. The play covered 54 yards, but a 15 yard penalty helped prevent Acacia from scoring.

Kappa Delta Rho scored on an interception to defeat Alpha Gamma Rho 6-0 in the fourth game of the evening. Earl Grissinger intercepted a pass on the Alpha Gamma Rho 35, lateraled it to John Haines, and Haines returned it to Grissinger who scored the touchdown.

Dorm 8 and Atherton Hall played in the fifth game, but the results were not available.

doubtful that McDougald's high fly would have reached the seats at the stadium. Rizzuto's lucky push shot only a few feet from the foul line would have been only a 257-foot out in the Yank park.

The Giants contrived two of their five hits and their only run off Lopat in the first when Alvin Dark lined a single to left and came all the way home on Monte Irvin's single which leftfielder Gene Woodling bobbed.

After that Easy Ed had them hogtied and ready for market. The chunky portside permitted only one Giant to reach second in the last eight innings. That was on catcher Wes Westrum's double in the fourth, and Wes never saw third. Lopat issued only one walk, to Willie Mays to open the second inning. He struck out three.

Only Dark and Irvin continued to thrive on Yankee hurling. Each whacked a pair of singles in a hopeless cause. Irvin's brace ran his total for the five games played to 11, tying the record for safeties in a six-game series. The most ever hit in any series was 12, by four different players. A tremendous one-handed catch by Gene Woodling in deep left-center robbed Irvin of what looked like a certain triple in the ninth.
