political privileges or economic or social opportunities.

To Set Example
He defended discrimination based on the requirements of achievable standards, pointing out that a literacy test which prevents illiterate Negroes from voting is not objectionable if Negroes who learn to read and write are admitted to the franchise.

Dr. Charles S. Johnson, president of Fisk University, called for this country to set an example for the rest of the world on human rights and freedom of the individual.

"We in America have been, in moments of consciousness about human rights, only remotely tolerant of the urgent struggle of the peoples of the world to achieve a universal and active and enforceable covenant on human rights," Dr. Johnson said. He urged this country to wipe out discriminatory practices to strengthen its moral leadership.

Staff Members Write Papers

Four papers written by staff members of the College's Ionosphere Research Laboratory have been published recently. All four involve discussion of the physics of the upper atmosphere.

"The Ionospheric Polarization of Low Frequency Radio Waves" is the title of a paper by Dr. J. M. Kelso in the Journal of Scientific and Industrial Research in India. Dr. Kelso is at present on leave at Chalmers University in Sweden.

Dr. J. J. Gibbons, associate professor of physics, and Dr. R. J. Nertney, assistant professor of engineering research, have published a paper in the Journal of Geophysical Research.

In the same publication were articles on "Fine Structure of the Lower Ionosphere" by Dr. R. J. Nertney and "A Note on Certain Characteristics of the Normal E Layer" by C. H. Grace.
